IT'S GOOD TO FEEL WELL!
 Redmac, the Restorer of Health
 If you are fagged out at night or have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, REDMAC will put you on your feet.
 When you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset, when you can no longer do your day's work without being all in, do not wait till you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in a weakened condition, you contract some serious disease, but take REDMAC at once to help to enrich your blood and to strengthen your worn-out nerves.
 If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without being tired—next take REDMAC for a few days. Then test your strength again, and see how much you have gained.

Kingston and Vicinity

Came With E. W. Beatty.
 Mr. Humphries, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Mr. Groat accompanied E. W. Beatty to the city on Tuesday.

Some Roads Bad.
 Some of the roads in the country are in a bad condition following the heavy rains. Autos arriving in the city on Wednesday from outside points, were covered with mud.

It Pays To Look Around.
 See our blue serge suits, splendid quality, all wool, made in single breasted style. These suits were sold regularly at $35.00—clear $25.00. Sizes 35 to 42. Prevost clothing store, Brock street.

Returned to Kingston.
 Capt. A. H. Lee, M.C., R.C., M.G. B., has returned to Kingston after attending the annual course in Ottawa of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, and a few weeks leave of absence spent in England and the Isle of Wight.

Our Daily Rain.
 "We are getting our daily rain," remarked a citizen on Wednesday afternoon, when the shower started. October has certainly been a wet month, but the farmers need rain so the city folk should not grumble.

Await Third Candidate.
 The man on the street is now awaiting to hear the name of the government candidate for Kingston, and is wondering if Sir Henry Drayton is to be the opponent of J. M. Campbell, Liberal, and Dr. E. J. O'Connor, Labor.

Archbishop Worrell Here.
 Archbishop Worrell of Nova Scotia, who has been attending the Anglican General Synod, arrived in the city on Wednesday afternoon accompanied by Mrs. Worrell. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kirkpatrick.

Proper Advertising.
 Readers of newspapers are adept at the art of constructing a "body from a limb." This is especially true of those who read advertisements. It is no longer possible for a store to create an impression of bigness, enterprise, or importance through small, spasmodic or unalluring advertisements.

Suffered a Fall.
 An inmate of the Home for the Aged, Mr. Sanderson, took a weak spell while on his way upstairs at the institution on Monday night, and suffered injuries to his back. He is receiving the best of care, and it was reported today that he was getting along nicely.

Met at Station.
 Sir Lomer Gouin and E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway reached the city by private car on the C.P.R. on Wednesday afternoon. They were met at the station by Principal R. Bruce Taylor and J. M. Campbell, and accompanied to Queen's University by Dr. Taylor and Mr. Campbell.

Bad Times in West.
 Many of the Kingston boys who went to Western Canada this year on the harvest excursion have returned to the city, the majority reporting very bad conditions out there. Some journeyed as far as Alberta, and even then never obtained work, or else for a few days only, which would not pay their expenses. Others were obliged to pay their own board. The lucky ones were those who had been in the country before and were known by the farmers. These conditions were notably due to the thousands who have been out of employment in Winnipeg and other large western cities.

FRENCH MISSION MOBBED IN ITALY.
 Serious disturbances attended the visit of Marshal Fayolle and the French mission to Milan to place wreaths on the graves of Italian war dead. The French officers were hissed on their arrival at Milan while in Venice a threatening mob surrounded the mission. The photograph shows Marshal Fayolle reviewing the Italian guard of honor at Milan station.

Granddad Beaver's Treasure Chest.
 Granddad Beaver sighed, sat down on a pile of sticks and scratched his head. He had almost finished his little wigwam, and was waiting for another cold spell before putting on it the last coat of mud.
 "Not a bad job of repairing," he mused as he sized up his winter quarters. "But the thing that bothers me how shall I spend my time from now on? I hesitate to see folks idle."
 Just then Mama Beaver rounded the corner. Spying him, she stopped and asked: "How is everything going?"
 "Fair-to-middling," replied Granddad Beaver. "How's it with you?"

"How Shall I Spend My Time?"
 Suppose your oldest are busy building for themselves these days. Not long until frost low!"
 "Granddad," said Mama Beaver, glad to be able to open her heart to some one, "those boys worry me terribly. They don't mean to be shiftless or lazy, but I can't get them interested in building," and she wiped her eyes on her apron. "They don't realize the need of haste."
 "There, there! Dry your tears and leave them to me," he chuckled. "I'll show them how to do," and he seized her home smiling.

That evening Granddad Beaver called on Mama Beaver, and asked if he might take the two boys, Wiggy Beaver and Twiggy Beaver, out for a while. At first he had a hard time convincing Mama Beaver it would be all right, for every evening at sundown the two boys were tucked into bed and not allowed to run out like other beaver boys. But after much coaxing, Mama Beaver gave in, and away the happy boys trotted with Granddad.

"I'm after lumber for a treasure chest," said Granddad Beaver, leading them into the woods. "And I thought you boys would enjoy building one."
 He chose a poplar tree nearest the stream and began nibbling the bark. The boys were so delighted at the idea of making a treasure chest they helped him with all their might. It was great sport being out after dark

Shoes are Unnatural

NATURE never intended us to wear shoes—she intended us to go barefoot. But because it is necessary to disregard nature in this respect, it is not necessary to cripple ourselves.

From early childhood some feet are deformed—bent out of shape by narrow shoes—crippled. Why let your child's feet be like this?

HURLBUT cushion sole SHOES allow the foot to grow as nature intended. The broad toe gives room to grow for every toe—the cushion sole gives a springy natural tread. The shoes are welted and insure the lowest cost per day of wear.

Write for booklet about Hurlbut "Re-built Service" and we will tell you the name of the Hurlbut dealer nearest to you.

Much better than going to bed. Granddad Beaver showed the boys the best way to fell a tree. He told them why it was better to cut the trunk deeper on the water side, and when the tree fell with a splash into the stream the boys danced and yelled at the tops of their voices. The stream carried the tree down to the dam near Granddad Beaver's wigwam. Night after night the beaver boys worked hard helping Granddad Beaver. Then one morning Mama Beaver was led out to see the treasure chest —the nicest, coziest little wigwam in Beaverville, and the boys had built every bit of it themselves.

 "Ah I did," Granddad Beaver told Mama Beaver, "was to show them how to do it. Wasn't it fine, boys?"
 "Great!" the beaver boys exclaimed. They had learned to love to work, so they helped Granddad Beaver out the last coat of mud on his wigwam, and when the first frosts came every one in Beaverville was ready for the winter.
