by Longfellow. For beautiful photography and appealing love story this picture has few if any equals, and it is one of the greatest successes produced by the Fox Film Corporation this season.

At the Strand
There are several great punch scenes in "The Inside of the Cup." The accusation of theft against Kate Marcy, a salesgirl, and her dismissal therefor, although innocent of crime.

The deliberate ruining of an employee by Eldon Parr, a banker and vestryman, in a stock transaction, an act that estranges Parr's daughter and prompts her to quit her father's house to engage in Settlement work.

Parr's renunciation by his son Preston, when the latter learns that his father had forced a promise from Kate Marcy, the boy's sweetheart, not to marry him. Young Parr becomes an outcast.

The meeting of Hodder and Allison Parr in the poor quarter and the beginning of their love romance.

The discovery of Parr's hypocrisy and duplicity by John Hodder, the Rector, when he finds Kate in a dive, and his denunciation of wealthy hypocrites from the pulpit.

The gathering of the vestrymen of St. John's church and their demand upon Rector Hodder to resign, which he refuses to do.

The dispersal of a mob by the Rector, who urges them to attend his church and not to attack his parishioners.

The shooting of Parr by Richard Garvin, one of his victims, who then commits suicide.

The reconciliation of Kate Marcy and Preston Parr and the plighting of the troth of Hodder and Allison Parr.

Every reader of current literature will recall the sensation caused by the publication several years ago of "Winston Churchill's powerful novel, "The Inside of the Cup." The story attacked the alleged hypocrisy of certain clergymen and men of wealth identified with churches as vestrymen. The philosophy of the book was criticized by churchmen in this country and in England as an unwarranted attack upon religion and the cloth.

The picture rights having been obtained by Cosmopolitan at great expense, the story was pictured by Albert Capellani, a famous director, and the film version will be shown at the Strand Theatre next week. The essential features of the story, which is one of great dramatic force, have been retained, while the anti-hypocrisy philosophy of the author necessarily has been subordinated to the general theme.

The story deals with the Rector of a fashionable church who turns upon his wealthy parishioners when he discovers them parading under the mask of hypocrisy and invites the common people to attend his church. Eldon Parr, a vestryman, unscrupulous and tyrannical, alienates his son and daughter and is finally killed by a man whom he has ruined. There is a pretty love romance between the Rector and Parr's daughter which ends happily. The leading roles are played by William P. Carleton and Edith Hallor.—Adv.

At the Allen
The attraction at the Allen Theatre for three days, beginning Monday, will be "Kazan," a photodrama described as "extraordinary" from the pen of James Oliver Curwood, an author who won undying fame for his "Back to God's Country" and "The River's End" and "Nomads of the North." The product of the Cur-

Barely Lived Through It.

A terrible experience had Edw. J. O'Connor, of Sault Ste. Marie, from boyhood he writes: "I have been a constant sufferer from Asthma and Catarrh. My nose and throat was often stopped up, and I had disagreeable droppings from my throat. When an attack of coughing came on, it seemed as if I would barely live through it. I would gasp for breath. Catarrhose made me well. It's soothing, healing action was exactly suited to my case." To those who suffer from Catarrh, Asthma, throat irritation and Bronchitis, Catarrhose is highly recommended. Two months' treatment, one dollar, smaller sizes 25c. and 50c., at all dealers or The Catarrhose Co., of Montreal.

wood of the Far North and of natural history is being presented by George H. Hamilton. The title is the same as that made famous by the author in his remarkable tale of the great wolf-dog known as "Kazan the Killer," and the story has to do with a gripping tragedy and a love affair which wander through many nooks and corners of a Northern Wilderness little known to man. The piece does resistance of this unusual photodrama is the wonderful lesson of faithfulness taught by the dog "Kazan." His master foully murdered, Kazan turns against all mankind until he feels the friendly touch of the hand of beautiful Joan Radisson, a lovely flower in an otherwise hostile wilderness. Kazan never forgets the murder of his master and he never forgets the act of this girl in setting him free, though he becomes a savage and joins a wolf pack. Later when this pack sets upon the girl and a man "mushing" across the snows to reach her dying father, Kazan fights off the wolves and saves the couple. Once more he comes to her rescue when a wolf in human form presses his unwelcome attentions on her in a lonely cabin. And finally he "gets" his prey, the man who killed his master and who has come between this girl and her lover. Triumph and happiness crown the protracted efforts of the couple to combat many obstacles, for Kazan shows them the way. Overture "Romantic" by Allen Premier Concert orchestra. Remember the Allen is the only theatre in this city with a modern, up-to-date ventilating plant, insuring a continual supply of pure air.—Adv.

