"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists; took medicine; used lotions; but nothing did me good. STROUD'S TEA

THE HAPPIEST AGE
By CHARLES GRANT MILLER
(Copyright, 1921. All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate.)

Some sage has arisen to remark that human life up to about fifty years ago was not worth living—that only the inventions and institutions of the last half-century have made life bearable.

Unfortunately, there is no way accurately to gauge the degree of happiness of any period, or even to define definitely what happiness is.

All we can know for certain is that the happiness of our own times is the best that is attainable to us—and lucky is he who gets his share of it.

Happiness, like health, is known to us only through its opposite. Health is known through disease and pain, and happiness through disappointment and misery. Man never knew he had such an organ as a stomach until indigestion developed, and he never would realize happiness if there were not others worse off than himself.

The miseries of mankind, until this century almost dumb, now make heard their sufferings and dissatisfaction. The woes of centuries are finding utterances in the free speech of our day. The wall may cause the unthinking to suppose that the sun of human happiness is suddenly obscured. But to the contrary, the remedies following the better understanding of wrong conditions steadily improve the conditions under which happiness may become more general. The more we hear of wrongs, the less wrongs we have.

Philosophers may wrangle about it until doomsday—and no doubt they will—but the age which knows the least earthly misery and sees the one that has been longest dead, and the generation that really knows what happiness is and can realize its possession is a long time yet unborn.

IN DISTRESS ON THE PACIFIC.

Dance at Moscow.
Miss Edna O'Reilly, Moscow, gave a party for neighbors in honor of her guest, Miss Caecilia Byrne. Violin music was furnished by Kuch and Jackson, while Mr. McLaren ably accompanied them on the piano. Cake and ice cream were served, and the party danced until the wee hours of morning.

Moving Arch Street Houses.
On Saturday the moving of the houses on Arch street was started. The street is cut off from traffic, and the house being moved to the corner of Deacon and Arch streets was started down the street. The tenants are having considerable trouble moving around from place to place until the houses are ready for occupation. Some of the small frame houses, that can not be shifted are being pulled down. Every move points to an earlier start on the rink than expected.

Had to Pay Fine.
The Lindsay Post says that a Kingston man pleaded guilty there to a charge of reckless driving in an automobile and was fined $10.45. He was involved in an accident there a week ago Sunday. The Post in its account of the case says: "When the accused appeared in court he announced his intention of disputing the case. An adjournment would have been necessary to allow the crown to prepare a case but the accused, possibly fearing a costly delay and another trip from Kingston, decided to plead guilty and pay the fine."

Wedded in Vancouver, B.C.
A quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday evening, August 12th, at St. Paul's Anglican church, Vancouver, B.C., by Rev. Russell Grettton, when Daisy Evelyn, only daughter of Mrs. Martha Carroll, and the late James Carroll, Vancouver, was united in marriage to Melville Gordon, youngest son of Mrs. Adeline Carroll, and the late William Carroll, Kingston. The bride was given away by her mother, only intimate friends and relatives being present. After the honeymoon, the happy couple will reside at 1005 Burrard street, Vancouver.

The Late R. H. Peters.
The funeral of the late Rowlin H. Peters took place from his late residence, Victoria street, to Centerville on Saturday morning. Rev. J. A. Waddell, pastor of Princess Street Methodist church, officiated and the pall-bearers were R. G. Armstrong, John Peters, Levi Robinson, John Allmark, George Pound and James Wiskin. The casket was banked with a profusion of beautiful floral offerings expressing the esteem and affectionate regard in which the deceased was held by relatives and friends. After the religious service, the remains were conveyed to Centerville by James Reid's motor and interment took place there.

Horse Bled To Death.
A pitiful accident occurred near Gananoque last week when a valuable horse bled to death, while the owner and workmen had to stand by unable to save the animal's life. The horse was used on the road and was one of a team drawing stone. Following the setting off of a blast, a flying fragment of a stone struck the animal in the upper part of the leg making a deep gash. An artery was severed and the blood squirted out with each heart beat. The men tried to stop the flow, but the cut was in such a position that sufficient pressure could not be applied to shut off the vessel. Despite all attempts, the animal bled to death before the flow could be checked or a veterinary summoned.

