Gifts That Last His Master's Voice Red Seal Records

McCORMACK, JOHN, and KREISLER, FRITZ

87574 O Cease Thy Singing, Maiden Fair Rachmaninoff 10-in. list price $2.00.

John McCormack's last contribution was two Irish folk melodies. This month he has gone to the very antipodes of the world of music, by selecting a world song which ranks beside the great songs of Schumann and Richard Strauss. He and Edward Schneider have made the English translation between them, and Fritz Kreisler plays to the song an obbligato of strange, sad, almost supernal beauty. The sadness in the song is not that of passive acceptance, but of mystery and wonder and passionate rebellion against the woes and mysteries of life.

CANADIAN CLUB LUNCHEON LADY HARVEY MAKES REPLY

Prof. Roy Continued His Address on Conditions in Europe.

The Kingston Canadian Club had a fine gathering at their luncheon held at the Randolph hotel on Friday. Prof. Roy, Queen's University, was the speaker, and he continued an address he took up at a recent meeting of the club, dealing with the topic, "Changing Europe." J. M. Hughes presided.

Prof. Roy had a map placed on the wall, and his talk was a most interesting one, regarding the Central countries in Europe. He had chosen as his subject, "Changing Europe," but had come to the conclusion that judging by recent news from Europe the title, "Unchanging Europe" would be more proper, as the news tended to show that conditions overseas were more like pre-war conditions.

The speaker referred to the general unrest. He spoke especially of Hungary, this country having all the elements of discontent. There were commercial barriers preventing trade going on from one place to another. Hungary was to make herself double her present size. Hungary should have disarmed, but had never been compelled to disarm.

Speaking generally of conditions, Prof. Roy said that he was afraid that England was forgetting the animosity of the war while France was not so ready to forget.

The speaker was listened to with keen interest throughout his address in which he touched on many matters of importance. At the close he was tendered a hearty vote of thanks by the president for his two addresses.

Secretary Thomas Mills read the names of the following new members who were given a warm welcome by the president: E. W. Davidson, manager of the Princess Street branch of the Bank of Commerce; Philip Du-moulin, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Dr. W. A. Jones, W. H. Ratcliffe and Stephen Roughton.

President Hughes announced that in the future it was the intention to keep all the luncheons within the hour. The members would sit down to the tables promptly at 12.30 o'clock and an adjournment would be made at 1.30.

A BRIGHT FUTURE

For Cigar Manufacturing Industry in Kingston.

E. A. McGowan has just returned from a very successful business trip in the interest of the G. A. McGowan Manufacturing Co., of this city. He reports the conditions as being very good in the west, so much so that he opened agencies in Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, and will use these three places as distributing points for his goods. He obtained orders for several million cigars. This will require a large number of cigar makers to turn out this quantity. In fact it will insure steady employment for the entire year of 1921. He has expressed the wish to have all experienced help both in the city and district to apply immediately and he is also willing to train help. This comes as very welcome news for the city of Kingston at this particular time. We believe Mr. McGowan is deserving and hope that the people of Kingston will give their support in helping to secure the necessary help. Without it, the order will have to be completed elsewhere.

Sick in Bed for a Long, Long Time

C. H. POBRAN NOW PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Saskatchewan Man Gives the Reason Why Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Become the Standard Canadian Kidney Remedy. Hafford, Sask., Apr. 1st (Special)—Dodd's Kidney Pills have few more faithful friends in any part of Canada than C. H. Pobran, well known and highly respected here. He gives the reason in a few words that go right to the point. "I was sick in bed for a long time before I used Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "and I am healthy now. I am very thankful I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

It is friends like Mr. Pobran who have given Dodd's Kidney Pills the reputation which for twenty years has stamped them as Canada's standard kidney remedy. They have been used for all forms of kidney disease such as backache, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes, rheumatism and heart disease. They have given satisfaction. If you haven't tried Dodd's Kidney Pills ask your neighbors about them.

To Nurses' Criticisms—Says an Apology Should Be Forthcoming.

From Lady Martin Harvey comes a reply to the recent criticisms made by British nurses and local nursing organizations in connection with the Nation's Fund for Nurses.

"To question the integrity of the accounts of the College of Nursing," says Lady Harvey in a letter to the press, "is to directly question the integrity of the British Red Cross Society. It is a deep insult to myself and Sir John Harvey's business manager, Mr. Frank R. O'Neill, M. A., Oxon, who is my treasurer. Mr. O'Neill has been treasurer for our British charities, namely, the British Red Cross Society, Y.M.C.A., the Lord Roberts Memorial Workshops and the Nation's Fund for Nurses, since 1914, and a direct apology to him should be made by the Nurses' Association for having questioned my funds which have passed through his hands."

"With regard to our business methods over here," says Lady Harvey, "I would like to point out to the public that for every appeal I make in the theatre the theatre manager receives a receipt for the sum collected, which is publicly announced by Sir John from the stage, signed by Sir Arthur Stanley for Mr. O'Neill. The cheque is then sent directly to the Nurses' Fund at the Bank of Montreal, and from here to Sir Arthur Stanley. The same system is used with regard to any drawing-room meetings or appeals. The Daughters of the E.L.I. or any other person who has contributed to the fund receives the same receipt, bearing Sir Arthur Stanley's signature, mine, or Mr. O'Neill's. I feel it to be a humiliation beyond words that the attack should have made it necessary to give the above explanation.

The Nurses' Association has nothing whatever to do with the College of Nursing (which now numbers 20,000 members), and it is inconceivable that a body of nurses should resent a thanksgiving of love and gratitude from the British Empire to the British nurses, and thus deny help to many hundreds of women in their time of need."

The Nurses' Association has absolutely nothing to do with the home in the Isle of Wight, Lady Harvey goes on to say. This was opened last July by Princess Beatrice, and is under the direction of the British Red Cross Society and the Tribute Fund of the College of Nursing.

Lady Harvey has in her possession letters of communication from Sir Arthur Stanley, Earl Haig and Sir T. A. Sloggett, late Director-General of the Medical Service in France.

When in Kingston, late in January, Lady Harvey was given a collection of $150 for her nurses' work.

THE CRAZE FOR AMUSEMENT.

Those Who Live For Pleasure Do Not Enjoy Life.

Toronto Globe.—Professor J. L. Morison, of Queen's University, tells a teachers' gathering that the average young Canadian of to-day cares nothing for books. "Organized amusement, the automobile and the moving-picture shows are challenging the reading of books. The garage has displaced the library—golf clubs have taken the place of books."

A love of books has never been a passion of the average youth in any country in any age, but it is probably true that new forms of amusement are occupying the leisure of increasing numbers of boys, girls and youths. Motoring and golf are the recreations of a minority, and often pay dividends in health. The moving picture is the pastime of the majority, and if it cannot be made an educational influence it should at least be deprived of its power for evil. Professor Morison is speaking figuratively when he says the garage has displaced the library, but the youth who is neglecting his education is the one who drives his father's motor car and when anything goes wrong with it sends to a garage and pays no further attention to it until it is ready for use again. If he tries to master the mechanism of a motor car he is sharpening his faculties, and may be led to a study of mechanical principles which will send him to the library. The tragedy of so many young people is that they have no mental curiosity of any kind, literary, scientific or mechanical.

The craze for pleasure at the expense of self-improvement can only be combated by strengthening the agencies that create and foster a taste for higher things and tend to a more thoughtful outlook on life. The home, the church, the school,
