IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS OR STOMACH IS BAD, TAKE "CASCARETS"

Get a 10-cent box now. Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which bours and ferments like garbage in a barrel. That's the first step of untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, everything that is sickening. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

SOME LIVELY CONTESTS LOOKED FOR IN ONTARIO

What the Montreal Star Reports Regarding Political Outlook in Ont.

Montreal Star Despatch Toronto, Oct. 25.—There is a loosening process going on in Ontario that is perhaps not observable to many, in view of the attention now being paid to the tours of the respective political leaders. The number of candidates already in the field for all parties is approaching close to the number that will appear on the ballot papers. Some of the tried veterans of parliament are among them, in spite of rumors that they would not be. Others have stepped out or have not carried conventions. William Sutton, a miller, grain and coal merchant of Simcoe, who was the unanimous choice of the National Liberal and Conservative party in Simcoe county will make a strong fight there. He is a Liberal who approves the government's tariff policy and all accounts agree that a better choice could not have been made to contest the riding against the farmer nominee.

As the despatches to the Star have indicated Premier Meighen is everywhere being received by big crowds at his Ontario meetings, and the meetings are enthusiastic. That is rather a disappointment to the other two parties one gathers. They seem to have had the idea that Ontario was coldly indifferent to the government.

Hon. Mr. Crerar whose opening meetings have also been attended and addressed by Premier Drury and J. J. Morrison, the battling secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, is also having big crowds. How far these are due to curiosity to see and hear the leader of a new party is problematical.

Parade in the Fight.

Fred Pardee was the only one mentioned at the Liberal convention for West Lambton and was the unanimous choice. There have been plenty of rumors from that section of the country that Fred, who has represented the riding so long in parliament, was due to get his bumps and that the party was all in a snarl. Nothing happened at the convention to give the slightest indication of such a state of affairs.

A big fight is assured in East Elgin—old battling ground of the two parties of political tradition. John Stansell, a farmer who made a good run in the three-cornered fight a year ago when Sidney McDevand, the U.F.O. man, won out in the bye-election, has been chosen by the Liberal-conservative party. There are prospects of victory there for the government supporter that were not conceded in the bye-election.

Col. Hugh Clarke, of the solemn face and the merry nature, is going to have a lively time in North Bruce. James Malcolm, a manufacturer of Hugh's home town, Kincaidline, has been selected as the Liberal candidate, and the farmers already have a candidate in the field.

Guss Porter Looks Good. E. Guss Porter, K.C., West Hart-

ings' representative for twenty years, has the unanimous support of the Liberal-Conservative party of the riding. He looks to have a fine chance of going back. One of the men who withdrew his name from the nomination and voted to make Mr. Porter's choice unanimous was R. J. Graham, his opponent at the last election. He declared himself a Conservative and a strong supporter of the government's policies.

James D. Chaplin, the former member, has an enthusiastic force of Liberal-Conservatives behind him in Lincoln. Little can be told to the manufacturing town of St. Catharines and the fruit farmers of the adjacent territory in respect to the tariff. They are solid on that. The prospects there are for an unquestionable government victory.

These typical instances of the manner in which Ontario is lining up for the battle, are given merely as illustrative of the stirring interest in the province. It is not expected that there will be a single riding in which there will be an acclamation. Even in the majority of the urban ridings the chances are that three candidates will appear. The independent Labor Party and parties that one seldom, if ever, heard of before, are coming into the field in a more or less concrete form.

Toronto Outlook Normal.

In Toronto, despite all the fuss that is made over the actualities in some quarters, the Liberal-Conservative nominations are taking the course that the party experts believed they would. The dropping of Tom Foster, in East York, was not at all unexpected to those on the inside. There is a very strong young element in the party in that riding, and they are most progressive. They will have the support of the Foster following just the same, and will make one whirlwind of a fight.

In the city, Liberal headquarters is beginning to show as much sign of life as has long existed at the headquarters of the government party, and the U.F.O. It is announced that Hon. Mr. King will make another appearance here. That will be on Saturday, November 5th. Superstitious folks may see something ominous in this anniversary of Guy Fawkes day.

The Passing of Dewart.

The passing of Hartley H. Dewart, K.C., the leader of the provincial Liberal party, hasn't caused more than a ripple on the political surface. It has been expected for some time, as it has been obvious that elements in his following in the legislature as well as in the country, were not in harmony with him on many points of policy—their drift being rather toward the party led by Premier Drury. Mr. Dewart's health also has not been very good of late. It was of the temperance question that he was, perhaps, at greater odds with his party than any other. Traditionally a prohibition party in this province, the Liberals haven't exactly cottoned to the debonair Hartley's more cosmopolitan views on that policy.

Wellington Hay, the liberal whip, will be leader of the party until its reorganization is decided. J. W. Curry, K.C., who wouldn't follow Mr. Dewart at the last session, will probably re-enter the fold now. He was at the caucus which received Mr. Dewart's letter of resignation.

NOT POSSIBLE TO HOLD

Large Area in Anatolia Unless The Greeks Build Barracks.

Brusa, Asia Minor, Oct. 22.—The problem of holding, throughout the autumn and winter, the large area in Anatolia the Greeks occupy since their advance on Angora has been checked, appears to be a serious one. In the judgment of competent military critics it will not be possible unless the Greeks are able to erect barracks or other shelters suitable for rains and heavy snows which are bound to ensue.

A great part of this territory is devoid of living abodes of any kind. To shelter the troops in tents during the cold months will be out of the question. The making of earth dugouts might solve the problem, but the country furnishes absolutely no wood or other fuel.

Some observers go as far as to predict that if the Hellenic forces attempt to hold this vast area during the winter, they will repeat Napoleon's disastrous retreat from Moscow.

When the Greeks set themselves the task of reaching Angora through a long detour south of the Sakaria River, they had a very imperfect conception of the real topographical features of the country. They depended almost entirely upon maps which had been made 25 years ago and which in many cases gave no indication of the mountainous character and physical obstacles of the country. Once they drove the Turks east of the Sakaria, they believed their way would be relatively easy. But they found their adversaries strongly entrenched in commanding ridges of the hills and mountains which were all but impregnable. It was from these dominant positions that the Turks poured down upon the Greeks on the plains and valleys a withering machine-gun and artillery fire which only superhuman effort could have overcome.

The Greek losses in dead and wounded are estimated at more than 15,000. The Turkish casualties are believed to be somewhat less. The prisoners taken by the Greeks numbered approximately 1,500.

The exhaustion of the Greek troops after their several hundred miles of marching and their 16-days battle was another vital reason that prompted the Greek general staff to halt the struggle against the Kemalists. It was clear the Greek troops could not have gone on much longer. Not only were they greatly enervated by their long hard marches over desert-like land, but they had insufficient food, water and sleep.