Sergt. Middleton's Good Shooting.
At the recent meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association, at Long Branch, Toronto, a Kingston man, Sergeant A. Middleton of the Royal Military College, won the Lieutenant-Governor's match and the silver medal. The trophy in this contest was won by a competitor, Sergeant Middleton's shooting throughout the meet was of a high order, and he stood well up in the aggregate, being seventh in the Gibson match, twelfth in the all-comers. He did the best work on the team representing the Kingston Garrison Rifle Club and will undoubtedly be chosen for the D. R. A. matches at Ottawa next year.

"Lord Byng" Song Popular.
Most of the popular songs are about the "dainty feminine." From Annie Rooney to Peggy O'Neill this has been the case. It is a refreshing change to hear, everywhere, the stirring strains of a red-blooded song like Jules Brazil's new hit, "Lord Byng, Canada Welcomes You."

At the last band concert held in Macdonald Park, the 14th Band, under the leadership of Capt. W. Christmas, made a big hit when it played "Lord Byng, Canada Welcomes You." The words of the chorus are:
It's you, Lord Byng, and Canada greets you with a mighty cheer, As they did in London town, when the Strand they marched us down,
They shouted out this welcome; "See, the Byng Boys are here,"
So now, we sing, while Canada's heart goes out to you,
You had the Byng Boys over there, now you've got them everywhere.
Lord Byng, Canada welcomes you.

Country Road Trouble.
The refusal of the Frontenac county council to pay its assessment of $101,000 for the provincial highway running through the townships of Kingston and Pittsburg, is likely to be settled by concessions to the northern townships. These townships want consideration and it is understood that this will take the form of needed roadwork. The government deals with counties only, and has refused to consider the claims and representations of individual townships, for the very good reason that it is practically impossible to determine to what extent any township benefits over another. Take the townships of Kingston and Pittsburg for instance, their roads have to carry all the traffic passing over them from the northern township, and it is considered only fair and proper that the latter should contribute to their upkeep. In the old days of tolls, the outside townships paid just in proportion to their use of the roads and it is a fact that they paid higher than residents within the township.

The Late Erastus Fairman.
After a lingering illness the death of Erastus Fairman took place at his residence, High Shore, about two miles east of Crofton, on Aug. 23rd. Mr. Fairman who was sixty-two years of age had always resided on the farm where he died. For the past year he had been falling in health. He had been confined to the house since last fall and for the past few weeks had kept his bed.

Mr. Fairman was a man of fine character and was esteemed by all who knew him for his christian virtues and devotion to duty. He was a consistent member of the Methodist church and for many years steward and Sunday school superintendent. He was also for some years in charge of the Mosquito Bay warehouse and looked after all grain shipped at that point.

Mr. Fairman is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Richards, of Sophiasburg township, also one son, Ross Fairman, Huff's Island, and one daughter, Norma, at home; also one sister, Mrs. Andrew Munro, Crofton.

MULLOY SCORES AGAIN.
Secures Twenty-foot Provincial Highway for Iroquois.
Lieut.-Col. L. W. Mulloy, the blind South African veteran, formerly of Kingston, who has entered upon the study of law, has scored again against the reserve and council of Iroquois. Recently the Council brought the council to time before the Court of Appeal at Toronto by having their attempt to put through an exorbitant assessment declared illegal. Now he has beaten the same council in its attempt to have a fourteen-foot provincial road put through the village main street instead of one twenty feet wide. The Iroquois Board of Trade gave the colonel a free hand to go ahead and carry the fight for the people before the Department of Highways at Toronto, and the result was a visit from the deputy minister, A. W. McLean, and the chief engineers, who decided upon a twenty-foot roadway through Iroquois. Now the roadway through Iroquois is taken over as part of the
