"FOOL'S GOLD" AT THE MINT
By CHARLES GRANT MILLER
(Copyright, 1921. All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate.)

A pathetic story comes from Tomsk, Siberia, of a family of ignorant peasants arriving on foot, after travelling 3,000 miles with a wagon filled with a supposed fortune in gold and finding on arrival at the mint that the value of the treasure was only $10. It was "fool's gold."

It would require an extraordinary power of imagination to picture in detail the hopes that were centred upon that wagon load of supposed gold.

In the shine of the metal that poor peasant family saw reflected a new world. Cold and want and sacrifice and fear were to be theirs no more. The unspesable hardships of the 3,000 mile journey on foot through Siberian snows and wilds must have been tragical in the extreme, but—

Ah, the journey home again. The glorious prospect recompensed for everything. Did the father's shoes wear through, leaving his barefeet to be cut and bruised by the frozen ground? Well, he would soon have the best boots that money could buy. The child shivering and crying with the cold was hushed with promises that, forever after, warm clothes would be plentiful, and tops and sweets. The worn mother, with her babe at her breast, forgot her weariness and her woe, dreaming of the days to come when the glitter of the gold would be turned into perpetual sunshine.

Who can tell all the dreams that the poor dare to dream at the prospect of sudden wealth?

The miseries and the grinding toil and the hopelessness that wealth relieves are so near to them, so constantly with them, that to have them lifted seems to have opened the gates of heaven. They know nothing of the cares wealth brings; they know only the cares it relieves.

We shudder with this poor, deluded peasant family, but maybe we had better do some shuddering for ourselves as well.

How many of us are carrying only "fool's gold" to the mind of Life?

How many of us are making our journey of life a hard and a hopeless one, by the load of selfishness, greed and worry we are carrying to the great mint, there to lay it all down as utterly worthless.

Hit His 72nd Birthday.
Heartily will be the congratulations to W. J. Keeley on his attainment to-day of his seventy-second birthday. "Billy" is still as active and humorous as he was forty years ago, when as a comedian and singer he delighted audiences all over Canada. Mr. Keeley is as pure a jewel as any he has handled in his long business career.

Death Came From War Shock.
A message was received by H. Tracy, Beachburg, announcing the death of his eldest son, Thomas, in Battleford Provincial Military Hospital. For a number of years he lived in the west, and served overseas in the late war, his illness of eight months and subsequent death, being the result of shock received while on active service. Deceased was forty-two years of age, and unmarried.

Improving The Service.
The Bell Telephone Company is spending over $2,000 in Wellington by installing new cables. A gang of six men were busy last week, and three more joined them on Monday. This will provide a better service, and will prevent some of the lines being put out of commission during storms. Foreman Roach is in charge of the gang.

Campaign For Hospital.
The drive for the Pembroke Cottage Hospital extension fund is now well under way. The largest subscription so far received is that from the ever-generous E. A. Dunlop, who has contributed $10,000, an amount which has given encouragement to the campaign workers and which in every sense does credit to the donor. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bell, Sudbury, have given a good lead to former Pembroke people by a generous subscription of $5,000, while Col. and Mrs. H. J. Mackie have also done handsomely with a subscription of $2,000.

Electric Storage Battery Car.
The Edison electric storage battery car, which was accepted as a sample car on a month's trial by the Canadian National Railways stood up under the test and the officials, we understand, are more than pleased with the experiment. The short run from Trenton to Belleville was selected and proved a decided success. The last trip was made on Sunday, and Monday the car was sent to Campbellton, N.B., where it will be put on a more permanent run, to Bathurst, a distance of sixty-three miles daily. As a result of the trial, it is likely that this class of car will be built in Canada, all perhaps except the batteries, which are under Edison patent.

The Late W. J. Kells.
Word has been received of the death in New Jersey of William J. Kells, president and general manager of the Kells Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of the Kells automobile radiators, which were the invention of the deceased. The late Mr. Kells was born at Sunbury sixty-six years ago, and was a son of the late Robert Kells. At seventeen years of age he went to Watertown, N.Y., and eventually became the superintendent of the Hitchcock Lamp Co. Twenty years ago he transferred to New York, where he was very successful in the manufacturing business. Since last March he has been in poor health, and passed away at his home in Palisades, N.J., on Sunday. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Effie Kells Hollenbeck, of Palisades, N. J.

THE INDIFFERENCE

of the Coal Consumer has resulted in such a small demand for coal at the mines, that they are being operated only at about one-half their usual capacity.

Unless Coal is mined during the summer, the Mines will not be able to meet the winter's demand.

It is therefore advisable for consumers who can do so, to buy and receive their coal early and thus insure a full winter's supply.
