ROTARY CLUB AT GRAND PRESENTATIONS WERE MADE

They Attended the Rex Company's Play on Thursday Evening.

The Rotary Club took possession of the Rex Stock Thursday night, when the Rex Stock Company presented the laughable comedy, "Billy's Tombstones," with the result that there was little opportunity on the part of the audience to reflect on business worries or domestic cares. Both Rex and Rotary believe that the tinkle of a laugh is the spring song in the heart of every man, and that one who worries starves his soul. In consequence of the energetic practice of this creed, the audience at the Grand left the building with brighter faces, encouraged in the battle of life simply by a few hours of happy and care-free laughter.

Even during the intermission there was action and it kept everyone on the alert, in order not to miss the innovations introduced by the Rotarians. A song sheet was issued with each programme and community singing was practised as part of the added attractions between the acts. One of the features, was the first and only appearance in Canada of an Eastern potentate, famed in black magic and astral satellites, and who answered the written questions of members of the audience. Rotarian Grace, who inquired whether the approaching winter would be severe, received the astonishingly correct answer, that it would be if there was plenty of snow, and Rotarian "Jack" Phillips, seeking advice on how to wash dishes, was advised to use the hose. Rotarian Graham asked for information regarding a lost parcel and was told gravely that it was lost near the corner of Clarence and Wellington streets, and appeared to be of a liquid nature.

Miss Zana Vaughn received a beautiful bouquet of roses, while each of the ladies of the company were presented with a box of chocolates by the Rotary Club. The splendid spirit of fellowship between the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs was evidenced by the presence of a large number of Kiwanians in the audience.

A touch of color was added by the presence of the Highland Cadet Corps, in their smart scarlet doublets and tartan trews, accompanied by their instructors in blue patrol. The boys were the guests of Rotarian Snelgrove, who wished to show the appreciation of the Rotary Club at the cadets turning out for the tag day last Saturday. Needless to say, the boys were just as proud to be the guests of this popular artist, as they were happy to be of assistance to the Rotary Club.

The comedy itself, which is played with the finesse which characterizes all Rex productions, deals with the mysterious disappearance of a set of false teeth belonging to Billy Hargrave, and furnishes plenty of scope for many laughable situations, which are capitalized to the full by a talented cast. A Spanish writer has said that pleasure is very seldom found where it is sought, and for this reason it is probably desirable to advise Kingstonians that they will make no error in seeking for amusement at the Grand, where Billy Hargrave's false-hearted false teeth will continue to disappear tonight, also at the bargain matinee Saturday afternoon, and for the last time on Saturday evening.

Found Honey in Woods.

Recently when making a search in the woods near Verona, Frank Smith and his brother, J. E. Smith, discovered a large nest of bees in an old pine stump. The two men thought that they would make a close investigation with the result that they located a couple of hundred pounds of honey. The honey was brought home. A representative of the Whig, who had an opportunity to taste the honey, pronounced it first class.

Penitentiary Population.

On Thursday the population at the Portsmouth penitentiary was 114. The authorities state that prisoners are being brought so rapidly that it keeps them hustling to find accommodation.

It is expected that when the fall courts are completed, more prisoners will be brought to Portsmouth.

Of Royal Standard and Camp Tartan, to Sons of Scotland.

Thursday night was a gala night for the members of the Sir William Wallace Camp, Sons of Scotland, the occasion being the presentation of a royal standard and camp tartan, the gifts of Bro. John Booth, Toronto, and a social evening. There was a very large attendance of members, and the event was a great success in every way. It was without doubt, one of the biggest nights the camp has had, and everyone was more than pleased.

The presentation address was made by Past Chief Rev. Dr. John Mackie, who delivered a timely address in making the presentations. Dr. D. A. Volume also gave an interesting address.

During the evening a splendid programme was rendered, a very number of which was given with fine effect, and well merited the liberal applause given. The programme included the following numbers:

Pipe selection, Piper Nelson, of the 21st Battalion; song, "I Come From Scotland"; Miss Chrissie Irvine; recitation, Bro. A. Pollock; song, Bro. Jack Elder; monologue, Miss Goodfellow; song, Bro. J. D. Bankier; piano duet, Miss Rota and Master Stewart MacMillan; violin solo, Dr. Mackie; song, Bro. Jack Elder and "Auld Lang Syne," rendered by the company. Dainty refreshments were served, and dancing was also enjoyed. Mr. Bankier delighted the audience in his rendition of "The Standard on the Braes of Mar," and an encore, "Mary." Both were given with very fine effect. The programme also contained a number of Scotch dances. Miss Sarah Lindsay danced the Highland fling, and won much applause.

The standard presented is a large-sized one, with the name of the camp worked on it in silk. The camp tartan is of royal Stuart tartan. Mr. Dyason, a member of the camp, worked the name on the tartan, and the fine work of art was much admired.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. William McIntosh, Belleville; Mrs. Urquhart, Toronto; John Booth, Toronto, who presented the gifts, and whose presence was very much appreciated.

The entertainment committee, which is deserving of great praise for the success of the event was composed of Chief George Scott (chairman), James Hendry, Allan Pollock and Dr. Volume.

SANG MADAME BUTTERFLY.

Anna Fitzlu Gave Satisfying Interpretation in Montreal.

Montreal Gazette.
"Madame Butterfly" was the offering of the San Carlo Company at the St. Denis theatre last night, and it proved to be a most satisfying one to the large audience which had gathered to listen to this most tuneful of Puccini's works. Anna Fitzlu sang the role of the tragic Butterfly in fine voice, and presented an admirable interpretation of the role. Mme. Fitzlu added to the laurels she gained on Monday night through her singing of Tosca, and was thoroughly satisfactory in each episode of the opera.

A Drop in Apples.

There was a big drop in apples in Kingston on Thursday. No, dear reader, the drop was not in the price. The drop came about when an auto passing the corner of King and Brock streets, on Thursday afternoon hit a grocery wagon loaded with apples. One barrel was knocked off on the roadway. The head came out of the barrel, and the contents were scattered all over the street. Several citizens had a treat over the mishap.

Barn in Hastings Burned.

A large frame barn, the property of John Taylor, third concession of Tydeninaga Township, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night, with its contents, including eighteen head of cattle, four horses, farming implements and the season's crops. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars.
