CANADA IS FACING MORE COMPETITION

Paper Industry Exports to U.S. in February—Europe Getting Trade.

Washington, April 20 .- Canada's paper industry is facing ever increasing competition from European countries in the United States market. This is shown by figures issued by the United States department of Commerce During February last Canadian mills sent to the United States a total of 97,788,183 pounds of print paper, valued at $6,077,320. This was a decline of three-quarters of a million dollars in business as compared with the previous month, the figures for January being 107,-843,677 pounds, valued at $6,814,-216. On the other hand, the paper manufacturers of several European countries are credited with a big increase of business in February over the first month of the year. Germany has become an active factor in the competition for the United States market. In February Germany sold the United States 11,284,570 pounds of print paper valued at $661,145, as against 8,122,390 pounds valued at $515,431 in January. Belgian mills are also beginning to send paper to this market. During 1920, not a pound of Belgian paper was received but in January United States publishers received 325,820 pounds from Belgium, and in February 48.740 pounds. Imports from other coun tries in February, according to the department of commerce figures were: from Finland, 834,290 pounds, valued at $54,483; from Norway, 5,-715,370 pounds, valued at $382,909; from Sweden, 1,388,002 pounds, valued at $88,077; from England, 78,781 pounds, valued at $4,727, and from Newfoundland and Labrador, 648,812 pounds, valued at $30,724.

One of the Very Best. The Almonte Gazette says: A contemporary states that Murray Galbraith was credited with bringing down at least fifteen German planes. His record was much better even than that. He was credited with bringing many more. He had the second best record of the Canadian aviators.
