Major General Sir Archibald Macdonell, commandant of the Royal Military College, absent over the week-end, returned Tuesday. Gen. Macdonell took part in the ceremony of placing the colors of the old Second Battalion in the Presbyterian church, at Bowmanville.

When the electric lights went out in one portion of the city on Monday night, a number of citizens had quite a time looking for candles. One citizen stated that he made a trip down town to buy candles but that he was unable to secure any. People using gas had it over the electric light users.

Col. George Ham, of the C.P.R., was in the city on Tuesday to attend the Arts dinner at Queen's. The genial colonel spent the early part of the day in calling on friends and looking over the scenes of his early activities. He found few familiar spots. Col. Ham has recently written a series of reminiscences which are highly entertaining.

HOME AND SCHOOL CLUB.

Of Frontenac School Holds an Interesting Session.

The Home and School Club of Frontenac School held its monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the kindergarten room. There was a good attendance of mothers, and much interest was manifested by all present. The president, Mrs. Druce, presided. There was a cup and saucer shower, to which there was a liberal response. Eight refreshments were served by the lady teachers, Mrs. Druce and Mrs. McDougall pouring tea. Miss Pound gave several selections on her Victoria during the tea hour.

After the luncheon, business was proceeded with. Mr. Shaver was appointed treasurer of the Central Home and School Club, and Mrs. Shaver, Mrs. Lower, Miss Wilder and Mr. McDougall were named as members of the executive.

Mrs. Nowlands, of the Board of Education, gave an address on the relation between home and school. She was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for her remarks, as were also the lady teachers for providing the dainty luncheon.

New Innovation at the Griffin.

Thursday evening will see the inauguration of the biggest amateur contest in the history of Kingston, an array of local talent trying their spurs for stage recognition. There will be singers, dancers, jugglers, musicians and every branch of entertainment competing for the honors. Many a successful stage career has had its foundation in these contests. Cash prizes will be awarded and the winner will appear as an extra added attraction for three days at a liberal salary. "Riley" will have charge of the contest the audience assisting him by doing the judging. A good time is in store for our patrons and to accommodate the crowds who will attend, two shows will be given, one at 7 p.m., the second at 9. No advance in prices; attend either performance at Griffin's, Thursday.—Adv.

To Hold Men's Meetings.

At a meeting of the Kingston Brotherhood Federation committee, in the Y.M.C.A. parlors, on Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold men's meetings on every Sunday afternoon in some central hall. The programme on such occasions is to include music and short addresses. The object is to get all of the outsiders of different denominations to attend these meetings, and for this purpose notice of the meetings will be placed in the regular church notices in Saturday's papers.

School for N.C.O.'s.

Major W. J. McManus is in Cornwall, where a provisional school of instruction is being opened for N.C.O.'s of the militia units. This is rendered necessary under the system of reorganization being carried out. Major McManus has given great impetus to the work in M.D. No. 3, and good progress is being made where the right men are available for the work.

OBITUARY

The Late W. J. Purdy.

Wellington J. Purdy, a highly respected resident of Kingston, passed away at his residence 47 Clergy street, on Tuesday evening, after an illness of over one month. The deceased was a son of the late David Purdy, a carpenter, and was born there seventy-four years ago. He was a carpenter by occupation, and worked at his trade up to one year ago when he was obliged to retire owing to failing health. He is survived by his wife, four brothers, David and Charles, Kingston, Edward, New York, Herbert, Syracuse; and two sisters, Mrs. Clement, Toronto, and Mrs. Reese, Victoria, B.C.

Unsympathetic Mother.

"Oh, ma!" vociferated Hercules, the youngster. "Don't you want the backyard swept out?"

"No, that can wait until this evening."

"Hada't I better stay at home and do some work in the garden?"

"No, it looks like rain to-day."

"Don't you want me to clean out the paper capboard?"

"No, you can do that on Saturday."

"But, mother, isn't there anything that I can do to-day?"

"Yes, you can go to school, and be quick about it, too."

Knights of Columbus' Banquet.

The Whig is informed that the Knights of Columbus' banquet on Saturday evening is in honor of Rev. Dr. Casey. Armand Lavergne, who is to speak, was asked to attend this event, when it was learned that he was scheduled to address the Newman Club on Sunday afternoon. The banquet is not in connection with the Irish Self-Determination League.

How She Found Out.

Mrs. Gadabout—At last I've found where my husband spends all his evenings.

Her Friend—Indeed, dear! And where does the wretch spend them?

Mrs. Gadabout—At home, I had to stay at home myself last night.

The Danube is navigable nearly 1,500 miles from its mouth. Vampire bats are numerous and dangerous in South America. The plain Quaker hat originated in the seventeenth century.
