MCGRAW LATEST TO "KNOCK" LIVELY BALL

New York Manager Joins in Crusade Against Slugging Matches.

Manager McGraw of the Giants has joined in the crusade against old-fashioned slugging matches, which, he says, are due to the lively ball and in due time will greatly injure the game. McGraw calls attention to the fact that the abnormal batting has obliterated the finer points of baseball, particularly the fielding. He also points to the undeniable fact that practically every day at the Polo Grounds hundreds of disgusted fans leave for home at the end of the fifth or sixth inning.

"At first the slugging was a novelty," McGraw is quoted as saying, "because the home runs, once infrequent, stirred up the fans. But now that everybody is knocking out four-baggers, the public is getting weary. Players who in former years couldn't hit the ball for more than two bases are driving it over the outfielders' heads into the bleachers. "The pitchers have thrown up their hands in dismay and many of the infielders actually fear that they will be injured by the cannon shots that whistle in their direction. If the magnates want to save the game they'd better go back to the ball in use two or three years ago and also modify the restrictions put on the pitchers."

McGraw, Mitchell, Moran, Huggins, Duffy, Cobb, Gleason, Donovan and Robinson are agreed, as major league experts, that the pitchers are tremendously handicapped for the reason stated and that drastic reforms are necessary. Colonel Ebbets, a close observer of everything pertaining to baseball, says that there isn't a doubt that the club owners next winter will try to curtail the hitting.

They Can Use Them.

A combination pitcher-shortstop-rare in the major leagues—was uncovered by the Philadelphia Americans Monday, when Barrett twirled against the Cleveland Indians, and took his place between second and third. Barrett went on the mound in the sixth inning, when the game was lost, but held the Indians to one hit in two innings. He made two hits in two chances at bat and fielded perfectly. In the second game Barrett played short and accepted five chances, but failed to hit in three times at bat.

The Origin of Gall Stones

They are simply dried bile made up of crystalline constituents of that fluid. Very common is this disease among merchants, clergymen, shop girls, and those of sedentary habits. Prevention consists in maintaining correct action of the liver and bowels, and this is speedily accomplished by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No person using Dr. Hamilton's Pills will be subject to bilious fits, round digestion, good appetite, a clear color will evidence the health giving properties of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are safest and best for general family use. When a laxative is needed, when you feel out of sorts, that's the time to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills of the Mandrake and Butter-nut. 25c., all dealers or The Catarrhzone Co., Montreal.

TY COBB MAY BE CALLED WITH OTHER MAJOR STARS IN WORLD'S SERIES TRIAL

Some of the greatest stars in baseball, including Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Americans, Eddie Collins, captain of the Chicago White Sox, and half a dozen other Detroit players, may be called to testify in defense of the White Sox players and others on trial at Chicago, charged with throwing the 1919 world series. This was made known by the defense in accepting the first four jurors to be chosen for the trial.

As Henry Berger, defense attorney, finished examining the fourth juror, he asked if he knew any of the witnesses announced by the state, and then said: "Do you know Ty Cobb, Harry Heilmann, Veach, Young, Bill James, Owen Bush, Howard Ehmke, Oscar Stanage, Dwyer, Dausa or Mitchell of the Detroit club, or Eddie Collins, John Collins, Red Faber, Bird Lynn, Harry Lefbold, Eddie Murphy or Clarence Rowland, who are now with or formerly were with the White Sox?"

Later Mr. Berger said these men might testify as to the character of the indicted players, render opinions as to the possibility of a game being thrown or about the permanent winning drive of the White Sox at the close of the 1919 series in which a number of games were won from Detroit.

BLAMES THE CHURCH FOR THE BIG PRIZE FIGHT

The Dempsey-Carpentier fight could never have been held if the church had stood with a united front against the contest, delegates to the Sixth World's Christian Endeavor Convention were told in New York last Friday.

"If the church had had such a united front," the Rev. A. E. Cory declared, "the fight would have been impossible."

It is foolish to talk of arresting Dempsey. All of us ought to be arrested if such things continue and we do not take a united stand against them."

More Baseball Records.

Baseball statisticians have brought to light the fact that Horace Ford, second baseman of the Boston Nationals, has equalled a major league record of thirty-nine years standing. In the St. Louis-Boston game of June 16th, at St. Louis, he made twelve assists in accepting fourteen chances. This was said to tie the record for assists made in 1882 by Dunlap, of Cleveland, who at that time had eighteen chances, the record for total chances in a game. Stuffy McInnis, of the Red Sox, ended the week's play with a run of thirty-nine consecutive errorless games, while Capt. Everett Scott brought his record of continuous play to 752 games.

Boxing in New Jersey.

Governor Edwards of New Jersey, was asked at Jersey City what he thought regarding the possibility of bouts between Dempsey and Jack Johnson or Johnson and Willis or Carpentier and Gibbons being held in New Jersey. The governor replied: "As long as the boxing law is on the statute books boxing may be conducted in New Jersey when conducted according to the law. Shall we stop boxing because somebody wants us to stop? Would we stop the banking business because someone who could not borrow money wanted the banking business stopped? There is no change in New Jersey. As regards boxing my attitude is the same as it always has been."

Speaker and Cobb.

One of the theories of baseball is that a playing manager by the very nature of his responsibilities, slumps in his play. Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb so far this season are furnishing a negative to that argument.

Speaker's batting average of .405 and Cobb's of .394 are not so convincing in these days of the lively ball as their relative positions of fifth and sixth in the league standing in reality second and third if only those who have played regularly are considered.

Pomme de Terre, an English-bred horse owned by Lord Seetland, with the English jockey, H. Robbins up, won the President of the Republic Stakes of 250,000 francs over the St. Cloud race course near Paris from a field of fourteen French horses. Comments were heard at the course that "decidedly this is a bad month for France in the sporting world."

Corbett Was the Most Skillful of All Boxers

It has been close upon thirty years since James J. Corbett stepped forth with a new boxing style and upset the old order.

In that thirty years no one else has come along with anything equal to Corbett's all-round skill in the heavyweight class. No one has arrived who has known as much about the science of boxing. If Corbett had only had the punch of a Fitzsimmons or a Dempsey he would have been the greatest heavyweight of all time, with no one carrying a look in for at least ten years.

Neither Dempsey nor Carpentier approaches Corbett as a boxing master, with his ability to wave in and out, to hit and get away. Carpentier, with this elusive style, plus the kick he carries, would have stopped Dempsey inside of ten rounds. But to each man only so much is allotted. No combination Dempsey-Corbett has yet drifted in upon the scene.

EASTERN LAWYERS MAKE CHAMPION STEP LIVELY.

Jack Dempsey may close a deal for the sale of his country home near Salt Lake City, Utah, valued at $50,000, which is desired by the governor of the state for a home.

"This job of being champion of the world is not all roses," confided Dempsey. "After the fight with Carpentier I had to skip, and when I got aboard a Pullman in New York to come west I had only one suit of clothes and no toothbrush."

Asked the reason for the hurry, Dempsey replied: "Why, those lawyers east made me run; something Carpentier could not do."

Georges Signs Contract.

Georges Carpentier has signed a contract with Tex Rickard to defend his world's light-heavyweight championship during October. His opponent will be selected later, the agreement reading that the French boxer shall meet any light-heavyweight named by Rickard.
