Ponies Easily Win From Hull, 16 to 7

The Ponies had an easy time Monday evening beating the Hull, Quebec, team, when they won by a score of 16 to 7. The game was in places a poor exhibition of ball on the part of the visitors, when in the fifth St. Pierre went up in the air and the Ponies got seven hits and two runs, and in the sixth when fourteen-year-old Hull pitcher, the eighteen-year-old Hull pitcher, and ten runs were made. The locals played steady ball and cut down on a lot of the errors. Stewart on his first appearance slammed out a homer into the cars in centre field scoring Thompson who was on base. He also secured a single and a double out of six times at the plate. Daley while not coming up to his average of Saturday got three hits out of four chances, snatching a triple, a double and a single.

Gallagher pitched the whole game and struck out seven, walked two and is credited with three hits out of four times at bat. St. Pierre who started struck out four and walked two and Gariepy who followed let in ten runs, and walked six and struck out three before he tightened up. Proulx was in the game all the time and got a nice two bagger in the sixth. Stroud the first baseman batted well getting a triple and a double.

The Ponies started right off in the first when Thompson was walked and came in on Stewart's home run. Daley got to first on a hit but was put out when Saunders got the choice. Saunders stole second and came in on Arnell's hit, Cherry having walked and he also scored when Miller fumbled Arnell's one sacker. Again in the fifth, they began to feel St. Pierre and collected seven hits Stewart getting first on a hit and second and third on errors of Pilon, and was brought in by Daley's hit, Saunders fled to first, and Daley was caught at third in a double play. Cherry got a single and was advanced by Twigg and came in on an error over second and Arnell's hit. Arnell retired the side when he passed over second without touching the bag. In the sixth Hornbeck replaced Daley on the second time around in the batting order. In this inning, Gariepy gave six hits and walked four giving the Ponies ten runs, which put the game safe. Gallagher, Thompson and Stewart crossed the plate twice each and also Saunders, Cherry, Twigg and Arnell contributed one apiece.

Hull made their best attempts to over take the lead in the seventh and eighth when Stroud, Pilon, Gariepy counted in the former, and Miller and Pilon in the eighth. The teams meet again to-night and a much better exhibition is looked for, as the visitors after playing Sunday.

Mild Epidemic Going Round

It is due to impurities in the water, causes cramps, diarrhoea, headache. Those who take twenty drops of Nerviline in sweetened water usually get quick relief. It is really wonderful how good old Nerviline fixes up a sour upset stomach, how it stops hiccoughs, how quickly it puts a stop to those nasty attacks of gas. Every home should keep a bottle or two of trusty old Nerviline on hand. 35 cents everywhere.

day travelled all night by motor car to get here on time and were showing the effects of the long trip last evening. After the rest they got today they ought to be able to put up a much better fight.

Dempsey Had Reputation For Gameness Only

Jack Kearns, manager of world's champion Jack Dempsey, was something of a boxer himself in his earlier days. Kearns was never a world-beater in the ring but he fought a number of battles before he abandoned the actual scrapping for the comparatively easy life of a manager. But the fighting end of the game did not give sufficient play to Jack's rather obvious managerial talents. He gradually drew a number of boxers under his managerial wing—Abe Attell, Eddie McGoorty, Jimmy Clabby, Billy Kramer and Fighting Billy Murray were a few of the many boxers handled by Kearns before he abandoned them all for Jack Dempsey. Kearns met Dempsey in a San Francisco hotel in 1917. Dempsey asked Kearns to manage him and Kearns, not having a very choice collection of boxers under his wing at the time, agreed. Dempsey at that time possessed little except remarkable gameness, according to Kearns, but the manager set to work to develop him into a good boxer. What Kearns could not do particularly well in the ring himself, he could teach effectively to another. The crowning triumph of Kearns' career as a manager came with the signing of the articles for the Willard-Dempsey fight at Toledo. When the battle was over Kearns was the manager of a new world's champion.

