Trans-Canada Players Coming. The first appearance of Trans-Canada's English Players, a specially selected company of London artists brought to Canada to tour the Dominion in a repertoire of the most popular romantic dramas and other well-known plays will be made at the Grand Opera House in this city on Friday, April 22nd, and Saturday, April 23rd, matinee and night. For this occasion has been selected Henry Arthur Jones' powerful drama, "The Silver King," both nights and "East Lynne" at the matinee.

At the Griffin. A bitter three-cornered bidding duel at an auction sale of famous paintings starts the hall of action at the Griffin Theatre today. The Lone Wolf's Daughter, "The Lone Wolf's Daughter," by Louis Joseph Vance, and distributed by W. W. Hodkinson Corporation, which is at the Griffin Theatre today. Aside from being thrilled by the spirited contest over a genuine Corot landscape, art devotees, who frequent exhibitions of the old masterpieces, will be impressed by the realistic settings with which Producer Reed, an acknowledged genius in this specialty, has invested his spectacular opening scene.

It is in this superb setting that charming Louise Glau is introduced as the Princess Sonia—the beautiful breathing picture with the world-famous works of some of the greatest artists for her background. While Sonia walks about admiring first this then that work of art there enters Prince Victor (Edwin Stevens), her husband, from whom she is estranged. Even to an art gallery he trails her in his efforts to procure evidence for a divorce. Convinced that it is not her trysting place, Victor settles back in his chair to do battle with her in the bidding when the auction opens.

Though their tastes differ in other directions the couple have their hearts set on purchasing the famous Corot. The bidding starts when Sonia offers a thousand guineas for the painting. With a sweep of his hand as though the Corot was his, Victor rebuffs her figure. A moment later the two bidders and the scores of others in attendance are astonished by the cry of "Five thousand guineas!" from a corner of the room. It is the voice of Michael Lanyard (Bertram Grassby), a stranger to almost all of those present, but Dame Rumor has it that Lanyard and the Lone Wolf are one and the same. There is more bidding but the painting is finally captured by Lanyard for 10,000 guineas. Another special feature on this splendid bill was Bert Caldwell, who returns to Kingston to give the patrons of the Griffin some real singing. He sang two of the latest songs his last night, "I Never Knew" and "Nestle in our Mammy's Arms," and beautiful illustrated slides were shown for the first song and he was received with loud applause at the finish of his songs. Everyone who is fond of good singing should come and hear this popular singer. The Griffin Concert Orchestra excelled itself last night. A special overture, "Endurance," composed by Sgt. J. Leary, of the R. C. H. A., Kingston, was rendered, and other short subjects made up a program that has not been seen in the city for some time.—Adv.

At The Strand. "Black Beauty," the picturization of Anna Sewall's famous story, opened for a three day run at the Strand last night and was greeted with a capacity house. The picture is one of the most finished photoplays ever produced and delighted the large and most enthusiastic audience. The horse that plays the leading role is trained to the finest point and one wonders how the character of Black Beauty could be portrayed in such a realistic way.

The concert by the famous Straud orchestra was a treat and was received with hearty applause. Phyllis Devlin sang her way right into the hearts of the music lovers, her first number being "Sunrise and You," and for her encore number, "I Never Knew." The usual short subjects were also screened, which includes a selected comedy, the latest news, and a special half hour drama. The attraction announced for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be Ethel Clayton in "Crooked Streets," which is adapted from the famous stage play of the same name.—Adv.

"DAMAGED GOODS" AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

It is a Telling Presentation of a Great Theme. "Damaged Goods," a great moral play, was successfully screened at the Grand Opera House, matinee and evening. It drew a large house at London, the whole faculty of the academy of medicine attending, and on Monday, its appearance in Kingston was greeted by a packed house. "Damaged Goods" is probably the most telling presentation of a great theme of vital interest to the welfare of some things to grasp is to surmount the terrible curse that blights humanity. Here is a clear and convincing demonstration that in educational value is unsurpassed as it strikes home to every holder the folly of ignorance and the awful consequences of blind mistakes. It carries the endorsement of the Canadian National Council for the prevention of Venereal Disease.

As a play it ranks among the most excellent, having most elaborate settings and giving a realistic glimpse into social life. Special music is rendered by the Grand orchestra.

GEORGE NICOL RESIGNS AS SUPERINTENDENT

George Nicol, who has been superintendent of Cataract cemetery for over twenty-five years, has tendered his resignation to the cemetery committee, on account of ill-health. It is with a great deal of regret that the board accepted the resignation. Mr. and Mrs. Nicol will take up residence in the city.

