CASE OVER A BOGUS CHEQUE

Merchant Cashed It, But Bank Had "No Funds" For It.

There was much ado in police court on Thursday morning, over a cheque some person issued to Mrs. Rose Drake, for the sum of $19 and a few odd cents. Said cheque was marked "no funds," when it reached the bank, after being cashed at the United Grocery store, Princess street. As a result, Mrs. Drake charged one Richard Joyce with false pretences. She declared that Joyce had given her the cheque, but the accused denied the charge most emphatically. He had rented a room for a couple of nights at Mrs. Drake's home, with another young man, but he declared that he had not given her the cheque. He noticed the other roomer writing out a cheque, and he presumed that this was the cheque that Mrs. Drake had received.

Mrs. Drake purchased some groceries at the United Grocery and presented the cheque, which was honored, but when the cheque reached a local bank there were no funds to meet it. The case was enlarged for a day.

George D. Kennedy, a stranger in the city, is troubled with a weak heart, and according to his evidence, a local doctor examined him and gave him an order for a quart of whiskey. He took an overdose of his medicine, and landed in the police cells. He was not only intoxicated, according to the police, but also had a bottle "on his hip." He was fined $200 and costs for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, and on the charge of being intoxicated he was given the usual fine of $10 and costs.

Drake's Misfortune.
To come to police court, to give evidence in a case, and then to be held on a charge of drunkenness, was the misfortune of one, James Drake, on Thursday morning. Drake was giving evidence in behalf of his wife, Rose Drake, plaintiff in a case Magistrate Farrell noticed that the Drake was "under the weather," and when the case was over, Constable Fitzgerald escorted Drake to the cells.

To The Ministers.
The arrival of copy for church notices on Saturday morning makes publication almost impossible. If ministers will oblige with copy Friday insertion can be guaranteed. Otherwise they run the risk of omission.

WOULDN'T WEAR FALSE FACE MADE IN GERMANY!

On Saturday evening a little eight-year-old lad, living in the north side of the city, went to a nearby shop to buy a false face in preparation for Halloween. Coming home and examining his purchase he found a disfiguring black mark. His mother saw him scratching it off but as he said nothing, paid no attention to him. However, bright and early on Monday he went out and coming back presently said, "Well, I got my fifteen cents back for that old false face." "What was the matter with it?" asked his mother. "When I scratched off the mark I found 'Made in Germany' underneath; do you think I'd wear it and my daddy out in Sydenham hospital where they say he will never be better? Well, I guess not."

St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. Social.

St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. held a Halloween social Wednesday evening. The school room was beautifully decorated and it was decided to leave the decorations up until after the tea to be held on Monday next. The attendance was especially large, seventy young people being present, and partaking of games, etc. There was a splendid orchestra of six pieces from the R.C.H.A. which contributed a number of very fine selections. Refreshments were provided by the A.Y.P.A. The programme included solos from Mr. Pilgrim and Mr. Busi. The unanimous opinion was that it was one of the finest evenings held at St. Paul's in many years. Miss Athurs, president, Mr. Bush, vice president, and Canon and Mrs. Fitzgerald received the young people.
