"LIARS" AT THE GRAND

Big House Saw Splendid Stock Company Play on Thursday Evening.

"Liars," a delightful comedy, presented by the Rex Stock Company, drew a capacity house at the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening. It was a second triumph for Rex and his excellent company of artists who have won a warm place in the affections of the patrons of the Grand. Rex Snelgrove as Dave, and Billy Seymour as Buck, the arch-conspirators, driven to extreme measures by misfortune, see an opportunity to personate a wealthy candy-maker reported killed in a railway wreck. They meet with a marvelous degree of success, with the assistance of two trusting young ladies with whom they fall in love, and what was likely to prove disastrous, turns out happily for all of the parties.

William F. Mitchell as Jerry, and A. J. Cole, the lawyer, carry out their parts in a highly creditable manner, while William Yule is seen in the double characters of the landlord and the detective. In both of them he is a wonderful success and made a "hit" with the audience. Charles Hannah does fine acting as the office man, Kathryn VanEsse, who made such a success of the part of Mrs. Gerard in "The Man Who Owned Broadway," is the landlady in "Liars" and with William Yule, as the landlord, won repeated applause. Hazel Williams is seen as Emma, Gloria Machan as Anna and the beautiful Zana Vaughn as Norma.

"Liars" is a humorous and entertaining comedy, and is produced in a most highly finished manner by the Rex Stock Company. Opening with a boarding house scene it comes to a dramatic climax in the fourth act after a series of startling events. Between the acts, superior vaudeville is put on, the Park Kiddies were delightful in their songs and dances.

Rex Snelgrove announced that "Liars" would be put on Friday and Saturday with a bargain matinee Saturday. He thanked the audience for the warm reception given him and his troop on their second appearance and promised that during the week opening on Sept. 19th, a series of great attractions would be seen at the Grand. He was applauded at the conclusion of his address. The Rex Stock Company is the first important company to put on high class comedies at pre-war prices and the popularity of the movement was shown by a crowded house.

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

First Meeting of the Fall Season Was Held on Thursday.

The first meeting of the autumn of the Local Council of Women, was held in the council chamber on Thursday afternoon, the president in the chair.

A petition has been sent to the members of the Local Council for signature, asking the prime minister that Mrs. Emily F. Murphy be appointed to the senate, that the said senate may be the better qualified to consider matters concerning the interests of the women and children of Canada. The petition was signed by the members present. Mrs. Emily Murphy is better known to the public as Jancy Canuck, the author of many delightful stories of Canadian life. She was educated at Bishop Strachan's school, Toronto, but moved to the west after her marriage. She is a police magistrate and judge of the juvenile court in Alberta, and a vice-president of the Social Service Council of Canada, as well as holding many other positions of national importance.

A communication was read from the national corresponding secretary, regarding the year book, of 1921, and also informing the local council that Lady Byng of Vimy has consented to become honorary president of the L.C.W. Mrs. Charles Wright, the travellers' aid, gave an interesting report of her increasing work. The cards placed in the railway stations, had, she said, brought many more people to seek her aid and now that it was known that Kingston had a travellers' aid, letters were received from outside places, commending young or feeble persons to her care. In June she had assisted 120 travellers, in July 136, and in August 124. Some of these were young girls coming to work in Kingston, and others were invalids on their way to the hospital. Mrs. Wright's work called forth much appreciation by the council. Miss Root, the social service worker, said little had been accomplished during the summer, but she hoped for better things as the autumn began.

Miss Mowat read the report of the meeting of the National Council at Calgary in June, written by Miss Charlotte Whitton, who, in the absence of the president and delegate, represented Kingston's local council. The report was a most comprehensive one and the work accomplished and outlined is truly marvelous, another evidence of the great influence of the National Council on Canada's national life.

Approves Action.

The Trades and Labor Council has approved the action of the legislative committee in recommending the placing of a candidate in the field for the coming federal election.

Haste makes waste. The woman who is in too much of a hurry to read the store advertisements makes much waste in the course of a year. The same rule applies to the men.

Mrs. Vivian Sylvester and Master Arnold Sylvester have been moved to their home after being confined to the General hospital.

TWO AUTOS STOLEN.

The Police Notified of Thefts From Outside Places.

The police department received the description of two automobiles and a horse and buggy stolen recently. At Smith's Falls a Chevrolet car owned by W. R. Ballantyne, containing a Brownie camera, a gray and brown coat and other driving gloves, was stolen. The car carried Ontario license number 150-500. At Brantford a Ford 1916 model has been stolen. The license number is 95-837 and the serial number is 32457. A double barrel Ithaca shotgun, No. 12 gauge, was also stolen.

Chief of police Fred Nichols, Carleton Place, reports the theft of a black mare, black box buggy, and nickel trimmed harness. The outfit is valued at $300 and a reward is offered for its recovery.

How He Broke the News.

A fondness for backing an occasional winner was one of Bill's weaknesses; that his selection didn't always come home first couldn't be blamed on him. After a certain race he got home rather later than usual, to be met at door by his wife, her face distorted with rage. He knew the signs, and sank into a chair, content to wait till the clouds had rolled by. When at last she had to pause for want of breath, he remarked casually: "I say, Nell, ye likes to 'ear o' people winnin' lots o' money, don't ye?" Visions of new hats and even a dress floated before her dazzled eyes, so the woman forced a smile to her lips and replied: "That I do. Tell me about it." "Well," he said, as she nestled close to him, "a bookmaker's been an' gorn an' won all me wages this week."

At least one of the want ads. in to-day's paper should concern YOU! The man with moderate means should avoid the "fast class" socially.
