A eye-headache sometimes accompanied by an ache and burning sensations of the eyes is caused by an over effort of the brain to understand a blurred image that has been thrown on the retina of the eye. In the eye-camera the foot are changed by the eye muscles that swell and reduce the shape of the crystalline lens. When these muscles become weakened an optometrist must prescribe the outer-man-made lenses to bring about this focus accommodation.

KOREA OVERRUN WITH SPIES

Dr. F. W. Schofield Tells of Conditions in That Country.

Dr. F. W. Schofield of Korea, who has been addressing several societies at Queen's, spoke to the students at the meeting of the Alma Mater society Saturday evening. The speaker is one who has seen much of the inner life of the people of Korea, and his humorous vein makes the presentation of facts of the Japanese rule in Korea very striking. Since 1916, when he was sent to Korea by the Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian church in Canada, Dr. Schofield has made an investigation of the affairs of the country and obtained permission to visit jails and obtain proofs of charges of indecent treatment of the prisoners, and in this way knows a great deal of the conditions in that country. He holds the chair of Bacteriology in the Severance Union medical college in the capital.

Speaking Saturday evening, Dr. Schofield traced the history of the country from the first invasion of the Japanese years ago, through the times when they fought the Chinese and the Russians, and finally gained control of the country first as a protectorate and finally, at the point of the sword, annexing it, while the rest of the world left Korea to her fate. Now with an imbecile on the throne, as they deposed the rightful ruler, the Japs are able to carry out practically any policy they choose. As a result of this, the aim of the invaders, but this, says Dr. Schofield, will never be possible, as the Japs look upon the natives as an inferior people and hence worthy of no consideration. The country is overrun with spies, who report anything and everything to the police. Dr. Schofield said that in a meeting of about four hundred people that he was addressing one day, he was told that there were twenty Japanese spies present. This shows the magnitude of the spy system. The police, possessing as they do the power of arresting, judging, and even sentencing whom ever they see fit to arrest, terrorize the people. These officials are usually an ignorant lot, and their interpretation of the letter of the law is terribly hard for the people to bear. The Japanese are constantly denying charges of torture being used in Korean prisons, but Dr. Schofield told of many authentic cases where torture was used on prisoners to obtain confessions. But in most of these cases it was difficult to persuade the victims to go to the authorities and make a complaint as they were frightened of further ill-treatment. To obtain their ends, the Japanese are using the means of discrimination against the Koreans in their education and agriculture. Farmers have been turned out of their farms after their seed had been sown, to give the land over to wealthy Japanese companies. The students are not given the same opportunities of study as the Japanese, with the result that they find themselves handicapped when they wish to get a higher education.

When the Koreans heard of the great war, and the peace conference, they thought they would be helped, but their movement for independence was brutally crushed, though the Japanese have denied all charges of such proceedings. All visitors to the country are taken around by the Japs, and the doctor remarked that no doubt the delegates to the Sunday School convention at Tokio were given a wonderfully camouflaged reception.

Dr. Schofield said that conversion made a great difference in the lives of the Koreans and helped them bear their troubles. But the need was for workers, for several hospitals had to close their doors for the lack of doctors and nurses. In closing the speaker remarked that "whereas during the war an army corps had volunteered to fight for the King, now they can't get a corporal's guard to scrap for the Lord."

Spoke at Zion Church.

Dr. Schofield spoke in Zion church on Sunday evening, and delivered a brilliant address, which was listened to with much interest. He dealt with some very interesting incidents which had come under his observation in his missionary work in Korea.

A COMMITTEE APPOINTED

By Milk Producers to Meet the Civic Finance Committee.

The Kingston and District Milk Producers' Association met on Saturday afternoon to hear the report of the committee that attended the last meeting of the city council to discuss the milk by-laws. E. Braden occupied the chair, and reported the result of the meeting. He produced a copy of the city by-laws, which were read clause by clause. No member objected to the provisions designed to insure clean, pure milk, but it was felt that to the farmer, who only occasionally had a supply for the city in winter for instance, when there is always some shortage, it would be a hardship to install all of the equipment required by the city. Many felt that the license fee was really unnecessary, but on the other hand it was recognized that the regular dairyman, who depended on the city market the year round was protected by the enforcement of the by-laws, and it was, therefore, in his interest to abide by them. After general discussion the following committee was appointed to meet the city finance committee on Thursday evening: J. L. F. Sproule, D. Rogers, E. Braden, G. F. Murton, James Henderson.

SATISFIED CHARGES LACK FOUNDATION

Brockville Investigation Results in Favor of Inspectors.

At Brockville, at the close of the investigation of the Young charges against License Inspector Taber and License Prosecutor Deacon, Judge Dowseley expressed his intention of reporting to the attorney general's department, his conviction that nothing in the evidence corroborated the chief charges, that Young had enjoyed the protection of the officials and that he had bribed Mr. Deacon to secure immunity. If, said the judge, Mr. Taber's jurisdiction had been confined to Brockville last summer, Young would not have been able to carry on the business he says he did, and fortunately a great deal of the trouble which was created, was due to the license department sending Officer Warren here. Warren, declared the judge, evidently became compromised by his associations with Young and by his drinking practices, and he had come to the conclusion that Warren was largely to blame for such irregularities as may have existed.

