THE TEACHERS ADDRESSED

By Miss Stead, Field Secretary of Ontario Federation of Women Teachers.

At the regular meeting of the Women Teachers' Association held in Macdonald school, Thursday afternoon, the members had the pleasure of listening to an address by Miss Jennie Stead, the provincial organizer for the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario. Miss Stead has been working since September with wonderful success both in city and county associations. The object of the federation is to raise the status of both school and teacher.

In speaking of the value of the child, Miss Stead said that every child, no matter where he lives, is worthy of a good teacher, but the scarcity of qualified teachers not only in Ontario, and in Canada, but in the United States and also in England, is appalling. The scarcity is worldwide. Does this promise well for the future?

Even with trained teachers the tenure of office is so short that one trustee said he felt inclined to speak of "the teaching profession" rather than "the teaching profession." We hesitate to trust an inexperienced surgeon or even a second-rate tailor. Why should we be willing to trust our children our most precious possessions to an inexperienced teacher? Why not make the profession such that teachers who have gained valuable experience will desire to remain in it?

By means of our federation we wish to have teachers with their specialized training and knowledge working shoulder to shoulder developing a more efficient system of education. They are a part of the reconstruction force of to-day and the possibilities of their organized efforts, unlimited.

During the week Miss Stead has been working in Prince Edward county and Saturday she is addressing a gathering of teachers in Napanee.

KINGSTON CHILDREN SAVING THEIR MONEY

Report Shows That Large Percentage Are Engaged in Thrift.

The question of the establishment of a penny bank system in the Kingston schools, was discussed at the last meeting of the Board of Education and a committee composed of Chairman Allan Lemmon, and Trustees Jones, Mowat and Macdonald were appointed to meet a deputation of teachers in regard to the matter. This conference was held on Friday afternoon, with about fifty teachers in attendance.

A report was received showing that pupils in the schools are at present saving, and to a very large extent, in chartered bank, post office, and other ways, and in view of the present conditions, the teachers were of the opinion that it would not be worth while to introduce the penny bank system. The matter will likely be finally decided on at the next meeting of the board. The trustees were amazed when they were informed of the savings of the children as they had no idea that a system of saving had taken such a hold on the children. Some idea of the conditions can be gleaned from the report from schools, showing the percentage of children saving. The report follows: Macdonald school, 73 per cent; Central school, 59; Frontenac, 84; Louise, 84; Robert Meek, 75; Victoria, 78.

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR JAIL SUPPLIES

Motor Pump to Help Heat the West End of the Court House.

The county council on Friday afternoon received the report of the property committee whose recommendations were adopted as follows: "That a motor pump be installed in the west end of the court house for heating purposes and that the installation be done by Elliott Bros. for $535; that the contracts for jail supplies be awarded to J. J. Lackie, bread; J. Gilbert, groceries; and P. W. Balls, meat."

On motion of Reeves Hamilton and Drew a vote of appreciation was tendered the memorial committee for the good work it did in connection with the installation of the memorial windows and tablet. Revee Halliday, chairman of the committee, thanked the council for its expression which was much appreciated. He thought the county had a memorial worthy of Frontenac.

The council concluded its sessions on Saturday morning when a vote of appreciation was tendered Warden McGregor for his services to the concert and county during the year.

THE HAPPY MAN.

My neighbor's such a cheerful skate I said to him one day, "How do you keep your smile on straight—what makes you blithe and gay? Although I am an optimist, and make of glee a fad, I have my grouchy hours, I wist, while you are always glad." My neighbor heaved a gummy smile that split his map in twain, and then sat down upon a stile, his gladness to explain. "I do not owe a cent to any man on earth, and so I'm full of merriment, my soul is soaked in mirth, I don't believe that any man can know elastic thrills, if he must walk the floor and plan to pay up ancient bills. No creditors invade my den, to threaten, bluff or whine, and when I sell a cow or hen, the price I get is mine. And I can drive my new green boat, and none can say, 'By jing, he ought to pay me for the goat he bought from me last spring.' I cry, each morning when I rise, 'I owe no man a dime,' and then I sing and swat the flies, and have a gorgeous time. Each evening when to bed I go, I say, 'I'm out of debt,' and guardian angels whisper low, 'You are the one best bet.'" My neighbor is a happy wight; no matter where he wanders there are no creditors in sight, and all men are his friends. —WALT MASON.

It is not the hat a man wears that counts, but what he has under it. But it is the hat his wife wears that costs. Most young men would rather embrace a pretty girl than an opportunity. Ditto most older men. Beethoven became totally deaf in 1800.
