SOME STARTLING CHANGES

Two Prominent Men Resign From Musical Firms to Join New Company.

Canadian Music Trades Journal. To the many friends of Thos. Nash it will be a great surprise to learn of his having resigned the position of general manager of His Master's Voice, Ltd., and from the directorate of that firm and of Berliner Gramophone Co., Ltd., of Montreal, he having severed all connection with both firms on the last day of March.

For the future, Mr. Nash will be connected with the Compo Company, manufacturers of Sun Records, Canada's first independent record pressing plant, which was established two or three years ago at Lachine, Que., by H. S. Berliner, whose resignation from the vice-presidency and general management of Berliner Gramophone Co., Ltd., and from the vice-presidency and directorship of His Master's Voice, Ltd., is also reported in this issue.

Mr. Nash joined the forces of His Master's Voice, Limited, in 1911, in the capacity of road salesman. His executive capacity and organizing ability soon brought him to the front rank and it was not long before he was placed in charge of sales and was eventually elected, to the board of directors and made general manager of His Master's Voice, Limited, and a director of Berliner Gramophone Co., Ltd. Incidentally he, at the same time, became the highest salaried talking machine man in Canada.

To his energy, enthusiasm and organizing ability is in a great measure due the position of prominence attained by "His Master's Voice" products in the phonograph and record field. He has developed a remarkably intimate acquaintance with the business of his customers from coast to coast during his decade of activity with his late firm and is acquainted with all "His Master's Voice" retailers in Canada.

During the regime of Mr. Nash, branch distributing warehouses were established in Halifax, Montreal and Calgary, while the Toronto branch was several times outgrown by the volume of business developed. He instituted a policy of service that was not only the pride of himself and associates, but a source of satisfaction and profit to the retailers, who had learned to depend upon Mr. Nash seeing that their orders would be filled immediately and shipped by the first express out following receipt thereof.

Another startling announcement in the phonograph industry is the resignation of H. S. Berliner from the vice-presidency and general management of the Berliner Gramophone Company, Limited, Montreal, and the directorate and vice-presidency of His Master's Voice, Limited.

Simultaneously with Mr. Berliner's resignation were also the resignations of Mr. Nash, general manager of His Master's Voice, Limited, Elmer Avery, recording expert, and Mr. St. Eve, factory superintendent of Berliner Gramophone Company, Limited, as well as Mr. Berliner's secretary, Miss I. Kelly. The news of the resignation of these outstanding figures in the talking machine business of Canada came like a bombshell just before we went to press.

Mr. Berliner's resignation, however, does not mean the severance of his activities in the record business of Canada. With the gentlemen above named associated with him, he will devote himself to the business of the Compo Company, manufacturers of Sun Records, at Lachine, P.Q., and the ramifications of that firm.

This latter concern was established by Mr. Berliner in 1918 and is Canada's first independent record factory, where a number of the United States companies have their Canadian records made for them. The factory at Lachine, under the supervision of J. McWilliams, is equipped right up to date with plating, pressing, testing, label printing, packing and shipping departments. A record material plant is being added, and in the way of plant and equipment there is not a more completely equipped record plant in the world.

H. S. Berliner assumed active charge of the Berliner Gramophone Company, Limited, in 1910, and those who have followed the fortunes of this concern have seen it grow under his guidance from a very small business to the great dominant talking machine business of Canada which it is today. A perfect kaleidoscope of victories in the manufacturing, selling and legal field is presented by the history of this company since Mr. Berliner first took it in hand.

Just a year ago he gave the contracts for the present mammoth factory of the Berliner Gramophone Company, illustrations of which have appeared in these columns, and which has just been completed, ready for occupancy. He will be succeeded in the vice-presidency of his late firm by E. M. Berliner.

Following his resignation, Mr. Berliner was presented with a handsome testimonial of appreciation by the office, selling and factory staff, with which he was so intimately associated for the past decade. This was in the shape of a magnificent suit case, equipped with sterling silver fittings, monogrammed, and including a plate engraved as follows: Presented to Herbert S. Berliner by The Manufacturing, Selling and Office Staff of the Berliner Gramophone Co., Ltd., as a mark of esteem upon his retirement as managing director.

