RONEY'S PRINCESS ST.

FIFTY YEARS A MASON

Le Pas Lodge Tenders Him Banquet on Fiftieth Anniversary of His Initiation.

Pictou Times. Commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of David P. Clapp's initiation into Freemasonry, the Le Pas, Man., lodge on Monday did him honor at a banquet in Community hall, where gathered the members and ladies to the number of almost a hundred. Speeches were made, appropriate to the occasion, by G. A. Cameron, Rev. H. Ferguson, M. H. Colstad, H. F. Bickle, Dr. Orok and G. A. Williams, Mr. Clapp replying very feelingly. David P. Clapp is a native of Prince Edward County, where his father was born, and where his grandfather and great-grandfather lived. His great-grandfather, Joseph Clapp, came from near the city of Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, New York State, after having served the king in the revolutionary war. His brothers, Benjamin, Reuben, John and Paul Clapp, were all soldiers on the king's side, and all came to Canada. They belonged to the Society of Friends in the United States, and with other Quakers they joined the British army, and were called "The Fighting Quakers." John Clapp was captured at Saratoga with Burgoyne's army, by General Yates. Benjamin Clapp, after wintering at Sorol, Quebec, came up with Major Yanastine and his party of sixteen on that June day of 1784, and began the settlement of the Township of Adolphustown town, in Lennox county.

Joseph Clapp followed his brother the next winter, settling in Adolphustown, where he married Nancy Miller, a sister of Philip Roblin's wife, and drew a military grant, the east and the next half of Lot No. 13 in Concession No. 3 in the Township of Adolphustown. In 1808 he sold his land, and moved to the Bay of Quinte to the Township of South Marysburg, where he took up land and built a mill at Milford in that township. In the early fall of 1812 he donned the king's uniform a second time, at Kingston, becoming a member of the Prince Edward militia, Capt. John Allan's company, but died of some malady while in garrison, in March, 1813.

The subject of this sketch was born in Prince Edward County, seventy-one years ago and was educated at the Pictou high school, Toronto Normal and Queen's and Toronto universities. For twenty-seven years he was public school inspector of Wellington county. He came west and settled at Radisson and became prominent in public affairs in that place, being secretary-treasurer of the school board and an active municipal worker. He was the first town clerk of The Pas, and active in the board of trade and school board the latter body of which he has been secretary-treasurer ever since its incorporation. At the age of sixty-four he was admitted to the Bar of Manitoba and has practiced law in The Pas ever since.

At the age of twenty-one he was initiated into the Masons in the "gar" in the East Lodge, No. 164, at Wellington, Ontario. He is past-master of the Harriston Lodge, where he resided for a number of years. His father and all his brothers have been members of the Masons, and one sister belonging to the Eastern Star Order.

In politics Mr. Clapp is a life-long Conservative and a close student of all things political. He is a great reader, and boasts a house full of books as well as a crowded wood shed. He has a sharp memory, and to argue with him upon historical matters requires a great store of facts ripe at hand. He never smokes nor drinks, and while he is a total abstainer and views with alarm the sale of liquor he does not rant up and down creation for enforcing prohibition by legislative action. His life has been a useful one, and he is held in high respect and esteem by all. In the days that have gone, that is prior to the war, he was dominion police commissioner for The Pas and north, and many a tough rogue has been bailed before him for grave misbehavior, and for justice. In all cases the rogue got justice and a sound lecture upon his evil ways of living, and the worry and annoyance to mankind generally.
