MEN NEEDED IN THE WEST

Believed the Prices For Western Grain Would Be Quite Satisfactory.

Penticton, B.C., Sept. 19.—President Beatty spoke very optimistically regarding conditions in Canada, in an interview here to-day. He remarked that while it was quiet in the east business was rapidly picking up in the west due to the impetus of a good crop.
Dealing with the unemployment question, President Beatty said men were still wanted on the prairies both to handle crop and to assist in railway construction. The C.P.R. wanted a number of men and all the other railroads were needing them. In spite of this fact the president thought, however, that there would be a great deal of unemployment during the coming winter.
The president spoke enthusiastically of the large grain crop on the prairie and remarked that he believed the prices would be very satisfactory all round.
Asked if he anticipated that any of the grain would be moved west in order to be shipped to Europe, via Panama Canal, he replied in the negative. With regard to Lord Shaughnessy's suggestion that the C. P. R. operate all Canadian lines as the representative of the government, President Beatty said the suggestion was made to the prime minister but not acted upon. Whether anything would develop from the suggestion would depend on conditions after the election and the formation of the new government.

VETERANS OF KINGSTON VOTE FOR AMALGAMATION

A Meeting Held in the Griffin Theatre on Sunday Afternoon.

At a mass-meeting held in the Griffin theatre on Sunday afternoon the veterans of Kingston unanimously passed a resolution in favor of the amalgamation of all veteran organizations in Canada into one veteran association. The resolution was as follows: "That this mass meeting of veterans is thoroughly in accord with the movement for amalgamation and hopes for the speedy consummation of the amalgamation of all existing organizations."

There were about two hundred ex-service men at the meeting which was addressed by Dr. D. A. Volume, who presided, Mr. Howe, president of the Toronto branch, G.W.V.A., and editor of the "Tin Hat Review," J. S. Macdonnell, Mr. Mulhowney representing the Canadian Legion, Toronto, Lieut. E. Adney, member provincial executive Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, J. W. Connor, Eytan Warburton and Percy Bould.

Dr. Volume, in opening the meeting, said that it was called to discuss proposals for the amalgamation of all veterans' organizations irrespective of what wars they served in, but the essential qualification was that an individual must have performed military service for Canada or the Empire. "The present moment," said Dr. Volume, "is opportune for the consideration of this question, and we have here representatives of soldier organizations who will speak on this subject. I believe that if we could be fused into one veteran body we could present an unbroken front in the great matter of reestablishment. There is no avoiding the deplorable fact that we are now divided in a manner that is most injurious to the true cause of the ex-soldier and his dependents, a condition that should not exist."

Dr. Volume introduced J. S. Macdonnell, who drew a vivid picture of the state of disunion that exists among returned soldiers in Canada to-day. There was a parallel in the case of the farmers in Glengarry county ten years ago when they could not elect a school trustee by means of unity brought about by organization they have farmers in the Ontario legislature and the dominion parliament. The farmers of Alberta afford another example, having recently put a farmers' government in power in that province. "There were in Kingston," said the speaker, "2,500 veterans, of whom 1,200 or 1,500 have been members of organizations. These, with their sympathizers, represent 4,000 voters who might control any election in this city. To bring about unification we must have a dominion command with local branches to carry on as we do now. It has been suggested to have one name and unite all the resources of veterans in Canada. This would enable us to exercise some influence in the country for the returned man."

"We must remember the conduct of the war itself, with France, Italy, Britain and their allies under separate organizations. The war was not won until there was unity of command. There is a war in Canada to-day for reestablishment and if we unite that war will be carried on to victory." (Applause.)

Dr. Volume said that amalgamation was not initiated by any one organization, and representatives were to speak for several organizations. He introduced Mr. Mulhowney, chairman of the Canadian Legion, Toronto, who reviewed the experience of veterans' organizations since their formation in Canada. There were to-day nine. But in spite of the divisions that exist, there is a great spiritual force in returned men, a force that was in the Canadian Army from 1914 to 1918, composed, though it was, of different races and creeds. As a Canadian people we were the nation and Lord French was right when he said: "The Canadians won the war. To-day I have the honor to speak to you on behalf of all soldiers of this great Canada."

Dominion G.W.V.A. Blamed.
"Our one purpose is to bring all soldiers into one corporated body. We have 70,000 signatures to petitions urging, praying and beseeching us to bring the boys together into one body of veterans. We have the souls of the men—they are with us. One organization alone has blocked our way, the dominion command of the G.W.V.A. at Ottawa. Under the pretense that they wanted to study amalgamation and invite distinguished visitors from outside, they postponed the holding of the dominion convention at Ottawa to the last of October." This action, the speaker said, was for the purpose of delaying amalgamation, but the welfare of a returned man, his widow or child, was more to him than the entertainment of any visitors, however "distinguished." (Cheers.)

Referring to the scripture text: "Beware in your contentions lest you destroy one another," Mr. Mulhowney said, "We have destroyed one another by our contentions. We are yet in the reestablishment stage of the war with problems yet unsolved. Our whole constitution must be changed and the non-political clauses eliminated. The speaker repudiated with strong indignation the non-political provisions as an insult to every man who fought for his country. "If a man was good enough to fight and die he was good enough to share in the government, and in making of laws in time of peace." He also declared that the statement appearing in the Toronto Telegram that "the Canadian Legion only" (Continued on Page 7.)