The commissioner was fully convinced that the bribery charges were not substantiated and regretted that Young had brought his wife into the investigation. He was satisfied that Inspector Taber had never allowed Young to receive liquor from his house. The giving of the bogus bank book to Young and the use of him in the capture of American bootleggers, the commissioner thought were unfortunate occurrences which should never have taken place, but which were in some respect permitted by the department. There was not evidence that Young was in any way protected by either Mr. Taber or Mr. Deacon. They simply accepted this offer to turn the Americans over to the officials.

ICE IN THE HARBOR IS GETTING THICKER

Wolfe Islander Will Not Likely Get Through it on Tuesday.

Although the steamer Wolfe Islander was able to make a trip across the harbor on Monday morning, marine men state that they doubted very much if the steamer would be able to return as far as Garden Island on Tuesday. Monday morning the thermometer showed seventeen degrees of frost, and it was thought that the passage way which the steamer broke on Friday would freeze solid. On Sunday the steamer made a trip across and return. Marine men stated that they thought there was about three inches of ice in the harbor.

On Monday morning the tug Thomson, owned by the Canada Steamship Lines, towed a steamer from the M.T. Co's wharf to the dock of the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company.

Eachro Drive for Tablet. A very successful euchre drive was held on Friday evening in the Sons of England hall under the auspices of the Daughters and Maids and Sons of England Benefit Society. The first prizes were won by Mrs. E. Ormiston and H. Scott; second prizes by Miss M. Wright and Mr. Anderson; booby prizes by Mrs. E. Dumphy and Mr. Thome. While refreshments were being partaken of, Frank Basha gave an exhibition of step dancing. Dancing was then enjoyed by those present until midnight. Music was supplied by the following: Miss Hughes, pianist; Mr. Salisbury, violin; Mr. Weaver, mandolin; R. Gray, drums. The proceeds are to be used towards procuring a memorial tablet for the members of the above societies, who were killed overseas.

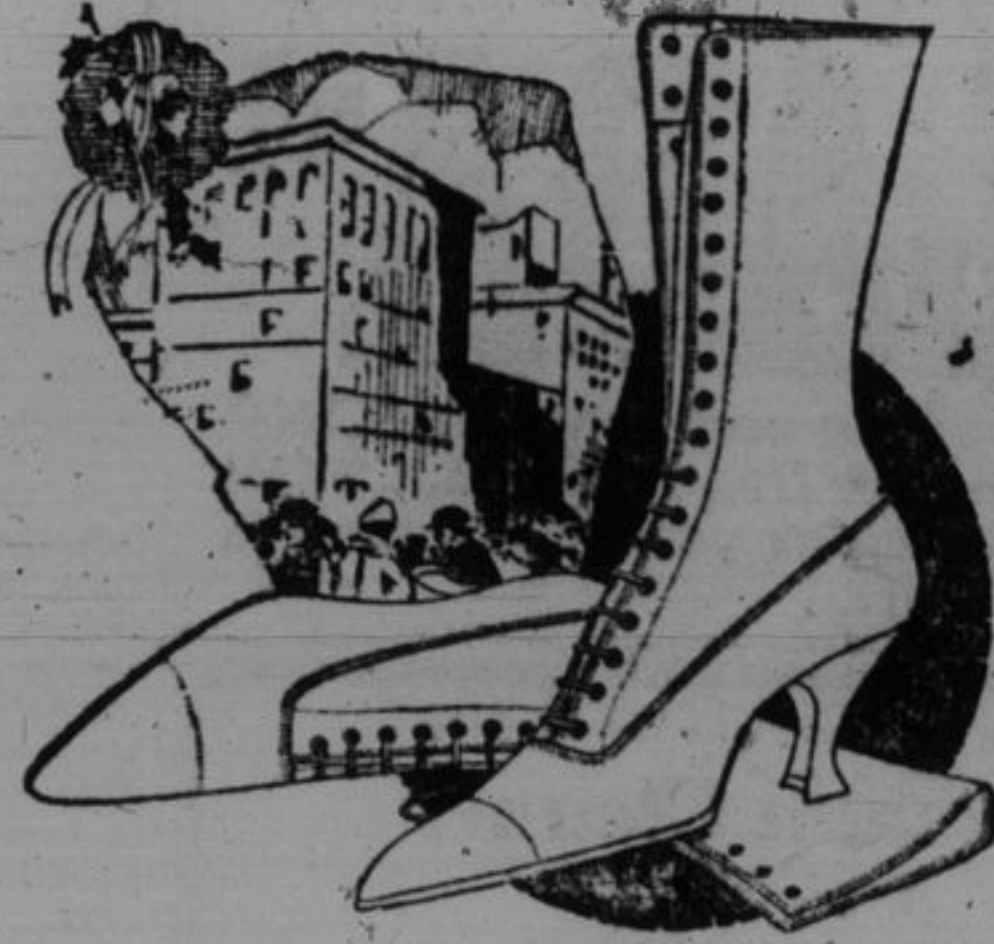

Some people must get awfully tired of listening to their own talk.
