INTERCOLLEGIATE HARRIERS HELD MEET HERE ON FRIDAY

The University of Toronto Carried Off Honors With Royal Military College Second—Queen's Make Better Showing Than Formerly.

The intercollegiate harrier meet was run off from Queen's stadium on Friday morning and turned out to be a successful event in every way. Toronto University runners took first honors, and the Royal Military College showed up in second place, an exceedingly creditable position for such a college. Queen's, although they did not have a man higher than tenth place out of twenty, still made a better showing than they have in the last few years. The time was very good for the course. The course run is a new one of five miles, 1,348 yards, laid out this year by A. Baker, manager of the Queen's Harrier Club. It begins at the Richardson stadium, goes out Union to the Forty-foot Road, to Bath road, to Princess street, to Macdonnell street, to Union street and thence back to the stadium. All clubs expressed themselves as well pleased with the new course.

- The finish was as follows:
1. McAuliffe, University of Toronto.
2. Leigh, University of Toronto.
3. Bell and Stevenson, University of Toronto.
4. Gardiner, Royal Military College.
5. Nelson, Royal Military College.
6. Mathews, Royal Military College.
7. Wiggins, McGill.
8. Pritchard, Royal Military College.
9. Findlay, Queen's.

12. Craigie, University of Toronto.
13. Taylor, Queen's.
14. Turner, Royal Military College.

Queen's Harrier Club is on its feet again after being almost deserted for a long period. Many students have been interested this year and the runners representing Queen's moved up one step and took third place. Due to a late start, not much progress was possible in perfecting competitors, but enthusiasm was inaugurated in connection with the club. Manager Baker, while expressing regrets that he could not start early, says there is a very bright future ahead for the harrier club at Queen's and expressed himself as greatly pleased with the results of the present meet.

CONACHER AND SNYDER

Hamilton Fans to Select The Better One After Monday. Down at Varsity they claim that Snyder is equally as good a half-back as Conacher, and they look for that to be proven if Argos should meet the university team in the Canadian championships. McGill had just as hard a time stopping Snyder last Saturday as some of the Big Four teams have had in stopping Conacher, but next Monday's game at Hamilton will offer a line on the two great players. Conacher has been able to run loose in most of the games he has played this season, the tilt against Tigers there being the only game in which he was balked, and even then he got in some runs that had good results. If Snyder manages to create the same impression here that Conacher did, then it is likely that Varsity will be favorites, as far as Hamilton is concerned, for the Canadian title.

Intends to Stick. The Stanislaus Zbyszko, the big Pole who holds the championship of the world's catch-as-catch-can wrestling, believes, for all advancing age, his career on the mat has much time to run, is indicated by recent remarks. "I was a long time getting to the top of the ladder in wrestling in America," said Stanislaus, "and, although I wish I were younger, I propose to stay at the top a long time. This will be my fourth season in America and I mean to make it my greatest, to perform as a champion might be expected to perform. "I will open on Nov. 7th in Des Moines, in a match with Earl Cadlock of Iowa, and, following that, I have engagements taking me to the far West and back again. I bar no man, Joe Stecher, Ed. (Strangler) Lewis, whom I beat for the title, or any of them."

Death of Famous Canadian Rider. Harry Lewis, ex-jockey who claimed to have won three Queen's Plates for Joseph Seagram of Waterloo, and to have ridden in the Derby of 1893 for Lord Rosebery, died at Forth Arthur, aged 54 years. Lewis also rode Martima for the late William Hendrie, when that horse won the Futurity in New York, the most valuable purse ever won by a Canadian horse, exceeding $48,000. Deceased was born in Glasgow.

Murray of Princeton, made a ninety-yard run—not the full length of the field—in the game with the Navy last year. Madison Square Garden has a swimming pool capable of accommodating 4,000 persons at one time.

Rickard Plans To Give Briton A Real Test

Joe Beckett, English heavyweight champion, will be seen in a bout at Madison Square Garden, New York, late next month or early next year, if plans of Promoter Tex Rickard materialize. It was reported yesterday that Rickard has been in negotiation with the British heavyweight title-holder in an effort to get Beckett to agree to a match here under the promoter's auspices. It is understood Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, will be selected to test England's champion in the event that Beckett decides to make a visit to this country.

Ever since last summer Beckett has been reported as contemplating a visit to America. His recent victory over Boy McCormick, Irish heavyweight, is calculated to strengthen Beckett's determination to cross the ocean in quest of further ring conquests and the accompanying remuneration. Beckett has defeated all his English rivals and has advanced to a position where he is supreme in the ranks of British heavyweights. He has failed, however, to exhibit any qualifications which would cause him to be regarded above the ordinary class. As a matter of fact, a number of English critics have stamped Beckett the leader of a surprisingly weak crop of heavyweights. The comparative inferiority of Beckett was clearly demonstrated in the English boxer's crushing defeat at the hands of Carpentier. Beckett's one ring qualification is strength. He never has been regarded as a clever boxer or a skilled ringman, and prospects of his development or improvement are, for the most part, discounted. In the event that the English heavyweight comes to this country to battle Brennan the visitor will, in all probability receive a severe test. Brennan is regarded as one of the most dangerous heavyweights in the country. His greatest achievement was performed when he stood up against Champion Jack Dempsey for twelve rounds at Madison Square Garden last winter. Never before or since has Dempsey permitted a rival to carry him over that distance.

A safe combination is an open secret.
