QUEEN'S ALUMNAE EVENT

Bridge and Tea Held in Grant Hall on Saturday Afternoon.

Grant Hall, the scene of so many of the recent festivities, was the setting of a different picture on Saturday afternoon. The members of the local branch of Queen's Alumnae had transformed it into a comfortable home-like bridge room, each one covered with a dainty white cloth with a blue-bird in the centre, to bring luck to the players. Miss Wilhelmina Gordon, president of the local branch, received the guests, and Miss Mowat was treasurer for the occasion and took the tickets. At five o'clock a committee, of which Miss Mildred Clow was convenor, served tea and coffee from two long tables at each side of the hall, both beautifully decorated with daffodils and hyacinths in silver bowls, silver candelabra and silver tea and coffee equipage, with Mrs. W. L. Goodwin, Mrs. Arthur Neish and Mrs. Hitsman pouring tea and coffee, and a splendidly energetic corps of assistants seeing that the three hundred guests were served. During the tea hour part of Queen's Girl Student orchestra played some charming numbers. They were stationed upon the platform, where were evergreens, palms, and lights shaded with Queen's colors.

Many of the professors and some students came in for tea and lingered in the congenial surroundings till reminded that the pleasant hour was at an end. Miss Florence O'Donnell was convenor of the committee, whose perfect arrangements for their guests' comfort was much commented upon. The prize winner of the "Five Hundred" competition was Miss Isabel Bureau, and the bridge players who won out were Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. W. Linton and Mrs. Ernest Sparks.

CREDIT UNIMPAIRED. Winnipeg, Feb. 7.—The Tribune says editorially: "The success of the new $10,000,000 Ontario loan for Hydro-Electric purposes is another proof that the Hydro-Electric enterprise has left the credit of that province unimpaired."

Victorian Order of Nurses. The monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses took place Thursday, with a large attendance. January was the busiest month the nurses have had. The report showed 383 visits made, 140 baby visits to the welfare station, and 22 social service visits. Religious denominations: Protestants 35, Roman Catholics 8. Donations: mittens, Mrs. James Pense; six yards of flannelette for sewing class, Mrs. Ringland Kidd; material for sewing class, Mrs. LaRosa; old linen, Mrs. Lazenby and Mrs. Gimblett, and money from the following: Mrs. C. Willson, Mrs. Shane, Mrs. F. Robbs, Mrs. Lilley, Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Callahan, and $5 from Mr. Lilley's Sunday morning Bible class to be especially used for the babies. Through the generosity of these friends the nurses have been able to provide a good many luxuries for the sick mothers and children in the past strenuous month.

A Grand Day. Sunday was a grand day at the Gospel Hall. Nearly three hundred children and adults assembled in the afternoon to see the lantern views of "The Pilgrim's Progress," and Evangelist Smith held their attention and interest from beginning to end. Few people have the gift of handling massed children as he did and the intelligent answers to his questions quite astonished the older people present, and showed that the children were not simply being entertained. They were having implanted within them precious and important instruction on the great fundamental truth of Christianity. Mr. Taylor will speak every night this week on the subjects mentioned in Saturday's Whig church column.

Still Keeps High. Home Bank Monthly: Newsprint seems to be one commodity in general use the price of which still maintains the altitude it ascended to during the war. While other commodity prices have found, or are finding, their former normal level, newsprint has not receded—in fact, it has gone a little bit higher, the price now being $130 a ton at the mills, which means $140 the ton in the press rooms of the Toronto daily papers.

Orangemen and Foresters Attend. The funeral of the late Robert Walker took place from his late residence, Princess street, to Cataract cemetery at 2.30 p.m. to-day, under the direction of S. S. Corbett, undertaker. The funeral was attended by the Kingston Orangemen and members of the Independent Order of Foresters and the service was conducted by the Orange order at the vault in Cataract cemetery.

Entertained Mowat Patients. The Eddie Collins' musical revue, filling a ten weeks' engagement at Griffin's Theatre, went to the Mowat hospital on Friday evening last and put on a splendid entertainment for the soldier patients there. It included a comedy and dancing and singing by the young ladies. At the conclusion of the performance a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Collins and the young ladies for their kindness.

A REGRETTED DEATH.

A Large Company Attended the Funeral on Saturday.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. N. H. MacLean, R.R. No. 1, Pittsburg, in the loss of their eldest son, William, who passed away after an illness of two weeks at the General hospital. He was always thoughtful and industrious, and was very much esteemed among his young friends. This was shown by the large gathering of friends at the funeral held on Saturday afternoon. The casket was banked with beautiful flowers, including: Pillow, by the family; anchor, the elders of St. John's church, Pittsburg; cross, Mrs. MacLean's Sunday school class; sheafs, from the Gordons, Martins, Watts and Hylands. Rev. Mr. MacLean, pastor of St. John's church, officiated at the funeral, assisted by Rev. J. D. Boyd, Kingston, Rev. A. W. Cooke, Barriefield, and friends of the family. The deceased was to have been married to Miss Mary Gordon, and her presence among the mourners gave a pathetic touch to the whole service. Only a month ago the young man purchased a fine farm and home near Woodstock, and there he planned to begin his married life, but God in His providence called the promising young man to Himself, and now all loved ones can only look to reunion above, where all tears will be wiped away and there can be no parting.
