Save Your Eyes

Indigestion

It is not generally known that a large percentage of this trouble is caused directly from the eyes—an eye strain will rob the nerves of the digestive organ of their full ability to function, causing apparent indigestion.

We can tell if it is your eyes causing or not.

WARNING TO HIGHWAYMEN

To Beware of Kingston Doctor Who Will Shoot to Kill.

The holdup fraternity must not get away with the idea that everybody is afraid of them and that all motorists they meet on the roads out of the city are going to hold up their hands when they issue the order. Not on your tin type, and here is a little story for some of these road cowards: It occurred one night this week. A Kingston doctor was driving back to the city in his car in company with a friend. It was quite dark, and a short distance ahead two men suddenly stood out in the road and held up their hands for the car to stop. The doctor pulled a big revolver and levelled it at the men on the road, but just as he came close they hailed him for a lift to town. They proved to be two acquaintances, but they had a narrow escape. The doctor advised them to never accost him again like that on a road at night, in these days of holdups, for he had determined that he would get in the first few shots in any mix-up he might encounter and he would shoot to kill. As this doctor is a good huntsman and accurate shot, it will go hard with any highwaymen who call upon him to stop and yield.

END LITIGATION OVER HOUSE

An Agreement Entered Into by All Parties.

All of the litigation between Orrin S. DeWitt of Syracuse, nephew of the late Colonel Orrin G. Staples of Washington and Alexandria Bay, Mrs. Cecelia K. Staples McCormick and John W. Childress, executors of the Staples estate, and William H. Warburton, manager of the Thousand Island House, a part of the Staples estate at Alexandria Bay, has been ended by an agreement entered into among Mr. DeWitt, the executors and Mr. Warburton. The actions started by Mr. DeWitt sought recovery of about $100,000 in damages and rentals.

The settlement agreement provides that the five per cent. difference in the gross receipts between the DeWitt lease and the Warburton lease shall be divided between the Staples estate and Mr. DeWitt equally, which means that the estate instead of receiving 15 per cent. as now will receive 12 1/2 per cent. and Mr. DeWitt will receive two and one-half per cent. from now until the lease terminates. Mr. Warburton will remain in possession of the property and will pay Mr. DeWitt $2,500 for occupancy of the property up to the present time. The agreement further provides for the surrender to Mr. DeWitt certain notes which he had given Colonel Staples and which are now held by the executors.

THE FARMERS COMPLAIN.

The Grain is Showing Stunted Growth This Weather.

The farmers of this district are complaining about the extremely dry weather, the effect is beginning to be shown in stunted growth of grain which needs rain to fill out the heads. The corn, too, while doing best during hot weather, is not heading out owing to the prolonged heat, and while there is a good height of stalk rain is badly needed to bring it to proper maturity. Hay is a failure in many localities and this is reflected in the advance in price from $14 to $24 for baled No. 1 hay. This is quite a jump in the price of hay at this season, and the dairy farmers are looking forward mainly to the corn crop now for silage feeding during the coming winter.

Given a Surprise.

At the diamond anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bennett, Madoc Junction, a surprise was given the guests when Mr. Alvin C. White and Miss Florence L. Lyons, Toronto, were united in marriage by the uncle of the groom, Rev. T. Porter Bennett, Sydney, Nebraska, assisted by Rev. George McQuade, West Huntingdon. The bride and groom were assisted by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bennett, the bride and groom of sixty years ago.

Has Done Good Decorating.

E. Dunphy, painter and decorator, has just completed two artistic shop fronts, "The Club," Mr. Reeves' shop, and Warwick Bros., now conducted by Collier. Mr. Dunphy has here shown conspicuous ability, both in design and execution. Both samples represent marble, one being green and the other red, and present a beautiful appearance. Mr. Dunphy was also employed to do the marbling in the interior decoration of the city memorial hall.

To aid men to carry heavy burdens on their backs an Englishman has invented pneumatic shoulder pads, the air they contain being equalized by a central reservoir.

New couplings have been invented that are said to be so flexible that shafting can be run in any direction and at any angle.