A BIG LUMBER CASE

An Interesting Trial On To Decide The Division of The Limits.

A lumber case is before the supreme court. It is between the Golden Lake Lumber Co. (controlled by Hon. M. J. O'Brien, Renfrew) and J. R. Booth, Ottawa. The action, in which the amount involved is about $40,000, is really to decide whether a straight line or one conforming with the contour of two rivers shall form the boundary between timber limits belonging to John R. Booth and the Golden Lake Lumber Company in the district north-west of Pembroke.

The Golden Lake Lumber Company claims that Mr. Booth has trespassed on its timber lease, and has cut its timber to the extent of a million feet. Mr. Booth has replied that if such trespass did take place it was during a time when the Golden Lake Lumber Company had failed to pay the ground rent levied by the government, and that, therefore, the land had reverted back to the crown. This contention brings the attorney-general into the case. The trespass, if any, is said to have taken place in 1914, and it was some time after this that Senator O'Brien took over the Golden Lake Lumber Company. For some time previous to 1909 the Golden Lake Lumber Company's limits were the property of McLachlin Bros.

Mr. Booth's limits front on the Petawawa river and those of the Golden Lake Lumber Company on the Bonnechere river. The licenses granting timber rights to these two companies stated that the south boundary of the limits owned by Mr. Booth and the north boundary of the Golden Lake Lumber Company's limits should be a line half-way between the two rivers. The court is now asked to determine what is this boundary.

The Golden Lake Lumber Company claims that the wording of the license should be taken literally, and that the boundary should be an even line conforming to the twists and bends of both rivers. Mr. Booth claims that, according to the survey of 1844 and others since that date, which survey plans have always been the accepted ones, the boundary should be a straight line. The parties have only recently approached the point of contact, as they have been working nearer the rivers.

Playgrounds of Quebec.

To the summer vacationist weary of the conventional summer resorts, the Province of Quebec makes an especially strong appeal. The old and the new are here found side by side. The visitor may tread where some of the great pages of history have been written in blood. The lover of the quaint and curious may search out places which are in the twentieth century but are not of it. The artist may revel in the sight of the grandest of scenery amid the mountains, in the valleys and—on the Gaspé Peninsula—by the sea. For the sportsman there are unrivalled forests and streams, lakes and shores. Within a day's journey of the cities are regions as yet so little disturbed that the moose, caribou and deer occasionally visit the farmyards of the settlers. Among the cities are the commercial capital of Canada, Montreal—"A happy combination of New York and Paris, with a dash of New Orleans giving it spice and flavor," and the oldest city on the American continent, Quebec. The Canadian National Grand Trunk Railway have issued a very handsome booklet, descriptive of many of the attractive summer resorts in Quebec. It is profusely illustrated and contains a splendid four color map of the Province of Quebec. A free copy for the asking from Canadian National Grand Trunk Agents, or from J. P. Hanley, C. P. & T. A., G. T. Ry., Kingston, Ont.

Causing Interest

The controversy between R. J. Bushell, U.F.O., and Dr. J. W. Edwards, which is appearing in the Whig, has aroused great interest throughout the country among the adherents of both parties, and a large audience is assured any time these two politicians meet on the same platform.

TWICE TOLD TALES News of Kingston TEN YEARS AGO. The Adsett brothers, Gordon and Stanley, have been appointed caretakers of the fair grounds. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO. Adam Swanson, baker, resident on Pine street, found his horse's throat cut when he went to the pasture this morning. No reason can be thought of for the miserable tragedy. The work of grading the grounds about the dairy school has started. Quite a warm time ensued in the city council over an agreement concerning the sale of old tramway metal by the city. What She Called For. Young people visiting the movies are reluctant to leave when the performance ends. They frequently wait to see the picture repeated. Recently a little girl appeared at the ticket booth of a movie playhouse with a small basket and appealingly asked the woman in charge, "Missus, may I go in to speak to my big sister?" "I'm sorry," said the woman. "You are not permitted to enter unless accompanied by your parents or a guardian." "Please, missus," she coaxed, showing the contents of the basket, "I won't be long; I just want to give my sister her supper."
