HARROWSMITH CONVENTION

The Methodists of the Circuit Held Interesting Services on Sunday last.

Harrowsmith, Sept. 27.—The Methodist churches of Harrowsmith circuit held a circuit convention last Sunday. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, the church was well filled at every session.

Special musical selections were rendered by choir. A duet was given by Mr. E. Day and Mrs. Gordon and a solo by Mrs. Gordon.

At ten o'clock there was a rally of all the Sunday school children from the four appointments in Ainsley hall.

This gathering was presided over by the pastor, who told the children Henry Van Dyke's story entitled "The Lost Word."

At 2.30 p.m., Dr. Pierce spoke on "The Church and Community Service."

The church cannot throw her doors open on Sunday and remain silent the rest of the week, he said.

We must seek to apply the principles of our religion to every department of human life.

Our political, commercial and social life must be brought into harmony with the Gospel of Jesus.

A community is a group of people that have things in common. The church can make these things the means of grace or of helplessness to all.

She can give inspiration and direction to every force that is contributing to human needs.

She must seek to promote the "abundant life" everywhere. Dr. Pierce outlined programmes of recreation, philanthropy, agricultural progress, community betterment as examples of what could be done.

He was followed by Judge Lavell, who said that the church was the most important thing in the whole community.

More important than the store, the factory, the farm, or the school. As the most important institution in the land it had the first claim upon our services.

Services to the church could be rendered by consistent and faithful observance of her ordinances.

By active participation in the executive and spiritual tasks of the church; by systematic and regular contributions of our money to her support.

At the evening service, Dr. Pierce preached on the Rediscovery of God. This sermon will be long remembered by those who heard it.

With eloquence, clearness and power he described the God who is revealed to us in Jesus Christ and showed the claim he has upon our lives in such a way as to appeal to the heart for a deeper consecration.

It was a great day of spiritual uplift which brought to the circuit a large vision of duty and a great measure of inspiration to perform it. The whole circuit is now talking about a large project for community service.

It is our own moral judgment. Conscience gets its standards from our environment. A reliable conscience can only belong to one who has familiarized himself with the highest moral standards known to humanity, and had his mind illuminated by divine truth. 4—Righteous principles. A man who acts on principle is a man who does right for right's sake. He is not governed by the external law of custom, convention, or public opinion. There is an internal law which keeps him as pure when he is lost in a crowd as when he is in his own circle of acquaintance. It is the function of the home to take these materials, design their proportions, and assemble them in such a way as to form characters that will stand as lighthouses in the world and glorify our Father which is in heaven.
