It was made up of $1,000 insurance money which Frank, a son who was killed in the war, had upon his life, and $500 which Tom, another son killed in the war, had upon his life. The balance of over $200 was added from time to time by Mr. and Mrs. McGowan, who for reasons known to themselves did not deposit it in the bank. A week ago Mr. McGowan concluded to make an investment, and proceeding to the cash box found everything gone. As he had no occasion for some time to touch the money, he cannot even guess when the theft took place.
