Responsibility

There are several reasons why our sight service bears a good reputation. One of them is that we don't depend on others for any part of it. Our work is not planned by others; nor do others carry out our plans. From eye examination to finished glasses it is KEELEY Service. We are vitally interested in the result of our work and to insure success do all of it ourselves.

THIS YOUNG BRIDE FINDS HUSBAND'S FORTUNE MYTH

Aged Bridegroom Lavished Jewels on Her, Lien on Estate Shows.

Syracuse, N.Y., Aug. 4.—The former Miss Cecil Ready, 23-year-old bride of George M. Oyster, Jr., Washington, D.C., a supposed multimillionaire, whose death a few weeks after their speculative marriage revealed the fortune to be a myth has crept back to her little home in Onondaga Valley as quietly as a mouse.

Thousands of columns have been printed in the newspapers of the country about the girl bride of the 73-year-old clubman. Her pretty face framed by its soft wave of blonde hair has looked out from the pages of nearly every newspaper in the United States. Ministers have preached about her. Scientists have debated about her.

She became one of the talked of people of the country because of her sensational marriage—her pin money settlement of $1,000 a week and a rumored prenuptial settlement of $200,000—and then the death of the husband 50 years her senior after an estrangement which caused a newspaper flurry the country over.

So Cecil Ready Oyster, girl widow who married a fortune only to find it dissolved like a rainbow in the sun, is back in the home of her girlhood from which she went forth to meet the fate which has not been kind to her.

Mystery surrounds the stay of Mrs. Oyster at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ready, No. 150 West Seneca street, Onondaga Valley. The Ready family en masse has risen to defend the fair girl-widow from the curiosity of the community.

Mrs. Ready refused yesterday to do more than admit that her daughter had been home. She indignantly upbraided all the reporters in the world and declared that her daughter had been the victim of merciless attacks.

"We are utterly disgusted with the newspapers," said Mrs. Ready. "They have printed things that have never happened and never could happen."

Denies All Information.

Vigorously she denied any information as to the length of Mrs. Oyster's stay and refused to speak on the probability of her return to Washington, where she has been living sumptuously in Wardman Park Inn in a luxurious suite in which the paintings alone have been valued at $100,000—lighted by pedestal lamps hung with jade. The rooms are filled with costly furniture and works of art.

Mrs. Oyster has gone downtown here on several occasions wearing smart, deep mourning. A little of the bloom of carefree youth, her friends say, has been robbed from her cheeks, but she is prettier than ever in the somber apparel of grief.

Some of Mrs. Oyster's friends believe that she will return to Onondaga Valley to make her home, glad of its quiet and peace, after the stormy months through which she has passed. But because some of her friends have given interviews in which some of the sorrows of the girl-widow were revealed, she will have no more confidants.

CRAMPS IN STOMACH

Mr. Fred Funston, Crank, Sask., writes:—"A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach were dreadful, the beads of perspiration would stand out on my face at times I was in such great distress. At last I got a chance to send to town for a couple bottles of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used it according to the way I felt and soon obtained a great change for the better, for which I was very thankful. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of stocking the wheat.

"Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them, but they didn't get relief until I advised them to use 'Dr. Fowler's', when they soon experienced a great change."

THE INDIANS KNEW

A famous physician stated that more women might find relief from suffering through taking a medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than through undergoing surgical operations, if they would only take it in time. At the first sign of female weakness, as indicated by backache, dizziness, bearing down pains and nervous exhaustion, take this famous remedy of roots and herbs, and avoid the serious consequences of delay.

The Indians and early settlers knew and benefited by Nature's Allies, the roots and herbs of the field. Because Lydia E. Pinkham knew their medicinal value, thousands of women all over the world have been saved from operations, but only such as have taken it in time.

Oyster, Jr., 72-year-old dairyman, who died shortly after his marriage to Miss Cecil Ready, 23-year-old society girl, of Syracuse, lavished $100,000 in jewelry upon his bride-to-be. This was revealed yesterday when a claim for that amount was filed against the Oyster estate by Galt & Bros., a jewelry firm in which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson holds the controlling interest.

All except a diamond necklace costing $2,100 were purchased in January, the month the aged suitor became a bridegroom. Included in the list of purchases were a diamond wedding ring listed at $600, diamond ring, $2,000, diamond bracelet $2,000, sapphire and diamond bar pin $1,800, gold vanity case $230, and a gold drinking cup $60. The diamond necklace was purchased two months after the marriage.

An inventory of the Oyster estate is being made by the court appraisers but has not been completed, it was stated yesterday.

The aged bridegroom, in a codicil to his will, left the young Mrs. Oyster $25,000. Her counsel said that the widow has not decided whether to accept the $25,000 or contest the will.

Under the law she has six months following probate in which to enter suit.
