DO YOUR BOWELS MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY Become Constipated

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which does its harm that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N. S., writes:—"For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

Price, 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

He passed away early Monday morning. The deceased was born near Pembroke, and was once pastor of the Princess street Methodist church, Kingston. He was married to Miss Nettie Anglin, daughter of the late Alderman W. B. Anglin, Kingston. One of his daughters, Miss Vera Sparling, was dietitian at the Sydenham hospital last year.

Mr. Calvert, assisted by Rev. Mr. Waddell, a personal friend of the family. Mr. Calvert spoke about the deceased, referring to her life in earlier and later years. During the ceremony one of the deceased's favorite hymns was sung, "The Hour of My Departure Has Come, I Hear the Voice that Calls Me Home." Many beautiful floral tributes were received from friends and relatives. Four sons of the deceased: Robert, David, William and Matthew, acted as pall bearers.

Hunting Party Returns.

John Theobald, King street barber, and party, have returned from a hunting trip to the northern part of the country. Mr. Theobald states that although the party had been able to get their allotment of deer, they had to travel a great distance. The party went by the Canadian Pacific Railway as far as Flower Station, and went north from that point. Shortly after their destination the snow commenced to fall and continued until for nearly a whole week. At the end of the week there was about one foot of snow on the ground. In many places the limbs of the trees were weighed down with the snow. Last season the party was able to get their allotment at a place near their shacks but this fall they had to go three miles farther north.

Lectured at Ottawa.

The Ottawa Citizen on Saturday had the following:

"Prof. S. W. Dyde, D.D., LL.D., of Queen's University, Kingston delivered a most interesting lecture last night to a large audience in the collegiate institute assembly hall on 'Shakespeare and his Development.' The meeting was under the auspices of the Ottawa Women's Teachers' Association. Dr. Dyde said that he questioned if the world would ever outgrow Shakespeare, and it made him a little hot under the collar when he heard it suggested that Shakespeare could ever get out of date. Homer was as fresh today as ever, and Shakespeare shared the same great immortality."

Spoke on Social Conditions.

On Sunday evening in Queen street church, Rev. George I. Campbell, Ottawa, general secretary of the social service department of the Methodist church, spoke on child welfare and evangelism, and social conditions throughout Canada. His branch of the work has attracted a great deal of attention since the war, and has been conducted by the church in cooperation with various relief and charitable organizations, and the Canadian Clubs and Branches of Commerce in the larger cities. The speaker showed a deep knowledge and experience with his subject and his description of the work accomplished by his department, also pointing out the immediate need of further service, was very interesting and instructive. The speaker stated that the training of the child who was to grow up to be a good citizen must start at infancy and continue through the years of impression. The sermon was illustrated by lantern slides, which showed the progress of the fresh air and community welfare campaigns in various cities. Rev. Mr. Campbell was formerly pastor of the Queen street church, and a prominent recruiting officer in this district during the war.

Farewell Services.

Adjutant and Mrs. Goodhue, officers in charge of the local corps of the Salvation Army, conducted the services in the army citadel on Sunday, which took the nature of farewell sermons, as they are leaving this week to take charge of the Chester corps in Toronto. During the evening service, the adjutant gave a most pleasing sermon, taking his text from "Be of mind, live in peace, and the God of Love and Peace shall be with you." This was the key to a feeling message which the speaker left with the congregation as the best and final advice which he could give them. He also thanked the members and friends of the corps for their kindness and support that they had always given him since taking over the command in this city. Mrs. Goodhue gave an address on the "Called, Chosen and Faithful," bringing out the points in her remarks in her usual able and pleasing manner. Alderman C. J. Graham, treasurer of the corps, gave an interesting address, reviewing the work of the past two years, and while expressing the general regret at departure of Adjutant and Mrs. Goodhue, remarked that they were receiving a well-earned promotion, and the best wishes of everyone would go with them in their new command. Among those who spoke a few words of testimony were Bandmaster George Granger, Mrs. Wheelock, Mrs. F. Pollitt, and Richard Hunter, the young people's sergeant-major. The male choir sang "God Bless My Boy," and several special selections were given by the band.
