ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., MAY GET THE BOUT

Tex Rickard, promoter of the world's heavyweight championship battle between Jack Dempsey, title holder, and Georges Carpentier, European champion, scheduled for July 2 somewhere in New Jersey, is looking over prospective sites for the battle ground. Rickard has committed himself to the declaration that the battle will be held either in Jersey City, Newark or Atlantic City. He expects to make his choice before the end of the week. He visited several sites in Newark.

Indications are that he favors Atlantic City. Rickard said he expected to be in a position to announce the city selected for the battle by Saturday. Champion Dempsey is expected in New York some time today. The title holder has completed a theatrical jaunt through the west and, according to Manager Jack Kearns, is eager to get down to training. Carpentier has been advised by Promoter Rickard to be in New York by May 5.

POOR OPINION OF DEMPSEY

Tim O'Sullivan Tells of Late Les Darcy and Umpire.

W. B. Masterson writes in the New York Morning Telegraph: Tim O'Sullivan, who came to this country with Les Darcy several years ago and who has been "campaigning a stable of thoroughbreds in England for the last twelve months, has written a letter to his friend, W. F. Corbett, sporting editor of the Sydney Referee, dated Doncaster, England, giving his views on Australian boxers:

"Now that I have told all about myself, let me tell you something about our Australian boxers," writes Tim. "Although I say it myself, I think I am in a position to criticize our boys' boxing for the past few years, as I refereed a great many bouts while in the states, besides seeing all the best boys in America, England and France in action."

"I think I can safely say that we had but one real first-class man who could have beaten the best in any country in the last ten years, and he was none other than Les Darcy. If God had spared him he would doubtless have been not only the middle-weight champion, but the heavy-weight champion as well. The trouble with the Australian fighters is they box on the retreat too much."

"I never in all my experience saw a real top notcher backing away from an opponent. No one ever saw Les Darcy stepping back when hard pressed. He invariably adopted the opposite course by attacking and keeping up the attack until the other fellow retreated."

"Darcy always maintained that when a fighter was in trouble his best defence was in attacking. No wonder," says Tim. "The Yankee boxers rule the world, for they know nothing about retreating."

"Oh, you, Tim, how did you get that way? Never saw one of those so-called Yankee boxers retreat, eh? Well, Tim, maybe you didn't but I have actually seen some of them run like a scared rabbit."

Then Tim takes a wallop at the English variety of ringmen by asserting that England is as badly off, so far as pugilists are concerned, as Australia. "Pete Herman," Tim says, "beat Jimmy Wilde very much as he pleased. There is not one good fighter in the whole of England," declares Tim. "No doubt Wilde can beat any man of his poundage, but where are you going to find a man who only weighs 102 pounds who can fight? There is only one such and his name is Jimmy Wilde."

Then Tim expresses his opinion of Jack Dempsey in this manner: "Take it from me, Mr. Corbett, the first good man that comes along will be the heavyweight champion of the world. I told you a very long time ago that Dempsey was a bum fighter, and since his bout with Bill Brennan, a fourth-rater, I am more convinced than ever that I have him right. If the Frenchman is even a good second-rater he will beat Dempsey sure if they fight."

BASEBALL RECORDS BROKEN

Seven Major League Games the Attraction for 155,000 Fans. The umpires' cry "play ball" was heard by more than 155,000 in seven major league parks, Wednesday in what officials of the national pastime heralded as the "comeback of baseball."

The figures, which were unofficial estimates, included two records for opening day attendance at the Chicago National League Park, where nearly 25,000 saw the game, and at the home of the New York Yankees, who played before 37,000. The Chicago-Detroit game at Detroit in the American League was postponed because of rain, but reports were that a record-breaking crowd was disappointed by the postponement.

Unofficial figures for other cities were: Cincinnati, National, 30,400; Boston, National, 12,000; Washington American, 18,200; Philadelphia, National, 19,000; St. Louis, American, 15,000.

John McGraw of the Giants and his assistant, Hughie Jennings, are pretty close together in the nature of their business. They are also pretty close in age. Each had a birthday last Thursday in Norfolk. McGraw is now forty-nine and Jennings, fifty. As was fitting they held a joint birthday party.