The world-famous photo-drama of Creation, which has been exhibited in every city of any note throughout the world, and of recent date in all the larger centres throughout Canada, to capacity houses (hundreds being turned away), under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association, is now about to be exhibited in Kingston under the auspices of the local branch of the society, and as is usual with undertakings of the International Bible Students the seats are free and there is no collection.

This wonderful drama is without doubt the most marvellous production of its kind ever undertaken. The original pictures cost years of time and millions of money; no expense has been spared in securing the best artistic skill in their production for the purpose of the Bible Students. It has well been said that the four parts of this photo-drama and their lectures are more valuable than a year's course in college.

One of the chief aims of the International Bible Students' Association in producing the drama is the promotion of peace and righteousness by increasing intelligent faith in the Bible and in God, its author. It is expected that all who witness the four parts of the photo-drama of Creation will be enthused. (1) Their reverence for the Creator will be greater. (2) Their sympathy for poor fallen humanity will be stronger. (3) Their determination for righteousness will be firmer. (4) Their appreciation of peace and detestation of war will be established.

The time required to show the drama is, all told, six hours, and it is, therefore, shown in four parts, although each part is complete in itself. Some prefer one part, some another. But they are all so different, all so beautiful, all so entrancing, that many know not which they like most, and would not miss any of them if obliged to pay a dollar's seat. Which part you see first matters little, though there would be a slight preference to most of us to see them in numerical order.

Part 1 traces Creation from star nebula to the Deluge and its causes on to Abraham's time.

Part 2 begins with Melchisedec, leading through Israel's experiences to the Babylonian captivity.

Part 3 extends from Daniel's time to Jesus' advent, His sufferings and exaltation.

Part 4 takes us from Pentecost, through the "dark ages" and onward into the millennium.

The International Bible Students' Association aims to teach four main principles through the presentation of this drama. 1. Recognition of Jehovah as Creator and Sustainer of the universe. 2. Faith in His only begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ as Redeemer of the world through His sacrificial death. 3. Faith in the Bible as the inspired Word of God, relative to His great plan of redemption, explaining portions misunderstood. 4. A clean and honorable life now and hope of immortality hereafter.

None Too Old to Enjoy Drama

Its films, colored pictures and panoramas represent years of labor and much money. Nothing like it has ever before been attempted. The International Bible Students' Association furnishes the drama, complete in every detail, to the people of any community offering suitable auditorium and publicity.

The association merely insists that the message is for all people, and must be shown free and without collection.—Adv.

A grey-haired man was in police court Saturday morning, charged with stealing coal from the Grand Trunk Railway. He admitted picking it up along the tracks. As the accused had never been before the court before, Magistrate Farrell did not care to impose a sentence, so allowed the accused to go on suspended sentence.

G.T.R. CREW CAPTURED IN RUM-RUNNING RAID

Customs Officers Surprised the Daring Smugglers Near Sherbrooke, Que.

Sherbrooke, Que., May 14.—The entire crew of a Grand Trunk freight train was captured in a spectacular raid yesterday on rum-runners at Grand Point. All of the liquor smugglers with the exception of one, Carl Peavy, escaped. According to reports the train was run by two auto-mobiles loaded with liquor. Customs officials raided the party. Engineer Toland, Conductor Danforth and brakeman Regie were hailed before U.S. Commissioner W. H. Cleary and were placed under bail of $500 to appear at the United States court at Windsor, Vermont, this month. A large quantity of liquor was seized by the officers.

Big Flying Boat Passes Over City

The large American flying boat "Santa Maria," under command of Dr. J. W. Inches, commissioner of police, City of Detroit, Mich., passed over the city Friday at 5.30 p.m. on its long journey of over 2,000 miles. The air craft was to have stopped in Kingston, but owing to the necessity of making some repairs at Montreal, it was delayed there longer than planned, and the stop could not be made at Kingston. Dr. Inches, who is a brother of Mrs. T. D. R. Hemming, came from Montreal on Thursday and paid her a visit. The party was scheduled to reach Kingston on Thursday when an opportunity would have been given to citizens to see this very interesting aircraft which is named after the famous ship of Christopher Columbus and is one of the largest type of flying boats in use.

