

Gray-Dort Club House Evidence of Company's Generosity

Magnificent Building Maintained by Company for Use of Employees.

Gray-Dort Motors have always been foremost in consideration of the welfare of their employees—not only in factory life—but by means of bonuses, the insurance, the formation of a work's council and other features. Now, however, they are taking a more vital interest in the lives of their employees apart from factory life, and in order to accomplish this, a magnificent building has been outfitted and is maintained by the company for the use of their employees, their families and their friends.

The Gray-Dort Club, as it is called, is a large brick building fronted by great white pillars. The wide French windows open into a spacious lobby luxuriously furnished as a lounge room with comfortable Chesterfields and deep upholstered chairs drawn up before an open fire-place, while a great grandfather clock records the pleasant hours spent here. Adjoining this is a special room for ladies, dauntingly furnished with wicker chairs and settees, tables and writing desks. A large dancing and banquet hall capable of seating three hundred, and a modern kitchen, as completely equipped as the most scientific housekeeper could desire, comprise the other rooms downstairs, while the upper floor of the building is given over to several recreation rooms. An electric player-piano has been placed in the club house so that the members may have music to enliven any of their entertainments.

The company has appointed a club manager, who allocates the evenings and assists the various committees in planning their evening entertainments. Any department of the factory or office staff may reserve an evening for its exclusive use, or several departments may combine for an evening.

The club has already been the scene of considerable social activity. Banquets, luncheons, dances, music, al evenings, stunt nights, card parties, smokers and lectures have been given and each entertainment has been heartily enjoyed.

Gray-Dort managers are to be congratulated on the exceedingly generous way in which they have met the need for such a means of entertainment among their employees. Mr. Robert Gray, president of the company, has devoted many weeks to drawing up the plans for the club—for he firmly believes that the welfare of all Gray-Dort employees is of no little importance to the managers of the company. Noting the enthusiasm with which the club is being visited and enjoyed, one readily understands how it is Gray-Dort Motors has never had a strike, for happier and more contented employees are nowhere to be found; and already notable esprit de corps is being strengthened by this latest manifestation of the company's concern for those who labor for them.

THE AUTO BUSINESS CONSIDERED GUIDE

Motor Car Industry Reflects True Condition of Whole Market Situation.

"It used to be the stock market, but now it's the automobile that is the financial barometer, and a true guide of business and industrial conditions throughout the country," says a motor car distributor.

Those who watch the trend of things financially are learning that the automobile reflects the true opinion of conditions more faithfully than any other guide, while it is not subject to the manipulation which make the old barometers, such as the stock market, wheat, etc., so uncertain to depend upon.

The fact is that the motor car is an absolutely indispensable feature of the commercial and industrial life of the country, and as soon as the recent depression began to lift, the first thing people began to do was to dig down into their stockings to buy new motor cars.

The depression did more than anything else to impress the people with their great dependence upon the automobile—something which automobile manufacturers for years had been insisting upon, but an opinion which the general public was slow to appreciate.

Now that the country is emerging from the near-chaos which engulfed it, every one is keenly watching motor car sales, taking their cue from them as to general conditions. They realize that motor car sales are the true barometer and indication of the country's prosperity.

Great business builder and uplifter as the motor car is, its economy makes it a part of our life which no family can try to do without.

Loose Wheels.

A slight wobble on the axle will soon wear the key or key seat of the rear wheels into a dangerous condition. The only way of preventing the development of this condition is to give the wheels frequent inspections for slackness.

Put CANADA On WHEELS

A MAN of action without a motor car is like a bird with a broken wing. The bird can only flutter instead of fly—the man can only putter instead of work.

Canada cannot putter and prosper—it must motor and progress. Willys-Overland Limited will pay $5000.00 in cash to get your idea of the utility of the motor car. It is an inspiring movement—open to anyone in Canada who owns a motor car.

Overland owners are particularly impressed with the exceptional utility afforded by their cars. They get from 25 to 30 miles to the gallon of gasoline and other expenses proportionately low. They have the great facilities and greater plans of a leading Canadian institution solidly behind them.

But no matter what car you drive—get an entry blank from your Overland dealer. Write a letter on the subject "What my car means to me," not to exceed three hundred words. You may win the first prize of $1000.00 or one of the seventy-four other cash prizes.