Hutchison's 1-Stroke feat Has Only Two Precedents

At St. Andrews, Scotland, the marvelous shot made by Jock Hutchison, holding out at the eighth hole in only one stroke, has only two precedents in championship play. In 1872 James Anderson held the championship in one shot, winning the match and the championship by one stroke. The other was at Deal, England, last year when Abe Mitchell holed out the eighth in one, while playing in the open golf championship match. This week Jock Hutchison used his masher from the tee, pitching the ball to within four feet of the pin, whence it rolled beautifully into the cup.

EARLY DAYS OF CRICKET.

Large Stakes Were Played for When George III Was King. A good deal of money still changes hands over cricket matches, but it is not in the form of stakes. We no longer hear of one team playing another for a specific stake, says Answers. Formerly, however, large sums were played for. One thousand guineas, it seems, were the ordinary stakes in county matches at the close of the eighteenth century. Taking up the "Sporting Magazine" for 1793, one may read how twenty-two of Middlesex won that sum from eleven of England, at Lord's, on August 26th, of that year, and in the return match, on September 9th, won another thousand guineas from the eleven of Hants. Surrey also played All England, and Essex played Herts, on the same terms. Altogether a good deal of money must have changed pockets between the wickets of Lord's when George III was King. In the very early days of cricket the government of the day did not view with favor the popular love of games. In 1477 an Act of Parliament made the players of certain games, including "hand in hand" (played with a ball and a shaped stick, and supposed to have been the primitive form of cricket), liable to two years' imprisonment and their implements to be burnt. The genius of Hobbs in that dark age would most probably have been rewarded with incarceration in the Tower instead of a "benefit."

BOSTON'S BASEBALL DRIVE.

Former Toronto Pitchers, Given Credit for Braves' Punch. Chances that the Boston Braves, directed by two of the men who had considerable to do with the great dash of the team to a National League pennant and a world's championship in 1914, will repeat this season, are being seriously considered by baseball experts who have watched the team in its series against the New York Giants in New York. Manager Mitchell, of the 1921 Braves, was the first lieutenant of George Stallings, the manager in 1914, directing the work of the pitchers that season. Dick Rudolph, veteran hurler, who is now Mitchell's right-hand man, was the Braves' most effective pitcher in that campaign that carried the Boston team, in last position on July 4th to the pinnacle of major league baseball. The combined efforts of Mitchell and Rudolph now have the "Big Four" of the Braves' pitching staff, McQuillan, Fillingim, Oeschger and Scott, working smoothly despite the hazards of the "lively ball." The team is batting well and is fielding aggressively.

Club Handicap II.

Friday and Saturday, July 1st and 2nd, 35 hole medal competition. Separate sweepstakes will be held on each day for members not able to play both days. Competitors may enter for both events simultaneously.

Mixed Foursome, Handicap.

Entries for this event are due on Wednesday of this week and may be telephoned to the professional at the club-house. Frenchmen are still slow to back their confidence in Georges Carpentier with money. Several wagers of $5,000 to $10,000 francs that Carpentier will lose have been taken by Frenchmen, but they are holding out for 3 to 1 on Dempsey. Americans in Paris have millions of francs to bet on Carpentier money, but there is very little in sight.

Earl Thompson Equals World's Hurdle Mark

University of Illinois won first place in the National Collegiate Athletic Association meet at Stagg field in Chicago, Saturday, with 20 1-4 points. Notre Dame was second with 16 3-4. The feature single event of the day was the feat of Earl Thompson of Dartmouth, Canadian Olympic champion, who equalled his own world's record of 14 2-5 in the 120-yard high hurdles. Thompson might have beaten his record but for a poor start which left him slightly off stride at the first barrier and a slip which hounded him to tip over the fourth.

TO BE A BIG GO.

It is almost a sure thing that Johnny Wilson, world's middleweight champion, will defend his title in a fifteen-round decision match with Mike Gibbons in Brooklyn, Aug. 8th. If the go is closed, it will be staged at Ebbet's Field, which has a seating capacity of 20,000 persons. Wilson will receive a guarantee of $35,000, with an option of taking forty per cent. of the gross receipts.