To keep the air in roundhouses clear a device has been invented that draws the smoke and gases from locomotive smokestacks out of doors through an underground duct.

HELP THE BLIND—AN APPEAL.

It is to aid work like this that the public is earnestly solicited for sympathy and interest, and subscribers already doing their share, it is hoped, will bring their friends to join them.

The women's workshop is at 54 Baldwin street, with Mrs. Ridge as supervisor. Here thirty-five blind women and girls are engaged in making caps and aprons and other similar utilities. They weave rugs, operate sewing machines electrically governed. One old lady, blind, has learned to work a machine and earns $10 to $15 per week on piece work. Threading needles among the sighted is often no easy matter, but these blind women think nothing of it. Others stand and neatly fold new garments as regularly as their more fortunate sisters in the factory by aid of a measuring board. Night gowns are pressed and stacked in regular piles and sold by one of the largest wholesalers as the "Hope" brand. This department as reached high water mark in output, 2,400 gowns per week, as well as as rugs and aprons; 6,000 yards of cotton is used per week. While these girls take more time to put the pieces together, as every movement is carried through by the sense of touch, "Clarkwood," 331 Sherbourne street, is the blind girls' residence made possible by the splendid energy and self-sacrificing devotion to the cause of the women's auxiliary. Here every comfort is enjoyed by those fortunate in experiencing them. The ladies who have taken upon themselves the duties connected with the work, pay visits to the blind residing in the city and encourage them, carrying mental sunshine into many homes, the result being a more cheerful understanding of their handicap and making it easier for them to bear it.

From Halifax to Vancouver the influence of this Institute is felt, while every human effort has been made to successfully organize and establish provincial centres, and shops in the principal cities. Trade depression has stopped some of the progress hoped for, and some of the shops have been closed temporarily, but notwithstanding this headquarters is striving to carry on with the material on hand so that the blind workers may not suffer. Halifax has reopened, also Toronto, Ottawa and Winnipeg, but Vancouver remains closed. Home teaching continues and field workers note in all the districts as far as possible.

Toronto has 580 blind registered with the Institute out of 1,500 for Ontario. The total blind for the Dominion registered with the Institute is 3,515. The prevention of blindness work progresses steadily following the establishment of sight saving classes in Toronto. This is a most necessary phase of prevention work and means that hundreds of children, who would probably have suffered, will now be able to go through life as sighted citizens, and is further evidence of usefulness which any help forthcoming can be put to.

The officers of the Institute are: President, L. M. Wood; general secretary, Capt. E. A. Baker, M.C.; director, C. W. Holmes; financial secretary, B. M. Clark; librarian, S. C. Swift; honorary treasurer, Fane Sewell. Messrs. Holmes, Swift and Baker are blind, the last named losing his sight from a wound in the war.

'Cause so worthy, that of enabling the blind to develop the sense of touch and thereby overcome in a measure such a deplorable handicap, and make life more worth living, is one that claims our deep sympathy and active support.

LITTLE GLIMPSE OF EDEN ON PRINCESS STREET

Gentle Breeze Revealed Rolled Socks on Visitors' Shapely Limbs.

The boys will have to walk with their eyes to the skies now. Not because short skirts are still a novelty, but because the newest fad has reached Kingston.

Two pretty girls, visitors in the city, sprang a sensation on Princess street on Friday afternoon by tripping lightly down the "main drag" with a teeny, weeny glimpse of their dainty limbs showing above their neatly rolled socks.

Traffic was not blocked but the bulk of it was noticed going down the street—and behind the girls.

They were quite unconscious of their attraction to the bald headed row who were keeping one eye on the heavens, one on the earth and the other on the latest glimpses of Eden. "Cool and refreshing as coca-cola on a hot day," whispered one perspiring business man as he carried on as a rear guard.

She is Recovering.

The friends of Mrs. Maude Benson will be pleased to know that she has passed most successfully through her operation for thyroidectomy under the skillful hands of Dr. George W. Crile, the great goitre specialist of Cleveland, Ohio, and is at present with her niece and nephew, Dr. and Mrs. Ellis R. Green, 5172 Scotten Ave., Detroit, where she will remain for some time before coming to Picton.
