BOARD OF WORKS MEETS

Changes Auto Parking Area on Sydenham Street to Clergy Street.

The Board of Works met on Wednesday afternoon and disposed of the usual accounts and several applications. There was nothing of importance for consideration. Ald. Angrove presided and the members present were: Aids, Sargent, Corbett, Couper and O'Connor.

A request for permission to erect a broom factory was granted Messrs. Herrington and Crosier.

The city engineer reported upon the petition from residents of Sydenham street against its use as a parking area. He recommended that Clergy street, east side, be used instead, and this was approved.

A petition was presented from residents in the vicinity of the fair grounds complaining against the smoke and dust from the asphalt plant in operation there. Many suggestions were made for a new location of the plant, but no conclusions were reached and the engineer still has the matter under consideration.

A deputation from the Frontenac Moulding Company appeared before the board and urged repairs to the roadway leading to their plant. An appropriation was quite recently authorized for this purpose but only $100 was spent. The road was reported to be in bad condition, and the board took immediate action, directing the chairman to confer with the chairman of the industries committee as the township of Kingston had agreed to pay half the cost of repairs.

The petition of Mrs. Rose McGinnis asking that the carters' stand on Ontario street be moved was laid over for consideration, upon the return of the chief of police.

Ald. Potter's request for a sidewalk on Patrick street from Stephen to Pine street was referred to the engineer for report.

THE HIGHLAND CADETS TO BE ENTERTAINED

The Rotary Club Members and Families to Have a Night Out.

Through the courtesy of Rotarian Rex Snelgrove, proprietor of the Rex Amusement Company, the Highland Cadets who assisted the club in collecting funds for the Children's Aid Society on Saturday last, will be entertained at the Grand Opera House tonight. They will occupy the downstairs box seats. The members of the Rotary Club and their families will attend in a body. The Rotarians will introduce special features between the acts, when Rotary songs, etc., will be sung. Between acts one and two the Club will lead in community singing, and between the two and three a crystal gazing feature such as no Mesiah ever attempted, will be presented. The Rotarians will be out in large numbers and they promise to make things unusually lively tonight. The cadets did excellent work in collection of funds and Rotarian Rex and the club members feel that they should be rewarded by an evening's entertainment.

Letters to the Editor

Neighborhood and Religion.

Wilbur, Nov. 2.—(To the Editor): I have read in your paper the article, "Keeping Up With Our Neighbor," and the essay may be O.K., from a worldly standpoint yet in my opinion this state of affairs is an abomination in the sight of God, for it savors of pride, extravagance and selfishness. What about the poor people of which there are so many and always was, particularly at this present time? Where is their money, grandeur or style, whose labor produces the rich capitalists' wealth? Ah! they have none now! I think of these people struggling for appearances each one trying to overdo the other in having better houses, grandeur, clothes, society, etc. If they would contribute some of their possessions or money to the poor people's use, then I believe something would be done worth while. It is all right to have a clean and good appearance in your dress, and a good home, yet I hold it to be a sin to be extravagant, proud and selfish. We should not study our own needs altogether, but should remember others who are needy. Consideration should be shown just now when so much distress is among our poor neighbors, yet the whole all-important study and aim as far as the rich and middle class are concerned, is to mind themselves, no matter about their poor neighbors.

Concerning religion it seems to me, as far as church matters are concerned, that Christianity is on the decline. When I was a boy thirty years ago poor folk who wore shabby clothes in going to church were welcomed, taken by the hand and greeted with a smile, in short, always received a cordial reception. How different now! If our poor neighbors dare to venture nowadays into any place of worship they are glowered at and looked down on as if they were going to rob a hen roost!

I have nothing to say against any who are doing well in an honest and upright way, neither do I object to their trying to live up to their neighbors providing they should, in particular, consider their poor neighbors' wants, helping them as much as possible. There is a verse in the Bible that says: "He that giveth to the poor lendeth unto the Lord." As Dean Swift said: Now if you are satisfied with the security then down with the dust.

Lambs With Black Hair.

Renfrew, Nov. 2.—James Fennesse, a local stock dealer, on a recent visit to Montreal purchased three rare specimens of lambs. Every one of these animals is covered with black hair similar to that which grows on a bear, but they are perfectly normal in shape. D. W. Budd, who purchased one of the specimens, has disposed of it to a museum in New York, to which city it has been shipped. The two others have been secured by another local man, who has already received an offer of a fancy figure for them.

Too many men are never satisfied with wasting their own time.

Newspapers Are Not Political Hacks Now

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review says: A feature of the present election campaign is the attitude of the newspapers. It is a changed attitude. In other days practically every newspaper in the country was associated with a political party, and its chief business during a campaign was to support the candidate of its party and abuse his opponent. Now the most of the newspapers are attending chiefly to the work of making and publishing a newspaper. According to the Orangeville Banner, the rural papers are not saying a word in this campaign—the country newspaper "has graduated from a Grit or Tory back into a real business."

The Marmora Herald also notes the change and explains that it is largely the result of the same conditions which have produced the Progressive movement, not that a large number of papers are adopting the Progressive platform, but that "they have concluded that running a newspaper is a business the same as any other industry, and that it is a poor way to conduct a business to let it become the tool of any party or organization."

The Toronto Star commenting on the situation declares that this changed attitude is markedly observable in Ontario, but not in Ontario alone. It adds that it is not likely to shall again have as politicians a press as formerly.

The trend towards greater independence has been noticeable in the press of Canada for some time. It was a natural development but there is no doubt that the movement was greatly hastened by conditions in the newspaper world, which made it absolutely necessary for publishers to get down to a strictly business basis or quit.

Course of Duck's Flight.

Marmora, Nov. 2.—Some little time ago two Marmora sportsmen shot a duck in Long Swamp that had a metal tag attached to its leg, bearing the number 4888, and asking that a communication be sent to the Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington, D.C. A reply has been received stating that this tag was placed on a duck at Scugog Lake by Mr. Oster on Sept. 28th of this year. The purpose was to determine as nearly as possible the course taken by the ducks in their migrations.
