HOW MILLIONS NOW END CORNS
They First Stop the Pain Instantly
Some years ago a famous expert found a new way to end corns. A laboratory of world-wide fame adopted and produced it.
Thousands of people tonight will stop the pain of throbbing corns and bid farewell to corns. Corn troubles everywhere have largely disappeared.
The way is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. Apply it by a touch. The pain stops instantly. The whole corn soon loosens and comes out. The way is gentle, easy, quick and sure. It is scientific. Quit old ways and try this one now. Watch what it does to one corn.
Join your friends, who never let a corn pain twice. Begin tonight. Your druggist has

Still Many Go Bathing.
The bathing house, unlike the street cars, has remained in operation on Sundays and the crowds attending would indicate its popularity. Sunday when number was smaller as the high sea took much of the pleasure out of the swimming.

Gave Old Folks Treat.
Ladies of St. Andrew's church paid a visit to the Home for the Aged, on Tuesday evening last, and gave the inmates a fine treat of ice cream and cake, and also entertained the oldfolk to a fine programme of music. The event was much enjoyed by all the inmates.

Had Hard Travelling.
A number of small boats out in the harbor on Sunday during the stormy weather had a hard time getting through. The occupants had thrilling experiences as the waves threatened at times to swamp the boats.

Off for Vermont.
Mr. and Mrs. R. Eady and daughter, Edith, Perth; Miss Mae MacLean, Mrs. Tosh Dunham and little son, Norman, Smith's Falls, motored to Prescott on Friday evening on their way to visit Mrs. Dunham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. MacLean, Stowe, Vermont.

Married in California.
A pretty wedding was celebrated on July 29th, at the home of Mrs. E. K. Poppleton, 404 Everett avenue, Palo Alto, California, when her cousin, Miss Luella Carlotta Maybree, formerly of Picton, was married to Rolla Celfax Monck, Oakland, California.

Relatives Receive King's Scroll.
Mr. and Mrs. Matthew MacLean, Bishop's Mills, parents of the late Private Alex. MacLean, Canadian Infantry Battalion, who enlisted at Merrickville in 1916 and lost his life at Arras in March, 1918, are in receipt of the king's scroll. The scroll, under a coat of arms, thus sets forth: "He whom this scroll commemorates was numbered among those who, at the call of king and country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardness, faced danger and finally passed out of the sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom. Let those who come after see to it that his name be not forgotten."

Rheumatism—is Yours Acute or Chronic?
In either case you'll get such results from good old "Nerviline," which has five times the pain destroying power of ordinary remedies. Nerviline gives results because it penetrates to the source of the pain, because it contains ingredients that destroy rheumatic pains. It is the unusually bad case that proves the power of Nerviline. Suited for young and old; used internally and externally for many purposes. 35c., at all dealers.

THE AMERICAN FACE
By CHARLES GRANT MILLER
(Copyright, 1921. All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate.)

A writer in London Health has observed that there is nothing distinctive about the American face, as there is about all the rest of the groups of Caucasian faces. It has no individuality.

The English face, the Jew face, the German face, the French face, the Italian face, the Irish face, are all distinctive types that may be distinguished at a glance.

Each of these has something about it that calls up a definite picture in the mind. But the American face has no peculiar characteristic to differentiate it from other faces of superior races, though it is peculiar in some ways.

It is peculiar in its cosmopolitanism. It is in one sense a composite face. It is international, for here and there one may find the traces which suggest a relation to this, that or the other face. It may be a line or lineament bequeathed by an early English ancestry or something suggestive of Teutonic origin or a sharp mark of the Frenchman's face or the Irishman's, Italian's or Scotchman's.

But, when one must deal with the American abstractly, one can scarcely call up the American face.

Uncle Sam, with his striped trousers, his sharply-cut coat, his plug hat, his waltzers and his bland, good natured countenance, is a happy conception of American character, yet he may never hope to portray the matchless and indescribable cosmopolitanism of the American face.

But if the American face has no distinctive features, it has distinctive strength.

It is a composite of the best in all peoples. It is a blending of the lights and shadows in the faces of men who have come from all parts of the world to conquer and who have conquered.

Intolerance of oppression, longing for liberty, political and industrial resolve, effort, energy, success—all these are written and rewritten upon the American face by the best and bravest children of every land under the sun.

From the American face are obliterated all the provincial narrowness and weakness that make the other faces distinctive.

It is combined the strength of them all.

OCEANGOING BOAT REACHES TORONTO
Here is a photo of the "Turret Cape," the first boat to reach the port of Toronto from Sydney, N.S. She left the Nova Scotia town laden with 32,000 tons of coal. At Montreal 10,000 tons were taken off to enable her to complete the journey. The "Turret Cape" is one of six similar vessels built in Sunderland, England. During the war she was engaged in carrying rails and steel from Sydney to the Old Country. She will now go to Port Colborne for grain for Montreal, and will continue in this traffic till fall, when she will return to the coast. The "Turret Cape" is commanded by Capt. S. E. MacDonald.

the request. The dealer excepted has been given two weeks to move his stock, which is a particularly large one.

Property Changes.
Thomas Stevens, who sold out his holdings in Carleton Place and returned to England to spend the twilight of his days, has again become a property owner. This week he purchased from G. A. Burgess, the old Darou property, presently occupied by James Hueston, as a butcher shop. It is Mr. Stevens' intention to erect a suitable home on the property.

Looking for Success.
A general business meeting of the Pentecostal assembly, 285 Queen St., was held on Saturday evening, August 6th, when the following officers were elected: Pastor A. Anderson, chairman; O. Benn, secretary-treasurer; E. A. Benn, deacon; Mrs. Willson, deaconess. A good spirit was in the meeting and the assembly is looking forward to a great success under the leadership of the new pastor.

Fell With Scaffold.
While painting the interior of Ashby Methodist Church, Perth, Hugh Gamble sustained when the scaffold on which they were standing gave way and they were thrown to the floor, a distance of twelve feet. The nails in the scaffold had worked out, thus causing it to fall apart. Mr. Lee had three ribs fractured and received a severe general shaking. Mr. Gamble injured his right arm severely and received a number of painful bruises. He is able to be with the aid of a walking stick. Both men will be off duty for some time.
