ALD. COUPER'S HOUSE VISITED BY BURGLARS

Who Stole Goods Worth Between $150 and $200 Sunday Night.

While Ald. Daniel Couper and his wife and son were at church on Sunday night, burglars secured an entrance to their home at 776 Princess street, and ransacked the place, getting away with goods valued between $150 and $200.

The burglars had plenty of nerve as when members of the family returned home, they found nearly everything around the house turned topsy turvy, showing that the visitors had made a thorough search for things of the greatest value. People living in the house next door, and also across the street, noticed the electric lights turned on in the house, and also heard people moving about, but they were of the opinion that members of the family were at home, and that they had not gone to church owing to the rain storm.

The burglary was committed some time between 6.30 and 8.45 p.m. When interviewed by the Whig on Monday morning, Mr. Couper could not state just what his loss would amount to, but said that it would be between $150 and $200.

The burglars went all over the house, ransacking bureau drawers and in their search for things of value they threw clothing, letters and papers around on the floor. Entrance was secured by breaking through a window, and after the burglars got in the house they pulled down all the blinds, switched on the electric lights, and then helped themselves to whatever they took a fancy to. They got away with four watches, two silver and two gold-plated, about $15 or $20 in cash, a revolver and a box of cartridges. The revolver taken was one that Ald. Couper secured when he was mayor of Kingston. Members of the family found the back door open when they got home, and it is believed that the burglars made their escape this way.

It is believed that the burglars were disturbed by something before they concluded their search of the house, as Bert Couper had about $3 in a suit of clothes in his room and this was overlooked.

It is believed that three or more men had a hand in the affair, and the supposition is that the work is that of the three bandits who have been causing all the trouble around Kingston.

CONLEY-FINN WEDDING.

It Was An Interesting Event on Sept. 28th.

At ten o'clock on Wednesday morning, Sept. 28th, the bell on the quaint old church of St. Anthony of Padua, Centreville, pealed forth merrily, on the occasion of the wedding of Miss Anna Geraldine Finn, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. Finn, Enterprise, to Raymond A. Conley, of Wolfe Island. The church had been most artistically decorated by Miss McCarthy, sister of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Father McCarthy.

The bride was most becomingly dressed in a suit of brown velour, beautifully braided and trimmed with Hudson seal. With it she wore an old gold crepe de chine blouse, a brown plush hat and a set of taupe fox furs, the groom's gift. Her corsage bouquet was of American Beauty Roses. She was given away by her brother-in-law, James B. Evans, and preceded up the aisle by her sister, Miss Florence Finn, gowned in Saxe Blue. At the altar rails the groom, with his cousin, Carl Conley, awaited them. During the nuptial mass, Miss Eileen Dillon, who presided at the organ, sang several solos in her usual pleasing manner.

After the ceremony the guests, many in number, motored to the spacious residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. James B. Evans, Moscow, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was prepared, and where the bride and groom received the hearty good wishes of their friends. Father McCarthy, in his very humorous way, proposed a toast to the popular young couple. The groom's gift to his bride was a tie pin, to the bride a pearl ring, and to the organist an amethyst rosary.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley took the 4.30 flyer, going west from Yarker, on an extended honeymoon through Canadian and American cities, and on their return will reside on Wolfe Island at the popular Reed's Bay summer resort.

ARRANGE ENTERTAINMENTS

For the Soldiers of Sydenham and Mowat Hospitals.

At the Military "Y" activity is apparent, a schedule of entertainments for the coming winter season having been drawn up at a meeting at which representatives from the different churches were present. The churches last year were always ready to assist the Military "Y" in its work and put on concerts, etc., for the benefit of the soldier patients, and the "Y" secretary, George Young, hopes to have at least one concert a week throughout the winter. They will probably be given alternately at Mowat and Sydenham hospitals.

A meeting of the Kingston Ministerial Association was held last week to consider supplying the hospitals with suitable speakers for the Sunday services, the chaplains being recently dispensed with. It was decided that the different churches would take turn about supplying the vacancy, and a special committee was appointed, with Rev. Taylor Dale of Cooke's church as convener, to handle the matter.

Dr. R. V. Bray, prominent citizen of Chatham, is dead.

HEAVY FINES ARE LEVIED ON TWO BOOTLEGGERS

Man and Woman Go to Jail—Auto Driver Fined For Speeding.

The Ontario Temperance Act pinches hard. Magistrate Farrell handed out two stiff fines in the Blue Monday session of the police court.

Marilee Fox was charged with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, said place being his taxi. He said he was not guilty of being the owner of the liquor, but admitted that the "strong stuff" was in his car, and that he was transporting it.

The magistrate imposed a sentence of three months in jail with a fine of $500 and costs, with an additional three months if the fine is not paid.

A woman, who was with Fox, and who purchased the liquor, in Montreal, was fined $10 and costs for being intoxicated and was fined $200 and costs or three months for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. The couple fell into the police nets on Saturday night, near the outer station.

Charles Austin was up for being intoxicated in a public place. He said he had been drinking lemon extract and was fined $10 and costs.

Arthur Marlow admitted that he had been burning up the roadway on Montreal street with his auto, on September 28th, or in other words was going beyond the speed limit of twenty miles allowed by the law. Constable Hornbeck caught him in the act. He was fined the usual $5 and costs.
