IN OLD GLENBURNIE
 Wets Won on the 18th—Farmers Behind in Ploughing.
 Glenburnie, April 25.—Many of the farmers in this district did not get their ploughing done last fall, and are behind this spring. Others, although they were on their last sowing, were caught by the rain, unfortunately.
 Bert Vair has engaged Mr. Smith and family for the summer. Mr. Smith formerly lived in Kingston and is a mason by trade. Hilton Cross, also of Kingston, has been engaged by Allen Sands. Thomas Cashman purchased a fine work horse recently.

The late John Kelly was buried on April 22nd. Willard Coulter has purchased the farm of R. B. Cochran. The former occupant held a sale on the tenth of this month, which was well attended. Judging by the way the stock sold, prices are not coming down very fast.

The Y.P.S. of the Methodist church held their regular meeting on Tuesday last. A. W. Sirrett, district representative of the department of agriculture, gave an interesting illustrated address on the care and handling of poultry, which was much appreciated by the large audience. The club is to be congratulated on its progress so far.

After being confined to the house for about three months, Miss Lillian Coulter is able to walk alone once more. The Misses Mabel and Ruth Britton have resumed their duties as stenographers at the pulp mills at Iroquois Falls. R. J. Orr has disposed of his 250-acre farm on the Perth road to Arthur Wilson. Mr. Orr has rented 100 acres owned by James Hogan.

The vote here on Monday was in favor of the wets. Patrick Kelly has purchased lumber for a new garage. Rupert Joyner is making cheese four days a week. The supply of milk is not great enough to warrant making it every day. The steam roller has been on the Glen road and has made great improvements. Mrs. G. Draper and Mrs. Joseph McHenry are on the sick list.

Acting on Presentiment, Comes to Dying Mother
 Hamilton, April 29.—John Almas, Detroit, son of A. E. Almas, this city, says he was awakened and found his Gibson-Purvis Wedding.

 Mr. and Mrs. James S. Purvis, Junctown, announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Myrtle, to Mr. Leslie Gibson, second son of U. L. Gibson, Lynn, by Rev. A. W. Gardener, Lyn, on April 27th.

Should Take Warning.
 Bicyclists should take warning because the police are preparing to enforce the by-law forbidding them to ride on the sidewalks. All spring they have been riding over the walks, not only on the streets, but through the parks, greatly to the discomfort of pedestrians. This must cease at an early date. In addition to this, the speeding of auto drivers will also be investigated and action taken.

Princess Street Methodist W.M.S.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY
 Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy, Relief For Acid Indigestion
 So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.
 Gas distends the stomach and causes that full oppressive burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excessive development or secretion of acid.
 To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.
 An antacid, such as bisurated magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

When my husband was twenty-one and I was seventeen, and he was getting $14 a week, he seemed to love me. But afterwards, as his fortune increased, his affection for me diminished. And he got so rich after a while that he said he wished I were dead.
 It is the story told in a New York divorce court by the wife of a wealthy broker.
 It is, too, in substance, the pitiful story told in a thousand divorce courts all over the country.
 It is the pathetic tragedy which, in these days of rapid fortune-making, has blighted homes unnumbered.
 Money, honestly got and wisely used, is good to have. But there is not enough of it in all the world to recompense the loss of the sweet joys of the humblest home that is lit and warmed by love.
 Prosperity is a precious blessing, to those worthy of it and able to stand it.
 But all of the wealth of all the mines and farms and factories cannot give such genuine and enduring satisfaction to the soul as does the wealth of love and faith and sacrifice that makes the home truly home.
 The real life is not outside ourselves, but within.
 The real possessions are not what the hands may grasp, but what the heart may hold.
 A lot of men will not believe these vital truths are anything but empty abstractions.
 In their infatuation for the material, the "practical," they recognize no values that are not marketable and see no substance in anything they cannot clutch in their palms.
 They must wreck a home before they can know what it is made of. They must embitter and blast their lives before they can learn what is worth while in them.
 To be rich and still retain the simple virtues and the honest loves—there is the real prosperity.
