EVANS AND NAVAL UNIT FEEL THE ICE SHORTAGE

How He Tried But Failed to Dispossess Frank Blake of His Lot.

The Whig has learned from Frank Blake, boat builder at the city approach to the LaSalle Causeway, that he is one of those who has been caused much anxiety—due to the danger of being forced to give up the site on which he earns his living—owing to the determined effort of the "Commander" of the local Naval Brigade to acquire it. This is J. G. Evans, who in addition to being a "commander" in the Navy League of Canada (why he was ever appointed such, honorary though the rank is, we are at a loss to know) remains the commandant of the local unit, Army and Navy Veterans' Association of Canada. According to one well versed in the organization of the Navy League, it is not customary for the chief officer of a boys' naval brigade, such as the local one, to hold the rank of "commander." Similar units in Canada are in charge of the chief instructors. It would appear unusual for a brigadier-general to command an infantry company or a battery of artillery.

However, the "commander" decided many months ago that he required the site which Mr. Blake leased from the government, to increase the efficiency of the naval brigade, and he used all of his influence to that end. Mr. Blake has spent a very considerable amount of money in establishing his business. It has been necessary for him to see work go to other builders on account of the danger of being thrown off the property. He would like to make extensions, but these are delayed another year. Mr. Blake's brother, who is interested in the business, is a returned soldier, having served in General King's artillery brigade in France.

J. G. Evans has on several occasions threatened that he would apparently through influential friends at Ottawa) have him thrown off the property. The G.O.C. of this military district and W. F. Nickle, K. C., have conferred on the matter, with the result that Frank Blake received a letter from the senior engineer officer, M.D. No. 3, to the effect that General King is in favor of the order of cancellation of Blake's encroachment being held in abeyance for this year, and that he be allowed to remain in possession for one year as from 11th February, 1921. The G.O.C. feels that Blake would be caused a hardship by vacating.

The Naval Brigade own a boat house adjacent to the Blake property. It is here that their cutters are kept. Certainly the boys are entitled to better accommodation of this nature, but why J. G. Evans should undertake to deprive Mr. Blake of this site and property (the "commander" having offered) an almost ridiculously low figure for the latter) is more than the fair-minded man can understand. Mr. Blake has allowed the naval cadets to use his shop for making models, and they have free access to everything he has. On Monday afternoon they were undressing in his shop for swimming.

Mr. Blake informed the Whig on Tuesday morning that on several occasions J. G. Evans has misrepresented him to General King and Mr. Nickle. A few days ago the commandant, according to Mr. Blake, informed the G.O.C. that a motor boat, under repair, was obstructing the (Evans) access to the cutter boat house. At least five citizens are willing to prove that there was no obstruction, that no line was across the access.

At any rate, "the commandant-commander" (these being his most recently acquired titles) has failed again. This, we understand, was promised to the boys, but J. G. Evans has, according to one of the officers in the local brigade, not fulfilled numerous promises made to the cadets, who are severing their connection with the unit.

Most people overestimate their sorrows and undervalue their joys.

Artificial Ice Company's Plant Limited—Other Company Taxed to Limit.

Kingston housewives are being driven to distraction by an ice famine which has been caused by the excessive heat of the past two weeks. The situation was carefully explained on Wednesday morning by A. Rawson of the Kingston Artificial Ice Co. At the beginning of the season, this company unfortunately agreed to supply about 150 families more than last year. With a capacity of eighty tons a week, they have been forced to cancel the orders placed by private householders in order that ice cream parlors, butcher shops, merchants and so forth may have their needs satisfied.

Mr. Rawson stated that the situation had been carefully considered, and there was no other course open for them. It was impossible for artificial ice to be turned out more rapidly, and at the present rate of consumption it is only possible to meet the former customers.

The Kingston Ice Company, while supplying its regular customers, has not been able to add to its list in order that the present supply may be conserved. The result is that hundreds of housewives throughout the city are in desperate need of ice. All sorts of contrivances to keep milk, butter and other perishable commodities cool have been invented, and private families are doing as well as possible under the circumstances.

The hospitals and other public institutions are receiving their regular supplies of ice and patients are not suffering from the lack of cool food. The local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses replied, in answer to an inquiry, that they had few reports of babies suffering through the lack of fresh milk. However, it is believed from a superficial examination of conditions throughout the city that there is considerable anxiety for the welfare of the infants who have not been fed with cold and wholesome milk.

Mr. Rawson stated that he had no idea when the needs of their former customers could be met, certainly as long as the present heat continues there will be no possibility of meeting the great demand.

Throughout the city during the past few days there have been murmurings of demands for the municipalization of the ice business in the city. It has been pointed out that it is an absolutely essential commodity for the health and welfare of the people during the summer months, and that if private enterprise cannot satisfactorily meet the demand, then it is the duty of the city to take over the business. Mr. Rawson stated until that time came the local companies would have to carry out their business as local conditions imposed.

MARRIED.—In St. Mary's church, Kingston on July 13th, 1921, Phoebe Jane Poffley to Dr. F. Donnelly.

IN MEMORIAM.—In loving memory of our darling mother, who departed from us a year ago to-day, July 13th, 1920.

One year has passed since that sad day. God called the one we loved away. Forget her we never will. As years roll by we love her still.

Gone is the face we loved so dear. Silent the voice we loved to hear. Too far away from sight or speech. But not too far for our thoughts to reach.

Anchored by love, death cannot sever. Sadly we miss you and will forever. Some day, sometime, we shall see. The sweetest face we hold in memory. Gone but never shall be forgotten. Daughters and son, Gertrude Stafford Tibbourn, Ont.
