TWO FIRES ARE CHECKED

Sydenham Was Fortunate on Thursday Afternoon— Rain Fell at Night.

Sydenham, July 14.—Fire, which broke out at half-past twelve on Thursday afternoon in T. W. Russell's garage on George street, did damage amounting to several hundred dollars. The loss is partly covered by insurance. Fire was first seen in the frame building adjoining the garage, which is of stone, and an alarm was at once turned in. In two minutes many of the people of the village were on the scene, several with fire extinguishers, which were immediately turned upon the rising flames. Within five minutes more help had arrived, and pails of water, procured from nearby wells, were handed up the ladders and thrown on the fire. Half an hour after the alarm was given, the volunteer fire brigade had the flames under control, and the danger, which had a few moments before threatened the lower end of the village, was no longer feared.

The frame building next the garage sits back from the street about twenty feet, while the garage itself is close to the sidewalk. The rear of the frame part goes back farther than the garage, and so an angle is formed between the rear of the garage and the side of the framework. It is here, it is alleged, that the fire started, and it is also stated that it broke forth on the outside. This is well borne out by the sight of the building, for the outside is badly burned, while the inner wall is comparatively free from fire damage. Spectators gave various opinions as to where the fire started, and some gave different statements as to where the fire was first seen. The cause of the fire is not wholly certain. One theory put forward was that of spontaneous combustion, owing to oily rags lying in the heat of the sun. Too much praise could not be given those who fought so well to check the flames. Everyone worked like a hero, and smoke and fire and the risk of falling did not deter those up above. Part of the damage caused is attributable to the water. The rear side of the frame building is badly scorched, and the boards are blackened; the roof was burned through in a few spots, and more or less damaged both by fire and water. At one time shortly after the alarm was given, it looked as if there was but a small chance of preventing a conflagration, and only the presence of fire extinguishers held the flames in check until a sufficient quantity of water was on hand. When the water did begin to come, it came in abundance, and it was applied to the flames until they were quenched; condensary trucks brought cans of water, till finally there was more water on hand than could possibly be used.

The telephone operator at the central office sent the alarm to the countryside, and there was a good response from the farmers. It was a response that the automobile and the telephone proved a boom in an emergency of this kind. That the fire was checked just in time was universally agreed upon. It is the consensus of opinion that had the fire gained headway, with the steady breeze that was blowing, the whole street might have been swept. A few minor injuries, such as cut hands were received by some of the fire fighters, but no serious cases resulted. Mr. Russell, formerly of Kingston a few months ago, left the garage from John McConna's.

Another fire on Wednesday afternoon, which occurred one and a half miles west of here on the C. N. R. tracks, was checked in time to prevent serious damage. It is thought that a passing engine, by throwing out sparks, started the fire in the grass. Speedy work by the farmers in the Rosedale and Union neighborhood caused the flames to be quenched, but just in time to save a woods near by. On Wednesday evening the quarterly Ladies' Aid tea was served in Wesley Hall. The supper was followed by a programme, which consisted of an instrumental duet by Miss Marion Clow and Miss Helen Shangraw; a vocal solo by Claude McRoy; a recitation by Melville Silver and a solo by Miss Hazel Clemer. Among those present were persons from Tupper Lake, N.Y., and other places in the Adirondack region, California, and Kingston. Mr. Chapman, teller in the Union bank, is spending his holidays in Ottawa. A recent verandah has been finished in front of Harry Woodruff's house on George street. A "gentle rain from heaven" began to fall here late Thursday afternoon, which, later in the evening, developed into a fairly heavy shower and continued for several hours.

SMILES

THE FOOTRULE
New Clerk: Have you a foot-rule in this office?
Old Employee: Yes—it's to keep 'em quiet while you work.

Hazard: How do you like the prospect of having to give up your Sunday golf?
Wetmore: Oh, I don't care. I really need the time to devote to my kitchen distillery.

Hubby: I'm almost sorry I came down to spend the week-end with you.
Wife: You could have mailed the $50 just as well.

"Don't you know, dearie, that that suit is attracting a lot of attention?"
"It didn't when it was hanging in the store window."

Bug Pug: Ha! Here's a fine ring. I'm ready for all comers.

