MISSION SERVICES HELD

In Various Churches Sunday
—Bishop of Japan at St. James'.

"Give us your best, not only in money but in earnest prayers," said Rev. H. J. Hamilton, D.D., bishop of Mid-Japan, preaching in St. James' church on Sunday morning.

Bishop Hamilton delivered a most inspiring sermon, speaking of the missionary work that is being carried on in Japan, and pointing out the many opportunities for service. His message was an appeal to give light to those in darkness.

God's salvation was for those who knew Him not, as well as those who did know Him.

"Our own Christianity will not be the blessing it should be to us unless we give it to others," added the speaker. "God intended everyone to have his blessing, and it is up to the Christian people to see that everyone gets it. We are His messengers and we should give the light to those in darkness. The people of Japan had a religion of their own, but it gave no life for the world to come. It gave no hope or power like our religion. The people in Japan were passing into conditions far worse than anything in the past. They were becoming a people without religion. They were becoming a people with a thirst for silver and gold, and unless Christianity stepped in they would become a hopeless nation. On an average there were 12,000 suicides in Japan every year, and of this number 1,000 were boys and girls. These people regarded life as hopeless. Japan was a country well worth saving, from God's standpoint, and this should be the standpoint of christianity, too. Japan was a progressive, energetic country. The people had ability and here the speaker spoke of the immense exports in silk, tea and other things from this country. Japan was the greatest country of the east and was bound to have an influence over China. If the Christian church desired to reach the far east, it must do it through Japan. In Japan the church could build churches just wherever they were desired. Mission halls could also be erected. The door in Japan was wide open for missionary work and the people were very eager to be instructed.

Some of the freshmen who enter Queen's are apparently from Missouri and have to be shown that the rules of initiation are real laws and are rigidly enforced. One of the medical freshmen openly defied the rules and refused to wear the headgear assigned to him, and as a result was "shown" on Saturday. Citizens on the down town streets may have thought that, when a gang of young men drove up to the door of one of the local banks, grabbed a young chap, who was coming out and made away with him in a car, that the bandits were once more in their midst. But it was merely a bunch of the "meds." getting their refractory freshman. He was escorted with little ceremony to Cartwright's point where he, in some way managed to make his escape into the woods, and the freshman was given up as gone, when a commotion was heard and back came "freshie" rushing into the arms of his pursuers, with a dog at his heels. He was then divested of his coat, boots and suspenders and given the general direction of the city with the information that his clothes would be at the bridge. He arrived back much the wiser and is given another chance to bow to the inevitable.

Returned from fifteen years in China, was the speaker at the special missionary services in Queen street Methodist church Sunday morning. He reviewed the mission work in West China, which is his own field of endeavor, paying particular attention to that part carried on by the Methodist church. Mr. McAmmond is very enthusiastic as to the future of China as a nation and a Christian country, but warned the congregation that unless the Chinese were christianized there would some day be a ruthless war on our hands, and the white races would be overrun by the men of the Orient. He corrected the general impression prevailing that the Chinaman was inferior in intellect and business capacity to the English-speaking person. The speaker closed his remarks with a statement of the work of the Union University of West China and the membership of the different missions, Sunday schools and other lines of endeavor.

A MEDICAL FRESHMAN CARRIED OUT OF CITY

Seized at Bank and Divested of His Coat, Boots and Suspenders.

Walter Sells, Joyceville, sustained a broken knee cap when he was thrown from the rear seat of a motorcycle, driven by Thomas Kentish, that crashed into a Ford car which was driven by James Joyce on Sunday afternoon at the corner of Princess and Montreal streets. The injured man was removed to Dr. A. W. McCarthy's surgery where his wounds were treated and he was removed to the Hotel Dieu in R. J. Reid's ambulance. The accident happened while the automobile was turning round. The driver apparently did not see the motorcycle, which came along Montreal street at a good rate of speed, and crashed into the back of the car. The front forks of the motorcycle were bent and the machine was otherwise damaged. A crowd soon gathered about the spot and a policeman took the names of the men and the license numbers.

At Princess Street Methodist.

Rev. George Stafford, Sydenham, preached at the Princess Street Methodist church on Sunday morning at the special missionary services held there. He referred feelingly to Paul's work and ministry, reviewing some of the principal events in his life, seeking to learn lessons of activity and devotion from his consecrated endeavor in establishing the Kingdom of Christ on earth. The relative value of christianity in the home, in the church, and in the community, where christian thought obtains, in contrast with what is seen in heathen lands was emphasized very strongly. Mention was made of the missionary objective placed before the general board of missions by the late Rev. Dr. Alexander Sutherland at the meeting held in Kingston twenty-one years ago, in comparison with the present position and anticipated returns for this conference year.

At Sydenham Street Church.

Rev. G. Sisco, Cataragi, and Rev. B. McAmmond preached to large congregations in Sydenham street Methodist church on Sunday. The themes were missionary. A terrible experience had Edw. J. O'Connor, of Sault Ste. Marie. From boyhood he writes: "I have been a constant sufferer from Asthma and Catarrh. My nose and throat was often stopped up, and I had disagreeable droppings from my throat. When an attack of coughing came on, it seemed as if I would barely live through it. I would gasp for breath. Catarrhazone made me well. It's soothing, healing action was exactly suited to my case." To those who suffer from Catarrh, Asthma, throat irritation and Bronchitis, Catarrhazone is highly recommended. ## PETITION FOR RELEASE OF JOHN DOUGHTY

Who is Serving Prison Term For Stealing A. J. Small's Bonds.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—John Doughty's release on parole from Portsmouth penitentiary is asked for in a petition which is being circulated in the east end of the city. The petition is being quite largely signed, and, while the names are chiefly those of residents of the Riverdale district, there are signatures of quite a number of persons scattered over the city, including those of several prominent citizens.

The petition is directed to the minister of justice at Ottawa, and states that, prior to the charge of stealing $105,000 in bonds from the A. J. Small safety deposit box in the Dominion Bank building, he had not been in trouble, and was of previous good character.

It is also urged on his behalf that he did not profit by the robbery, as all the goods have been recovered. Doughty's health is also said to be failing by reason of his confinement in the penitentiary.

John Doughty is serving a six-year term. He was sentenced by Judge Denton.
