THE U.F.O.
What R. J. Bushell Thinks it Really Stands For.
Farmers' Sun, Toronto.
There have been many definitions of the United Farmers' organization, which leads one to conjecture as to what it really is.
Some have described it as a modern organization for preserving from destruction the "Golden Rule," and they are correct.
Others have defined it as a body of representative farmers selected to purify commercial methods in respective branches of industry. And they are right.
Then it has been declared to be a new order of men of integrity, with the object of improving conditions in the community in which they dwell, so that those whose circumstances are such that they have not been able to enjoy some of the privileges the more fortunate have, and are given the opportunity to do so. And this declaration is proper and good.

It has also been spoken of as an association of the leading farmers of our country, who gather at bi-monthly meetings to become better acquainted with each other and discuss their business methods and problems for the purpose of helping the other man wherever and whenever possible, and also creating a more friendly spirit in their business, and even extending it to the social world. And their description of the United Farmers is also fit and proper.
But I would define it in a broader sense. I would say it is a co-operation of the highest order—not only distinct classes of farmers co-operating to obtain not only a better state for the farmer, but for all business men. A body of representative men co-operating with God as a tribune to arouse the conscience of all men, so they will realize it is their duty to conform their lives to His standard of living as laid down in His commandments.

PROCESSION OF CLERGY AT SYNOD SERVICE

An Interesting Feature of the Annual Sessions at St. George's.

The procession of the Anglican clergy from the Wellington street door of St. George's hall, along Johnson street to the Main entrance of the cathedral, vested in cassock, surplice and hood, to the synod service, is one of the interesting sights of synod week and on Tuesday evening the large procession was led by Rev. W. E. Kidd, followed by the choir, the lay delegates, the clergy, canons, archdeacons, chancellor, dean, Rev. J. H. H. Coleman, of Napanee, bearing the episcopal staff, the bishop with his chaplains, Canon FitzGerald and Rev. A. F. Whalley, Brockville, and the clerical secretary, Canon J. W. Jones.

As the procession entered the church, the organ began the hymn "We Love The Place, O God," taken up by the choir, lay delegates, clergy and congregation with splendid effect. Canon Austin Smith, Cataract, precentor of synod, sang the service, the first lesson was read by Rev. L. E. Davis, St. Paul's, Brockville, and the second by Rev. H. R. Pettem, Bancroft.

The bishop delivered his charge, and after he had pronounced the benediction, the procession returned to the hall in the same order, singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."

Demand on Poor Relief Very Pressing Just Now
"The unemployment in the city is causing great distress among workmen and their families" said Mrs. John Wright, president of the local poor relief committee, on Wednesday morning. The charities of the committee have been greatly extended during the past few months, and the demands made upon their generosity are very pressing. All needy cases are being cared for, however, and sunshine is being brought to a number of homes where the outlook is dark indeed.

TEUTONS STREW FLOWERS

Upon the Famous Black Watch as it Marches into Oppeln.
Oppeln, June 1.—The first battalion of the Black Watch arrived here on Monday, and was met by hundreds of children, who threw flowers at the British soldiers. They broke into the marching squads, trying to hold the soldiers' hands, and shouting gleefully as the bagpipes screeched the music of the march.

The residents of the place lined the sidewalks smilingly, and the men doffed their hats as the killed troops passed. The Scotsmen were pleased at the reception, and patted the children's heads, and exchanged greetings with the crowd.
The German Green Police stood at rigid salute until the whole column was by, then went laughing about their duties.

The first train, due to arrive in the morning, reached here about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, while the streets were virtually deserted, but the moment it was known that the British arrived, men, women and children began running from every direction toward the station, where the battalion formed for the march to the barracks.
As the column wheeled into the narrow, winding main street two horsemen cleared the way and kept careful eye on a number of civilians with rifles on their backs, but there was apparent friendliness on every hand, and anxiety vanished. From every window handkerchiefs were waved, and women threw flowers on the heads of the troops. Some of them wept.
The expression was repeatedly heard from the crowds: "The Poles now have something to reckon with." The Italians appear eager to cooperate with the British in driving out the insurgents; they have heard that this was the plan. An Italian officer remarked: "It is high time they let us loose on these fellows."

The Black Watch will be quartered here until the remainder of the British forces arrives. It is said they will then be ready to take the field within a week.

New Tariff Regulations Are Put Into Effect

Windsor, June 1.—New tariff regulations by which importers of potatoes, wheat and wheat flour from the United States are required to pay a duty of 20 cents on a bag of potatoes, 12 cents a bushel on wheat, and 50 cents on a barrel of flour, went into effect yesterday at border points. The Canadian tariff, which corresponds with the United States Emergency Tariff, has been on the Dominion statute books for some time, according to A. T. Montreuil, collector of customs at Windsor, but never enforced because there was no similar tariff in the United States.
