New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On head effluvia, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth."

"Yet now, at an age over 65, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days."

THE TRIALS OF A HOUSEWIFE

How They Have Been Endured and How Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Experience of a Providence Woman

Providence, R. I.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a female trouble and backache. It began just after my baby was born, and I did the best I could about getting my work done, but I had awful bearing-down pains so I could not stand on my feet. I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the good it was doing other women, and I have got dandy results from it and will always recommend it. You can use these facts as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HERBERT L. CASSEN, 18 Meni Court, Providence, R. I.

Ohio woman for three years could hardly keep about and do her housework she was so ill. Made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: Fayette, O.—"For about three years I was very nervous and had backache, sideache, dragging-down pains, could not sleep at night, and had no appetite. At times I could hardly do my housework. I got medicine from the doctor but it did not help me. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and took it with good results, and am now able to do my housework. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. CHESTER A. BALL, R. 15, Fayette, Ohio.

An Illinois woman relates her experience: Bloomington, Ill.—"I was never very strong and female trouble kept me so weak I had no interest in my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or sweep a room without raging with pain. Rubbing my back with alcohol sometimes eased the pain for a few hours, but did not stop it. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and six bottles of it have made me as strong and healthy as any woman; and I give my thanks to it for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQUITTY, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

The conditions described by Mrs. Cassen, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. McQuitty will appeal to many women who struggle on with their daily tasks in just such conditions—in fact, it is said that the tragedy in the lives of some women is almost beyond belief. Day in and day out they slave in their homes for their families—and beside the daily routine of housework, often make clothes for themselves and for their children, or work in their gardens, all the while suffering from those awful bearing-down pains, backache, headaches, nervousness, the blues, and troubles which sap the very foundation of life until there comes a time when nature gives out and an operation seems inevitable. If such women would only profit by the experience of these three women, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the natural restorative for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.

There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been restored to health by this famous medicine. Therefore ask your neighbor, and you will find in a great many cases that at some time or other she, too, has been benefited by taking it, and will recommend it to you. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring suffering women to health and strength.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

NEW GOALING DOCKS Which are at Cape Vincent, N.Y., and up-to-date.

The new coal docks recently completed at Cape Vincent are the most up-to-date on the great lakes. They are equipped throughout with electric lights, to operate day and night, all work being done entirely by machinery.

The coal is delivered to the dock by cars, which dump their loads of sixty or seventy tons into conveyors driven by electric motors and elevated to the large trussel, at the rate of one hundred tons per hour. From there it can be discharged to port or starboard bunkers at the rate of ten tons per minute.

Several new conveyors are being erected to unload coal direct to boats, for delivery to Canadian ports. These boats were carrying on their return trips pulpwood, graphite or feldspar.

After several trips to New York Captain Pyke has secured seven hundred feet more of the N.Y.C. railroad docks, adjoining the present ones, thus giving the Pyke Company control of all the docks where deep draught boats can land at Cape Vincent.

Besides the Pyke Company, the International Paper Company are spending about $200,000 on dock and equipment, to supply the large pulp mills at Watertown with Canadian wood. The Standard Oil Company are also arranging to build a huge supply station, unloading direct from boats to tank cars and storage tanks. Altogether Cape Vincent looks for the most prosperous season for some time.

J. J. MORRISON IS ORDERED TO QUIT

He Is Told to Go Travelling and to "Broaden Out."

Toronto, March 18.—J. J. Morrison, Secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, has been given notice to quit. Tired of giving the secretary orders which he repeatedly disobeyed, the directors of the organization, in session yesterday at the Labor Temple, handed him an ultimatum. Mr. Morrison was again commanded to take a holiday. He has not had one since the U.F.O. was organized some seven years ago. He refused. The meeting countered by declaring that, beginning April 1st, he would be suspended for one month and forced to take a vacation, whether he wished to or not.

Mr. Morrison replied that he had a meeting booked for April 2nd. "We'll look after that," the directors shouted.

Repeatedly his associates have urged Mr. Morrison to take a holiday. But more work was always waiting to be done and "J. J." did it. Just about a year ago the directors ordered him off for a month's rest.

Taking Mrs. Morrison with him, he started off for the maritimes. He went to Nova Scotia, and for three weeks managed to speak at two meetings a day. Then he crossed over to Prince Edward Island, and finished out his holiday organizing the farmers there. "I had a fine rest," he said when he arrived back in Toronto.

