First discovery of the skeletons,

200 years old, was in the path of the workmen, who proceeded to dig up and remove the massive roots. As soon as they began digging, however, layers of sand were removed, eight human skeletons, so placed around the tree trunk that their feet converged to the centre. Popular opinion was that this was after some ancient custom of the tribes. The skeletons are of different sizes, one so small that it appears to be that of a child. The skulls are in good condition and one even shows a perfect row of teeth, three being missing with fine sand, of a color described s "vivid Indian red.' A peculiarity noticed was that the presence of a skeleton was easily told by the reddish color of the sand about it. The roots, which, are being discovered from time to time is also of this color.

The skulls themselves are filled where the spale struck the skull.

The sum that would have appeared adequate to protect the home ten years ago is wholly inadequate to-day. If, in those days, $1,000 was carried, to-day it should be made $2,000, while Five should be increased to Ten and, and Ten to Twenty thousand to maintain the protection at the same point that it reached 10 years ago.

Let me suggest a plan for an additional amount.