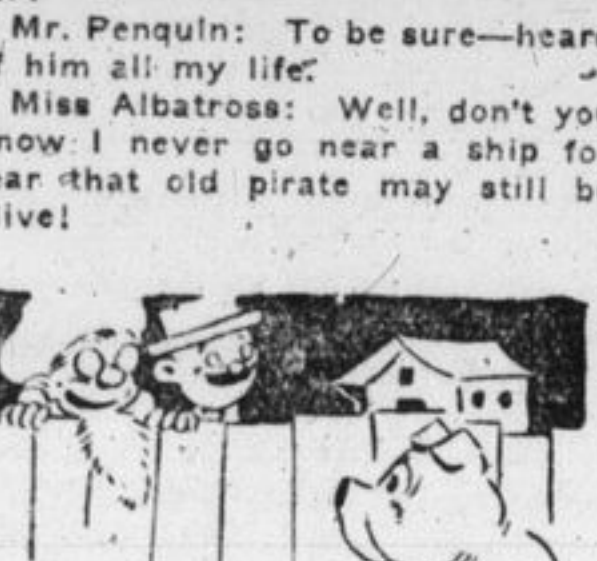

Miss Albatross: Do you know of the Ancient Mariner—that fellow who slew my distinguished ancestor?
Mr. Penguin: To be sure—heard of him all my life.
Miss Albatross: Well, don't you know I never go near a ship for fear that old pirate may still be alive!

The Rejected Suitor: What's the idea—this sister stuff? Why do you want to be a sister to me?
Miss Maichance: Well, you see, a sister isn't expected to return her brother's gifts.

Lady Patient: Doctor, my appetite has grown very poor.
Doctor: That's because you've allowed your food to become too rich.

Farmer: There's my prize pig. Don't you think he ought to make a fine picture at the show?
Visitor: Well, if he's a good pen artist he may.

1st Friend: I understand you were a hen-pecked husband when a young man.
2nd Friend: No! not exactly. I was hen-picked. I married a rich widow. Ha! Ha!

"His subject was the sea, and he waded in as if he knew all about it."
"But soon got into water too deep for him, eh?"

"You've been having a high old time for two weeks!"
"Yep; just back from the mountains today."

'Rastus: An' Ah doan git no medicine 't take or nuffin'?'
Doctor: You've gotten my advice, 'Rastus, for which you owe me a fee.
'Rastus: Ah doan git yer boss, an' Ah doan pay fer nuffin' Ah doan git!

Hubby: If you wear that disgraceful suit again I shall go home and leave you to spend your vacation alone.
Wife: How thoughtful of you.

Mrs. Worrymore: Did you wind the clock?
Her Husband: Naw, and I ain't going to wind it. I read in the papers that every time the clock ticks John D. Rockefeller gets a dollar and I ain't goin' to keep the old thing goin' just to put money in John D.'s pocket.

GANANOQUE
July 15.—The funeral of the late Silas L. Cook, who passed to rest on Monday at his residence, Cook's Island, was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Cross cemetery at Halstead's Bay, and was largely attended.
The remains of Mrs. Dinah McGill, who passed away in Kingston on Tuesday, were forwarded to the home of her son-in-law, S. Tregunna, at Woodburn, and the funeral was held yesterday afternoon to Gananoque cemetery.
While trolling in the North Channel, near Point Pleasant, Mrs. Alexander Pelow, North street, had the good fortune to hook a fine maskinonge, which, after a hard battle, was safely landed. The fish weighed a little over thirty pounds.
J. K. Neill, for the past eight months manager of the Gananoque Co-Operative Society's store here, expects to leave at an early date for Ottawa, where, in partnership with

Check Your BOWEL TROUBLES
By Using DR. FOWLER'S Extract of WILD STRAWBERRY
When you are troubled with diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera, morbus, summer complaints, bloody fluxes, or any looseness of the bowels be sure and obtain a bottle of "Dr. Fowler's" and see how quickly it gives you relief. This wonderful remedy has been on the market for the past 74 years and we wish to warn you against accepting a substitute, which may be dangerous to your health.
Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N. S., writes:—"While visiting in Western Canada I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. After trying many proprietary medicines I got no relief, but kept getting worse. I was advised to take Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I lost no time in doing so. I cannot hesitate in recommending it most highly, for when I had not yet taken half the bottle I was relieved. I must say that if "Dr. Fowler's" is given a fair trial it will show its good qualities."
The price of the genuine is 50c. a bottle; put up by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Gyroscope at Sea.
Very successful, it is reported have been the experiments which for some years have been made with a form of gyroscope which is intended to correct errors in the mariner's compass, and, in certain cases, such as, for instance, in submarine boats, to replace the compass.
The apparatus in one case is based upon the tendency of a gyroscope to retain its axis of rotation in a fixed position. If the axis is set to correspond with the course of the ship, any change in the direction is immediately shown by the rotation of a "rose," or compass card, within which the gyroscope is suspended. Deviations of the magnetic compass are detected by the instrument. With the aid of an electromagnetic attachment, the apparatus can be used to act either as a magnetic compass or as a gyroscope, independent of magnetic influences.
