HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

MOTORIST

ALBERT L. CLOUGH

Starting The Hot-Air Stove

DURING HOT WEATHER, some motorists disconnect the hot-air supply for the carburetor, although this is not so commonly done now as formerly, on account of the low grade fuel used in recent years. With the advent of cold weather it is very advantageous to have the hot-air connection in service, not only because this will insure better vaporization of the fuel under running conditions, but because it will shorten the warming up period of the engine, enable the car to be driven away quicker and reduce the tendency to dilute the engine oil with unburned gasoline. Unless an engine is provided with a hot-spot manifold, heated air for the mixture is practically necessary in severe weather if the warming up period is to be made reasonably short and it is almost hopeless to try to run an engine without one or the other of these vaporizing expedients, during the cold season. There are a number of makes of cars in which hot exhaust gas is applied to the carburetor body or elsewhere in the intake system to assist vaporization, through piping, flexible metallic tubing or drilled passages, which sometimes become obstructed with burned oil and soot so that the heated gases cannot pass through them. Care should be taken that the exhaust gas has a free passage around these heating jackets, now that the air temperature is becoming low.

DOPE ESCAPES FROM TRANSMISSION CASE

C. C. W. writes: I have a terrible noise in the transmission of my car when running on first, second and reverse. Have had it taken down, but the bearings and gears seem perfect. What causes the noise? Another thing, I cannot keep "dope" in the case, as it runs out along the shaft. There are no felt washers in this transmission. How is the lubricant prevented from escaping?

Answer: If this transmission ever ran quietly, noisy operation can hardly arise from anything but bearing trouble or from the chipping or otherwise deforming of the gear teeth, assuming that the right lubricant is used. And unless you are absolutely sure there is nothing wrong with the bearings, especially those of the countershaft, we should attribute the noise to play at these points, which throws the gears out of perfect mesh. The through shafts of this transmission are provided with throw-off rings, which direct excess lubricant into three catch pockets, from which it is returned through passages to the case. The lubricant to be used heavy fluid oil not grease and if the latter is used it sometimes stops up the return passages, causing the catch pockets to overflow and the grease to leak out.

DRIVING GEAR REPLACEMENTS

J. F. R. writes: I have broken one tooth of the ring-gear of my car, but find that it is otherwise all right. The pinion, however, seems noticeably worn. Would it be advisable to have the broken tooth repaired by welding and to use these same gears or would it be better to replace the pinion, now that I have the parts disassembled?

Answer: If you desire quiet operation, we advise you to replace both ring-gear and pinion. It would be possible to have the broken ring-gear tooth built up and cut to true form, but the job would cost quite a little and we fear it would prove noisy. It is not advisable to replace a pinion and not replace its ring-gear, as quiet running is seldom obtained in this way. Considering that your pinion is worn considerably and would perhaps have to be replaced in the near future, we should recommend you to make a thorough job of it by renewing both gears.

MANY ARE DEER HUNTING.

The Maberly Gunmen Are at Their Various Camps.

Maberly, Nov. 7.—The white flakes of snow have spread a beautiful covering over the ground, which makes it very appropriate for the hunters, who are wishing for it to continue throughout the season. Sad indeed was the death of the late George Buchanan, who peacefully passed away on Oct. 30th. Mrs. J. James, Smith's Falls, visited with Mrs. M. J. Strong, Miss Myra Munroe, Perth colleague, spent Sunday at home.

Alton Briggs, Perth, spent Sunday at his home here. Miss Edna Strong, Westport high school, spent her Thanksgiving holidays at her home here. C. Vantriv, Perth, spent Sunday at his home here. Wood Tuffy spent the week-end at home. A large number have gone deer hunting.