Now the other U.F.O. leaders are debating where to send him. Meetings are already booked for "J. J." in British Columbia, so he can't be sent there. It is the general opinion that he will have to be sent to the States.

Although Mr. Morrison apparently has an iron constitution, his associates are genuinely afraid that his health will break down under the tremendous amount of work he has been doing. They have learned by experience that there is no use trying to get him to ease up on the burden he has been carrying. The only chance of making Mr. Morrison take a rest is to send him far enough away.

The trouble with the members of the Anti-Everything League is that they act as though the Creator is only running things temporarily until the league takes hold.

MARCH MAKES ROUGH SKIN.

It's the same every year. March is raw, cold and windy. March is the month above all others that drives the average woman to the drug store for something to heal the roughness of her skin. Campana's Italian Balm makes rough skin smooth. It is the most perfect complexion preparation known. It has been in use for over a quarter of a century. Every woman should have a bottle on her dresser. Ask your druggist for it, or, upon receipt of 15c., a one ounce sample will be mailed direct.

FUTURE TROUBLES

Crawf. C. Slack.

I know that present troubles for we mortals will suffice, And that troubles of the future or the past don't cut no ice. O'er the past I do not worry, for I seldom look behind; On the whole, could not be listed with the trouble brooding kind. But there is a weighty problem how to solve I cannot see, Which in the nearby future will effect both you and me. I have figured on the matter 'till my mind is in a kink,— How in blazes we shall manage in the future for a drink.

I've courted long Dame Fortune's smile, but she returned a frown; To make folks think that I was it, I've tried; they've turned me down. Long yet—'so when but a lad I lost my moral "rep." And now I'm getting on in years and losing all my "pep." My star is getting rather dim and just about to set, But all those things do not distress nor cause me much regret. The thing which worries me the most, on which I plan and think, Is in the future how the deuce we're going to get a drink.

If I were a stool-pigeon I perhaps might get a show, But then my "rep" ain't bad enough for that job, that I know. If I were an inspector I perhaps might have a chance, To haunt the cellars of the rich and get a smell or glance. Of fancy wines and whiskies, all of the choicest brand, I'd make love to the hired girl and have things well in hand, I've some regret because I lack the necessary chink; If I had that I'd worry not of what or where I'd drink.

Now I can't be an inspector, for my politics are wrong; I'm neither of the privileged class, to them I don't belong. But I've a friend, a bosom friend, he's just the man to choose, His politics are right and he's an expert judge of booze. He stands in with the stocked-up-lucks, and no doubt on the sly, As just a kind of hush-up, he'd get a jug of rye. And when that luxury was secured I'd only need a whink, Then we'd go out behind the shed and have an old-time drink.

I'd like to be an ambassador, if I but had the pull; I'd have a ship come o'er the sea, and stock my cellar 'full. I'd willing be a Jewish priest, a Doc., a druggist or M.P., Or anything that booze and I could kind of chummy be, I'd like to be a white-capped nurse and dealing out the dope. As long as there was plenty booze my patients might have hope. I do not worry over "rep" nor loss of "pep" nor chink,— My worries are in future how we're going to get a drink, False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been aiding in the reduction of the deaths among infants as Mothers have become more and more acquainted with it. Always keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Mental Diversion at a Profit

You own a business. It is your "child." You have nursed it through infancy, poured brain and money and energy—your life blood almost—into it, to bring it to its present position.

And, if the truth be known, the ambition is still with you to carry it to greater heights; not altogether for profit, perhaps, because there is a streak of altruism in every great business man.

Let us say, then, for the glory of achievement.

Granting this, will you not sit down after dinner this evening and figure out whether you can use advertising—Daily Newspaper Advertising—to accomplish your purpose?

It is unfortunately true that a great deal of daily newspaper advertising is not as well done as it should be; but, even allowing for this, the overpowering commercial successes that have been assisted in their achievement by the persistent force of Daily Newspaper Advertising are sufficient evidence to justify your earnest consideration.

1. It will enable you, if necessary, to make a sales appeal—to reach every possible buyer of your goods.
2. It will enable you to get local or national sales action quickly.
3. It will give you frequency of appearance, and flexibility in extent of space or character of message or price.
4. It will enable you to localize your sales efforts—to place your advertising in those territories and only those territories where you want action, and where you can profit by it.

If you have ever thought you would like to advertise, if you could get proper advice on how to go about it, write to this Association. We will give you the benefit of our experience in starting you on the road to successful publicity. Or, consult a recognized advertising agency. A list supplied on request.
