Wedding Ceremony Not Before the High Altar

Montreal, Jan. 20.—The actual ceremony yesterday at the Minto-Cook wedding was a short one. Owing to the difference of religion of the Earl and his prospective bride, the ceremony was not performed before the high altar of the St. Patrick's church, but in a large room in Congress Hall, the centre of all the social activities of the parish.

Senator Robertson, minister of labor, says the city of Montreal is trying to shelve its responsibilities in the matter of giving aid to its unemployed. The federal government will do its share.

SPORTING NEWS

Frontenacs Defeat Belleville. After one of the hardest-fought battles seen on the covered rink in some time, Kingston Frontenacs' intermediate team gained the winning goal from Belleville in the third period, Wednesday night, and managed to hold their speedy opponents until the end of the game.

Toban was undoubtedly the hero of the occasion for Kingston. Without his work in goal, Belleville would have carried home an easy victory. Time and again he swatted off the air-burners, and coolly outwitted the Belleville forwards.

The first period looked like a no-score stretch for some time but as the time for the bell drew near, Brouse, Smith and Browne, Jr., made a pretty combined rush with the result that Brouse tallied. A few minutes later, Green, the long defenceman for Belleville, made a good rush and beat Toban for a count. The period ended 1-1.

Kingston opened the scoring in the second with Brouse again doing the trick unassisted. A few minutes later, Arnott poked one in a scrimmage in front of Frontenacs' goal, and tied up the score again. End of second period, 2-2.

In the third period, "Rusty" Brown decided that Frontenacs should open up fire again, and notched his little contribution. Green repeated his single-handed performance of the first period and beat Toban with a pretty shot. Just about this time, Lloyd Brown found his legs, and made one of his old-time rushes, popping the winning goal past Boland at the end of it.

Curling Matches.

Six exciting matches were played off at the curling rink on Wednesday evening. Great interest was centred on the outcome and as usual some astonishing good play was put on by new players, who will be worth watching as the season advances.

LOOKED IN VAULT, TAPS IN MORSE CODE

A City Official in Philadelphia Was Imprisoned - Six Hours.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20.—Locked for nearly six hours in a hermetically sealed concrete and steel vault in the city treasurer's office at night, a knowledge of the Morse telegraph code probably saved the life of Arthur Brenner, assistant city treasurer, it became known to-day.

Brenner entered the vault, a room 15 feet square and 20 feet high, five minutes before closing time, yesterday hunting for a warrant. While he was there the big steel door swung shut. He shouted for help without attracting notice.

The lights went out automatically as the doors shut. Brenner was on a balcony in the rear. He felt his way downstairs, pulled open every drawer, and pried the books on the floor to get the maximum amount of air possible and then slept for a while, with his face as near the bottom of the door as possible, on the assumption that a slight amount of air might come through at that point.

"Will get help," came the answer from Hockwald, who immediately telephoned for a man who knew the combination of the vault.