A quiet but pretty wedding was performed on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, at 4 p.m., by the Rev. B. Pierce, at 68 Victoria street, Kingston, of Miss Eliza Hamilton, second oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hamilton, Oconto, to Austin Strong, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Strong, Maberly. The bride looked lovely in a gown of rich silk messaline with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss E. R. Robinson, Kingston, and the groom was assisted by B. C. Brighton, also of Kingston. After the ceremony the happy young couple left amid showers of confetti and rice on their honeymoon to Shannonville, Napanee, Belleville and Westport, where they were accompanied home by Miss Edna Strong, sister of the groom. While at the groom's home, a very appropriate and appealing reception was held and supper was served to about fifty of the friends and relatives. The table was tastefully decorated and was centred by the bride's cake which looked marvellous and was made by Mrs. J. James, Smith's Falls. A most enjoyable evening was spent in dancing, but the wee small hours for home-going came all too soon. The bride received numerous and costly gifts which testified to the high esteem in which the young couple were held. After good wishes were extended to the young couple, the many friends departed to their homes. The happy young couple, after another reception at Tichbourne, will reside at Maberly where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

Lessing of Farms.

Washburn's Corners, Nov. 9.—Peter Hillebrand entertained a number of young people at his home here last week. Edward Arnold, Franklinville, has leased the property, known as the Wright farm, from Joshua Moulton for 1928. Regardless of weather conditions a number of Washburn's Corners' old friends came home for Thanksgiving. Richard Preston has leased the Judd farm for 1928.

A number from here attended the musical comedy, "Some Girl", in Brockville, on Friday night, and report it very pleasing. Thomas Flood is convalescing, having returned from the Brockville hospital last week. Mr. and Mrs. Blain Webster, Warburton, visited the home of their parents, recently. The farmers' ploughing was impeded by the snow and cold weather for the past couple of days.

A number from here attended the sale at E. Maxey's, Plum Hollow, Joshua Moulton had the misfortune to lose by theft about 1,000 feet of lumber, which was taken from an unoccupied house where it was stored. Mrs. W. Madill, Lakefield, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Washburn, recently.

Thanksgiving Events.

Hartington, Nov. 8.—At the Thanksgiving services Sunday evening Miss Muriel Sigworth sang a solo in fine voice. Monday evening a Thanksgiving supper was given by the Ladies' Aid at Edley Campsall's. Abundance of provision were provided and an enjoyable time was spent. Mrs. Fred Derison was in Toronto for the past week. Mr. Gardiner is able to be around again. Benjamin Campsall attended the funeral of his sister, Nancy Martin, on Wednesday, at Wilton. J. E. Freeman and party have gone deer hunting. Mrs. Wallace, Harrowsmith, is with Mrs. Freeman for a couple of weeks. Mrs. S. Woodman and daughter, Wolfe Island, returned home on Saturday. Hazel Huffman is sick. Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Shellington, Mr. and Mrs. M. Trousdale at Bert Patterson's.

Footwear is Cheaper.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—In the second report on the cost of living, Medical Officer of Health Hastings says that the investigation shows a reduction of 24.2 per cent on the price of boots and shoes.

Adolphe Blodreau, Hull, and Elie Lapiere, Montreal, were each found guilty on two charges of theft in Ottawa police court Wednesday, and sentenced to three years in Portsmouth penitentiary on one charge and to two years on the other, the sentences to run concurrently.

with sensitive skins, but what dread another Canadian winter? Yet chapped hands, chilblains, cold-sores and frost-bites are readily overcome by Zam-Buk. This famous balm keeps the skin smooth, healthy and flexible under most trying conditions. Zam-Buk's pure herbal essences are so highly refined that the pores and tissues absorb them readily. They take out smarting pain and irritation instantly, heal roughness and soreness, and prevent eczema and blood-poisoning.

Miss B. Stojas, of East Hansford, N.S., writes:—"My hands bled and became so painfully chapped that I dare not put them in water. Zam-Buk caused smarting pain and soreness to quickly disappear and I continued to use it until my hands were thoroughly healed."

Miss A. Leland, of Beaverdale, Ont., writes:—"Where other remedies all failed, Zam-Buk soon cured my chilblains. It speedily ended the itching irritation, drew out the inflammation and healed perfectly." Also splendid in eczema, ulcers, abscesses, piles, scratched wounds, cuts, burns and scalds. 50c., all dealers.
