Minimum Wage Act. Local merchants are much interested in the new minimum wage act which has prescribed the wages which must be paid to retail clerks.

Although there are many young ladies working in the stores who will not be affected by the provision that experienced help must be paid at least $12.50 a week, there are others who will be affected by the measure. It is understood that a meeting of the local retail merchants' association is to be held very soon to consider the new measure.

Orphans Entertained. A royal entertainment was given for the children at the Orphans' Home and St. Mary's-of-the-Lake orphanage on Friday evening by the members of the Rotary Club. Fireworks galore were exploded, much to the delight of the children. The children were also treated to candy and other delicacies, and the evening was concluded with songs and the national anthem.

Gunn, Toronto, presented the Bixhall shield and other trophies won in the inter-company athletic competitions held during the term just closed. The Bixhall shield was donated by the Bixhall College, England, and this was the first presentation of it.

Addresses were delivered and the occasion was one of great enjoyment.

FINE OPTICAL PARLORS.

Best's Drug Store Goes Into This Line on Larger Scale.

Best's Drug Store, well-known to all Kingstonians, has just lately made several additions to its equipment, among them being the acquisition of a complete new and large optical department. This department will be in charge of Dr. Chapas, a graduate medical doctor and optometrist, who comes here from Windsor to take up the work. If you have not met Dr. Chapas you soon will, as he is a good "mixer" as well as a first class optometrist.

The new department has been fitted up in the rear of the drug store and is complete in every detail. The reading test chart has the advantage that it has the full distance required by regulations without the use of any mirrors and many other features of the finer optical rooms are new ones to this city. Two of the most modern operating chairs obtainable are expected to arrive at any time which will make the parlors finished in every detail.

Outside the consulting and working rooms of the department there is a large roomy waiting-room, fitted up comfortably for clients in every way, with comfortable chairs and couches and beautiful finishings in colors restful to the eyes.

Mr. Best has done work of this kind himself at his store before now, but he was not able to devote the time to it that it needed and he therefore conceived the idea of enlarging his store to take in an optical department and then bringing in an associate. Dr. Chapas, who is conducting the department, has had long experience in this sort of work and the fact that he is a medical doctor makes him all the more suited to advise and care for the eyes of the people of the city. The new venture also has a new policy which customers will learn who take advantage of the excellent service offered.
