MISSION WORK IN CHINA

Mrs. S. G. Caswell Gives Address in the Holiness Movement Church.

Returning to her home church after spending eight years in mission work in China, Mrs. (Rev.) S. G. Caswell gave a missionary address in the Holiness Movement church on Division street Sunday evening, laying before the congregation the great need of workers and prayer for the success of the work in that foreign field. Mrs. Caswell having learned the language, became interested in women's work, and for the last few years has been in charge of this work in the Holiness Movement mission in the city of San Tien, where her husband is also stationed. She briefly described her trip to China and the difficulties that confront all foreigners learning the language. For a time they were forced to live in a very unsanitary condition in a regular Chinese house, but of late years, due to the money sent from home, have been able to live in a sanitary, modern residence. Although made to feel at home by most of the people, the children on the street would call the name of "foreign devil," but this was not minded, as it was taken as a mark of a Christian. This was not a new experience, for she was used to receiving the name of "Hornet" called after her in civilized Canada, but she took this only as marking her out as a Christian.

The conditions in China were appalling, disease, blindness, beggars and unsanitary conditions being everywhere. The work was conducted in chapels bordering on the street, where the curious were attracted and later became interested to come upstairs where the real work was done. Being especially interested in women's work, Mrs. Caswell described a few of the wonderful conversions that she was privileged to witness. During the revolution the conditions were worse, the rifle shots coming right into their quarters. Mrs. Caswell stated that she loved the work and while in Canada, on furlough to rest mind and nerve, her only regret was that she was not able to do the work better.

A feature of the programme was the singing of Mrs. Caswell's five-year-old son, who rendered a song in Chinese.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Anna Flood.

On Monday, Aug. 8th, Anna Ryan, of Wolfe Island, widow of the late Michael Flood, passed to her eternal rest, after an illness of a very few minutes. Her many friends and neighbors were shocked by the news that she had passed away. She had been around as usual, and attended mass at Sacred Heart church at 8.30 on returning home, she sent for her brother, Philip, who lives but a short distance from her. Medical aid was also summoned, but in spite of all that could be done she passed away at 10.30 a.m.

Some evidence in the case of a young man charged with "trafficking in liquor" was taken, and the case was enlarged for a week. A. B. Cunningham appeared for the accused. Touring Car in Trouble.

A Ford touring car came to grief against the brick wall of Price's dairy on Princess street about seven o'clock Saturday evening, when the driver attempted to get ahead of a street car in order to pass another motor car parked against the curb. At this place there is only room for one car to pass along inside of the car tracks. The damaged car had the front wheels smashed when it hit the wall, but fortunately neither the driver nor any passing pedestrians were hurt. The other motor car was not damaged much.

PREPARE PETITIONS ON LIQUOR CONTROL

These Will Be Presented to Ontario Legislature at Next Session.

The Ontario Citizens' Liberty League is making strenuous efforts to complete a monster petition calling upon the Ontario government to institute a system of government control by dispensaries of liquors as a substitute for the present "unjust prohibition laws." The object of the Citizens' Liberty League is to have this petition ready before the next session of the legislature. Circulars and forms of petition are in the hands of local representatives in every municipality, and the work of obtaining signatures is being proceeded with rapidly. The league executive and officials decline to recognize the validity of a law based upon "a majority of 166,000 in a total electorate of 1,800,000." The organization has taken on a permanent character and requests its local representatives to form active committees to deal with local situations.