Died in Effort to Save Sum of $5,000

Kemptville, Ont., May 14.—The funeral of the late Miss Mary Raymond, burned to death when her home was destroyed by fire, took place Thursday afternoon, from the orchard adjoining where the residence once stood, to the South Gower cemetery. The Raymond farm is about five miles southeast of Kemptville, on the Heckston road. As far as could be learned, the late Miss Raymond rushed into her home when it was burning fiercely to save $5,000. She was not missed until the building was almost completely destroyed and no trace of her could be found. When the fire burned out her body was found among the smouldering ruins. From the location where the body was found it is believed that she had made her way into the house and up to the top of the stairs on the second floor where she was overcome by smoke and afterwards burned. Deceased was seventy-six years of age.

Col. A. Adams, D.S.O., O.B.E., Royal Engineers, a graduate of the Royal Military College, who was stationed at Cairo, Egypt, during the great war, is seriously ill in Monte Carlo, where he was ordered by his physician. Mrs. Adams and her mother, the Hon. Mrs. Fox, are with Col. Adams.

Examination of the Hon. Robert Rogers, a witness for the defense in the suit that Lord Atholstan has taken to recover some $82,000 from the Tarte family as owners of La Patrie, was postponed at Montreal until Wednesday next.

CHAMBERLAIN'S

Old Age and Happiness
Old age should mean experience, knowledge and wisdom. Not poor digestion, sluggish liver and a general feeling of ill-health, despondency and misery. One of Chamberlain's Tablets taken immediately after dinner will improve the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels. That feeling of despondency will give way to one of hope and good cheer. Try Chamberlain's Tablets. You'll like them.

Other fine features will be on for the day also.

POTATOES POTATOES

Spuds Rule the Largest Market Of 1921.

Potatoes, in bags, in boxes, in crates, on wagons and automobiles greeted the eyes of the marketers on Saturday morning. The high-toned $7 mурphy of last spring was indeed far many of them with nothing but potatoes, and consequently the price went even lower than last Saturday. The starting price was 75c per bag, but before noon many bags were sold for 50c and in loads at even less.

Butter took another drop. Opening at 40c it gradually worked down until some sold for 30c. Two or three merchants secured large supplies at 25c per pound. Eggs went no further down the list, but hovered at the last week's price of 25c and 30c a dozen.

Although potatoes perhaps took first place in quantity, the usual formidable array of green stuff, in harmony with the season, was offered for sale at the usual reasonable prices. May flowers and large clusters of lilacs brightened the tops of many wagons and were offered for sale. The turnout to Saturday morning's market was the best in 1921, due no doubt to the wet condition of the ground which made it impossible to work in the fields and to the desire of the farmers to get rid of their 1920 stocks early.

New Promotion Manager.

Toronto, May 14.—Arthur Partridge, at one time of the St. John, N.B., Globe, but more recently of the Worcester, Mass., Telegram, and the Rochester, N. Y., Post Dispatch, has been appointed advertising promotion manager of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association. He served in the Canadian and American armies.

Efforts on the part of Polish insurrectionaries to create in the plebeian area of Upper Silesia a situation similar to that which existed in Fiume during D'Annunzio's regime are sternly opposed by Great Britain.

In his own defence Roy (Patsy) Hotrum, charged with the murder of Cecil Sabine, Toronto druggist, declared under oath that Wm. McFarlane was the man who fired the fatal shot.

An unsuccessful attempt was made Saturday morning to rescue Arthur Griffiths, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, from his confinement in Mountjoy prison, Dublin.

PRESENTATION MADE
The Chinese department of Sydenham Street Methodist Sunday school held a meeting on Friday evening, and Rev. W. T. G. Brown, Mrs. Brown and Miss Rogers were guests. A pleasing feature was the presentation to Mr. Brown of a handsome leather-bound set of George Elliot's works, and Miss Rogers, who has been a valued teacher in the Chinese department, and who now goes to Montreal with the expert branch of the firm of James Richardson and Sons, Limited, a set of Dumas' works, also beautifully bound in leather. The teachers presented Miss Rogers with an ivory clothes brush. Appropriate addresses were given, expressing deep appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Miss Rogers, whose removal from Kingston is a cause for sincere regret.
