J. M. CAMPBELL HOPES TO AID THE UNEMPLOYED

By Having Harbor Work Started and Closed Industries Re-opened.

J. M. Campbell's committee rooms were the scene of activity on Monday evening. From 7 to 10 o'clock there was a big crowd there, and the leaders of the various wards and subdivisions were in constant conference. Mr. Campbell, in discussing the unemployment problem said: "Kingston has a right to better treatment, and from what I know after thorough investigation, we ought not to have unemployment here. We have a fine class of workmen. They have shown this on many occasions, and I will feel amply rewarded in being able to bring here and having started a programme of construction in the way of harbor works and elevators that will keep every available man profitably employed for the next five years, and within that time I hope to see our other industries, the locomotive works and shipbuilding plant well established and working full time. This has got to come, but we have to work together. New York on Monday, gave up its opposition to the development of power on the St. Lawrence river and has transmitted its approval of our scheme to the commission and this brings our plans a little nearer to practical realization."

"I want the men and women of Kingston solidly behind me in this election," said Mr. Campbell in conclusion.

ON TRIAL AT NAPANEE.

Kaladar Man Is Charged With Shooting His Daughter. Kenneth Tryon, who resides at Kaladar, will appear before Judge Logie at the fall sittings of the high court, which opened at Napanee on Tuesday afternoon, to answer to the charge of shooting his thirteen-year-old daughter.

It will be remembered that the Tryon girl was brought to the Kingston General Hospital on the morning of June 11th, suffering from severe gun shot wound. The shot, it is stated, passed through the back at the shoulder blade and emerged at the right breast, leaving a terrible hole. When the injured girl was brought to the city, Dr. L. J. Austin, professor of clinical surgery at Queen's University performed an operation. For a time it was feared that she would not recover from her injuries. At the first hearing, which took place a couple of months ago, the girl was taken from Kingston hospital to Napanee, where she told her story.

REVISING VOTERS' LISTS.

Names May Still Be Added For the Federal Election. According to the official figures handed out at the court house on Tuesday morning, 15,978 residents of Kingston will have the opportunity to vote in the dominion election. The number of voters on the lists in each ward is as follows: Sydenham, 2,008; Ontario, 2,149; St. Lawrence, 2,671; Cataragui, 1,774; Frontenac, 2,489; Rideau, 2,763; Victoria, 2,124.

At the court house on Tuesday morning, the sittings for the revision of the voters' list opened with Judge H. A. Lavell presiding. The sitting will continue until Monday next. The presiding officer has the authority to add any names which have been omitted or to remove any which should not appear on the lists.

THE MAGUIRE CASE.

J. D. Maguire Loses His Appeal Before Justice Orde. In September last, Justice Orde made an order declaring J. D. Maguire a bankrupt, and appointed R. Easton Burns the liquidator for his estate. This order was the result of the judgment secured here last February against J. D. Maguire for $15,000.

On Monday, J. D. Maguire appealed to the appellate division at Toronto against this order, but his appeal was dismissed by the court. J. H. S. White, K.C., appeared for the appellant, and A. B. Cunningham, K.C., for F. R. Maguire, judgment creditor.

HOME AND SCHOOL WORK

An Address Given by Mrs. A. C. Courtice, Toronto, Monday Evening.

Inspector J. R. Stuart was in the chair at St. James' parish hall on Monday evening when Mrs. A. C. Courtice, Toronto, organizing secretary of the Provincial Federated Home and School Association of Ontario, addressed the Kingston Home and School Council, in which seven school clubs are federated. Mrs. Courtice, who began by saying how pleased she was to address a Kingston audience, also remarked she was pleased to find that the Inspector was the president of the council, as it was sometimes said the Home and School clubs were women's organizations. A man, Mr. McKee, was president of the Provincial association, and it was only by the home and in the school that the work for which the organization stands could be accomplished.

Practical, all-round education for the boys and girls who will make the Canadians of the future, the education of public opinion, beginning in the home, the better understanding of the parents' difficulties by the teacher and of the teacher by the parents, are some of the objects of this splendid organization. The speaker referred to the state of society, largely the result of the great conflict through which we have passed, and said it was felt that it would require all the forces at our disposal to bring good out of much that was evil. She spoke of the cigarette habit among boys and the foolish and unhealthy dress of the girls seen in school.

As the school age has been increased to sixteen and as comparatively few of the pupils go on to college, it is considered desirable that manual training and domestic science be taught to the future mothers and fathers of the race, so that the last two years' work may be of practical value in their lives. School buildings, sanitation, the public health are matters dealt with by the clubs or councils. Ontario, the first province to federate the clubs, has 160 Home and School Clubs, each working in its own way for the development of the co-operative idea and for the mutual, moral and physical development of the men and women on which the future of the country rests.

Mr. Hill, the musical director of the public schools, sang very delightfully, accompanied by Mrs. A. R. B. Williamson.

Illicit Liquor Traffic.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 15.—Illicit liquor traffic over the Canadian border is to receive the attention of Roy A. Haynes, United States federal prohibition commissioner, who is here today for a conference looking to stricter carrying out of the liquor laws. It is said he will visit Port Huron, where rum runners have moved the greater part of their operations.

Foch at Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 15.—Marshal Foch is the guest today of the faculty of Princeton University which will confer upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws. He will be the third Frenchman to receive this honor from the university. Lafayette was similarly honored a century ago, and Ambassador Jusserand received it in 1911.
