Sunday School Girls' Basketball. The Sunday School Amateur Athletic Association girls' basketball league was officially opened at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium on Friday evening when the teams representing Sydenham street and Princess street Methodist churches met. Sydenham street girls, who won the league last winter, were victorious by a score of 20 to 11. The half time score was 13 to 4.

The game was one of the best exhibitions of basketball played at the "Y" in years. The girls who represent Princess street church only recently organized their team, and are deserving of great credit for the showing they made. The defence worked exceptionally well and with a little more practice they can be figured upon as one of the best teams in the league.

The Sydenham street girls played a good speedy game and were able to get away with a lot of real good combination play, which in many cases resulted in scores. Miss Anna Prager, who played at centre, accounted for eight baskets.

The teams were: Sydenham street—Forwards: Miss R. Vince, Miss K. Lockhart and Miss Violet Anglin; centre, Miss Anna Prager; defence, Miss Ruth Lyons, Miss Grace Wood and Miss A. Ada.

Princess street—Forwards: Misses M. Asseltine and Helen Gardiner; centre, Miss M. Clark; defence: Miss Delaney and Miss F. Connolly; spares, Miss H. Alexander and Miss M. Pierce.

Refere: Stirling Gibson. Bethel and St. James' were scheduled to play, but it was learned on Friday that the Bethel girls have decided not to compete, so this will mean that the schedule will have to be revised.

LITTLE RED WALKING HEELS. PARIS WEARS NIGHT AND DAY. New York, Nov. 5.—The other day a business woman, just back from Paris, wore to her office a pair of slippers with red heels. The result was a decreased efficiency in her office force. The stenographer wore down an eraser on the mistakes in copy. The office boy took her frock to the printer's and her manuscript to the typewriter and her manuscript to the printer's and her manuscript to the typewriter and her manuscript to the printer's.

In Paris the situation would have been directly reversed. There, ha, she wore black heels, the efficiency expert might have had to be summoned. For Paris, according to the report of the heroine of this incident, as well as of other returned pilgrims, has concentrated not upon the right fantastic too, but upon the bright fantastic heel. To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

Sunday's horoscope holds the promise of active and interesting conditions, which should work out with success and satisfaction. Sign all writings carefully. Be particularly discreet in all social conduct. Those whose birthday it is may look for a successful and active year. They should sign all papers cautiously and be discreet in their conduct. A child born on this day will be active, steady and persevering, and yet should be well-trained to win the highest success.

Monday's astrological map holds several beneficial figures, with all of the major planets in active operation. The outlook is for troubled hours, with danger to some in the employment of others, duplicity, fraud, disappointment, frustrated plans, and all the ills that come through impetuosity, bad temper and rash judgment. Notwithstanding, the financial outlook is good.

Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of a troublesome year, which they can avoid by patience, coolness, good judgment and caution. A child born on this day may have an unsettled career, and be given to worry about trifles unless wisely trained, and may be helped by a wise use of the classified advertisements.

Classified advertisements can be used to good advantage on this day. wearing red heels to breakfast, dinner and supper.

Little red walking heels—it is but one indication of a mood reflected in the autumn importance from the shrine of fashion. This mood is to concentrate upon accessories and upon minor details of the costume rather than upon the costume itself. The changes in the silhouette are so trifling that they fail to interest any save the technician.

Many ways have been recommended for finishing button-holed edges of dollies, contrepieces and other articles but nothing is better than the following:

Cut just outside the stamped lines of scallop, turn the edge and baste with short stitches and buttonhole the scallop thus prepared. A smoother, prettier edge cannot be imagined, and there will be no raveling when it is washed. Instead of buttonholing you can work double crochet, either plain or with picots, around the scallops. This does away with the trouble of cutting scallops after they are worked.

Unless the scissors are very sharp it is impossible to do clean, smooth work, and with sharp scissors, one is very apt to accidentally cut the piece.

GOWNS AT TORONTO DANCE. Mrs. Cocksbut was picturesque in the season's modish black and silver. Her black charmeuse gown had net panels embroidered with silver flowers, and a wide girde of silver brocade and a fish tail train of charmeuse were finishing touches. An arched touch of crimson roses was the only touch of color. An unusual number of smart matrons attended the school dance, and black silk or grey was much the vogue. A stunning model of black chiffon velvet beaded with seed pearls was draped over a petticoat of silver lace with narrow flesh train lined with silver. Vivid frocks prevailed among the younger set, though the black frocks included one of chiffon velvet adorned with monkey fur. Quaint picture frocks seem the favored modes.

For the Young Housekeeper. 1-4 cup pumpkin, 1-4 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1-4 teaspoon ginger, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Stir the ingredients together and pour into a tin lined with plain pastry. Bake slowly for about one hour until the filling is firm. When cold, form a ring of current or plum jelly or butter next the crust. Garnish the centre of the pie with sweetened whipped cream.

Easy Washing You'll hardly believe it—until you try it. Just soak the clothes in the rich, pure, cleansing Rinso suds overnight (or for three hours) and then rinse them thoroughly either in warm or cold water. They will be as clean as though they had been boiled and rubbed.

RINSO—Not a cake soap, or a chip soap, but new and better—fine granules so rich in soap that they loosen the dirt as the clothes soak. If you have a washing machine—Soak the clothes overnight in the usual Rinso way. The cleaning soda loosens every bit of dirt. In the morning operate the machine for a few minutes and the clothes are perfectly clean—even the most soiled spots.