Mr. Nicol's father, the late David Nicol, held the position for about thirty years. Father and son held the position between them for fifty-six years, and Cataract cemetery today is a monument to their artistic ability.

You're a Funny Mixture! What are you worth? Even if you have not a penny in your pockets you are always worth a certain amount of cash. Just you, yourself. The human body is a bundle of chemicals, and chemicals have their cash value. Three-quarters of your physical weight is water. You have, however, enough albuminoids to make a couple of dozen eggs. You contain enough salt to fill an ordinary salt-cellar, enough grease to make seven bars of soap, and enough iron to make a respectable paper-weight.

You are quite correct in referring to your own sweet self, for the human body contains quite an egg-cupful of sugar.

That some employers were exploiting amputation cases was stated before the special parliamentary committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment Tuesday morning, at Ottawa, by R. Myers, member of the amputees' association. He afterwards qualified the statements by saying that many employers were fair in their treatment of maimed soldiers.

Public School Ball League. In the cricket field on Monday afternoon the second game of the junior public school baseball league was played. Five innings were played and the score at the end of that stood 27 to 6 in Central's favor. Credit must be given to Central's crack pitcher, Jamieson, who showed some remarkable skill at the game. A fly ball was knocked out to a baseman who missed the ball but Jamieson ran up behind the man and caught the ball. He again did some good playing by running into the crowd and catching a foul ball bringing applause from the spectators. Sydenham expect to do better in their game with Louise. MONTREAL TO HAVE ANOTHER MILLION DOLLAR LOEW'S THEATRE

New Loew's Metropolitan (Montreal) Will Be Located in the Heart of the French-Canadian Section of the City, Near the Corner of St. Lawrence Boulevard and St. Catherine Street—Picture Houses Very Popular With French People.

Montreal, April 19.—Montreal will shortly boast of another million-dollar picture house. The construction work on the new Loew's Metropolitan (Montreal) theatre is now nearing completion and it will be open to the public during the month of May. This new addition to the Loew circuit in Canada will be situated right in the heart of the French-Canadian section of Montreal, close to the corner of St. Lawrence Boulevard and St. Catherine street. It is on the site of the old Francois theatre, which for many years was one of the most popular houses in the metropolis.

The new Loew's Metropolitan has been designed by Thos. W. Lamb, the noted architect, who was the architect for all the larger theatres of the Loew's interests, both in Canada and the United States. This guarantees the new house being one of the most attractive and artistic in the country. Moving picture theatres have proved extremely popular with the French-Canadian population of Montreal, because of the lowly theme of which they can follow the new theatres. In addition, the new theatre, situated as it is right in the centre of the city, will serve a large proportion of the English population from the north and eastern sections of the city.

The exceptional opportunity that offered itself was early appreciated by the Loew's interests, and for many years before securing the site they had been in constant negotiation for it, as they regarded it as one of the most unique in the country. The new theatre will have a seating capacity of about 2,200, thus making it the second largest in Montreal. The Loew's circuit in Canada now covers Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, London and Windsor.

Mr. Marcus Loew organized his company in New York some sixteen years ago, and from a small capital beginning it has developed into the largest theatre organization in North America, if not in the world. This company is now known as Loew's Incorporated. The management is so thoroughly experienced and efficient.

Concerning Long-term Bonds

MANY shrewd investors have realized that present high rates for money cannot last indefinitely, and are buying bonds maturing in ten to twenty-five years, thus assuring themselves of a high rate of interest for a long period. In our opinion this is a sound investment policy.

May we suggest that investors check over their holdings very closely with a view of disposing of short term bonds and placing their funds where they will have a definite yield over a longer period.

We shall be pleased to assist you in re-adjusting your holdings and submit a list of "long-term" Bonds, which we recommend for safe investment.

Cleveland, April 19.—The new wage agreement between the Cleveland Railway Company and the Street Car Men's Union, providing for a wage reduction of 20 per cent, and elimination of extra compensation for "long swing" runs and of ten hours pay for eight hours work on night runs, was signed yesterday. The agreement becomes effective May 1st.

Acceptance of the agreement, which also provides for time and a half for Sunday and holiday overtime pay, one and a quarter for week-day overtime, was voted almost unanimously by the 2,400 motormen and conductors by referendum Friday as a compromise against arbitration. The closed shop clause remains intact. The new basic scale will be 59 cents an hour for men in their first six months' service, 58 cents the next three months, and sixty cents an hour for men with more than a year's rating.
