

A Heintzman & Co. Piano Purchased by Melba for Her Australian Home

Melba, the world's great singer, has purchased through Mr. Walter F. Evans, their Vancouver representative, a beautiful Grand Piano of "Ye Old Firm," Heintzman & Co., Limited, for use in her boudoir studio in her Australian home. It was possible for Madame Melba, in her world travels, to test out the finest pianos of the world's most famous manufacturers in Europe, the United States and Canada.

When it came to a personal purchase, the buying of a piano for her own studio, the choice was with Melba, as with Tetrazzini, a Heintzman & Co. Piano, the instrument always used when concert touring in Canada.

This piano was shipped on the same steamer that carried Madame Melba home again to her beloved Australia.

Strongest of all influences with these famed artists in buying a Heintzman & Co. Piano was its unrivalled tone and touch.

Just received a shipment of Heintzman & Co. Pianos of different styles now on show at our warehouses, 121 Princess Street.

Theatrical

At The Strand.

People passing along Princess Street during the last two or three days have been largely absorbed by the big local event—the Fair, but when they reached the Strand and saw the announcements the interest of conversation was instantly switched to Thomas Meighan, whose popularity with Kingston film fans grows apace as each new picture in which he appears is shown in the Limestone City. "White and Unmarried," which was screened here for the first time yesterday, affords Mr. Meighan a fine vehicle for his art, and he rises to the height of the opportunity and proves himself one of the best. He appears as a burglar, and his regeneration begins when he inherits a large fortune and falls in love. The supporting cast includes two beautiful and clever women—Jacqueline and Grace Doremont. The latter, by the way, is a native of Toronto. Story, production and acting are all on the high level associated with Paramount pictures, and "White and Unmarried" will live in the memories of Kingston audiences as one of the pictures that pleased.

The rest of the Strand programme is in keeping with the feature. All the pictures screened are notable in their way. A western film is among them, "The Sheriff of Mojave," with Tom Santschi as star. He is a western star with a fascination all his own, combining daring and, when necessary, refinement and restraint. Those who visit the Strand during exhibition week will be entertained, really and truly entertained.—Adv.

At The Allen.

"Bob Hampton of Placer," the greatest, most fascinating and stirring motion picture ever made by that master director, Marshall Neilan, will be the attraction-extraordinary at the Allen theatre to-day, and Wednesday. Strong though this statement may be, it is nevertheless true. But it could be still stronger. We might add that it is one of the finest motion pictures ever made by anyone. "Bob Hampton of Placer" is adapted from the Randall Parrish story of the same name. It presents on the screen an absorbing story of romance and adventure in the thrilling days of American frontier history, and as a gripping climax General Custer's famous last stand against Sitting Bull and his Indian hordes is reproduced. The ride of the Ku Klux Klan in D. W. Griffith's masterful production, "The Birth of a Nation," carried no greater thrill than the savage charge of the Sioux against Custer and his gallant little band in "Bob Hampton of Placer." And back of it all is a charming love story, and a roguish wail who will make you laugh and perhaps shed a tear.—Adv.

SPORTING NEWS

At the Bowling Green.

The bowlers, on Monday evening, commenced a Scotch doubles tournament and forty members of the club are competing. Fourteen games in the primaries and one game in the consolation series were played. The first and second rounds of the primaries are completed and W. H. Montgomery and W. Frizell played in the third round by defeating Dr. R. C. Cartwright and A. McMahon. E. Walsh and J. McFarlane also found a place in the third round when they won from H. W. Newman and H. F. Price. The games will be continued Tuesday evening.

The club doubles were won by G. Lawes and R. S. Stevenson and the finals in the Scottish doubles are now being reached. Saturday's playing advanced C. C. Hodgins and J. H. Hoppes to the finals of "A" series, when they won from F. Crozier and C. S. Greer. They now will meet the winners of "B" series which requires a couple of games to be completed.

The singles competition stands at present with G. Brownlie, who headed "C" series, waiting to meet the winner of "D" group. The winner of this game will then play J. Newman, who won his own group, and then defeated Dr. R. C. Cartwright who came out on top of group "A."

THE SNAP-BACK GAME

It Will Be Used on the College Gridirons This Year.

The snap-back, which will be used this year for putting the ball in play in rugby, is by no means a new feature in the popular Canadian autumn game. Some twenty years ago the Ontario Rugby Football Union adopted a code of rules devised by the Thirlt Burnsides, captain of the Toronto University team of 1898, under which the number of players was reduced to 12 and the snap-back was used. But farther back than that—away back in 1879 and 1880 the snap-back was used by at least one Canadian team in matches with one of the American college teams.

The American college players whom the English game was introduced to them in the McGill-Harvard matches of 1877 and 1878—apparently analyzed the scheme of play and found that the purpose of the "scrim" was to get the ball out to the halves. They determined to get this result in a more direct way and so within a few years was developed the "Harvard" or "open" formation which called for only eleven men and the ball was put in play by snapping it back with the hand or foot. By 1880 this style had been generally adopted in the states.
