

THE HEMLOCK GROVE STOCK ARM.

The Property of Alfred H. Fair—It Was Settled on By His Grandfather and Grandmother Over One Hundred Years Ago.

Motoring out the Battersea road, as you reach the brow of the hill beyond Kingston Mills, you look across a deep valley and see on the hill beyond, a large white building; its many windows flashing in the rays of the setting sun, its green roof giving it a home-like appearance.

Many are the stories told by Mr. Fair, senior, James Marshall Fair, now in his ninety-fourth year, of the hardships of the early days, of the wolves that howled at night in the valley, then a swamp, of the huge owls whose weird cries disturbed the sleepers.

son's huge barn with its up-to-date inventions and contrasts it to the shelter for the cattle behind a straw stack or in a small outhouse as was the rule in his young days. The barn is visited by many people daily, who view the big stable with room for 125 cattle to stand in the long rows of steel pens, kept in their own place by movable yokes that do not appear to inconvenience the animals in the least; they lie down comfortably on their clean straw beds and chew the cud of content.

chopped corn is in readiness to be wheeled in to the cows in the large boxes. Hay is in the big left overhead where Mr. Fair promises the young people a dance when all the wonders of Hemlock Grove Farm are completed.

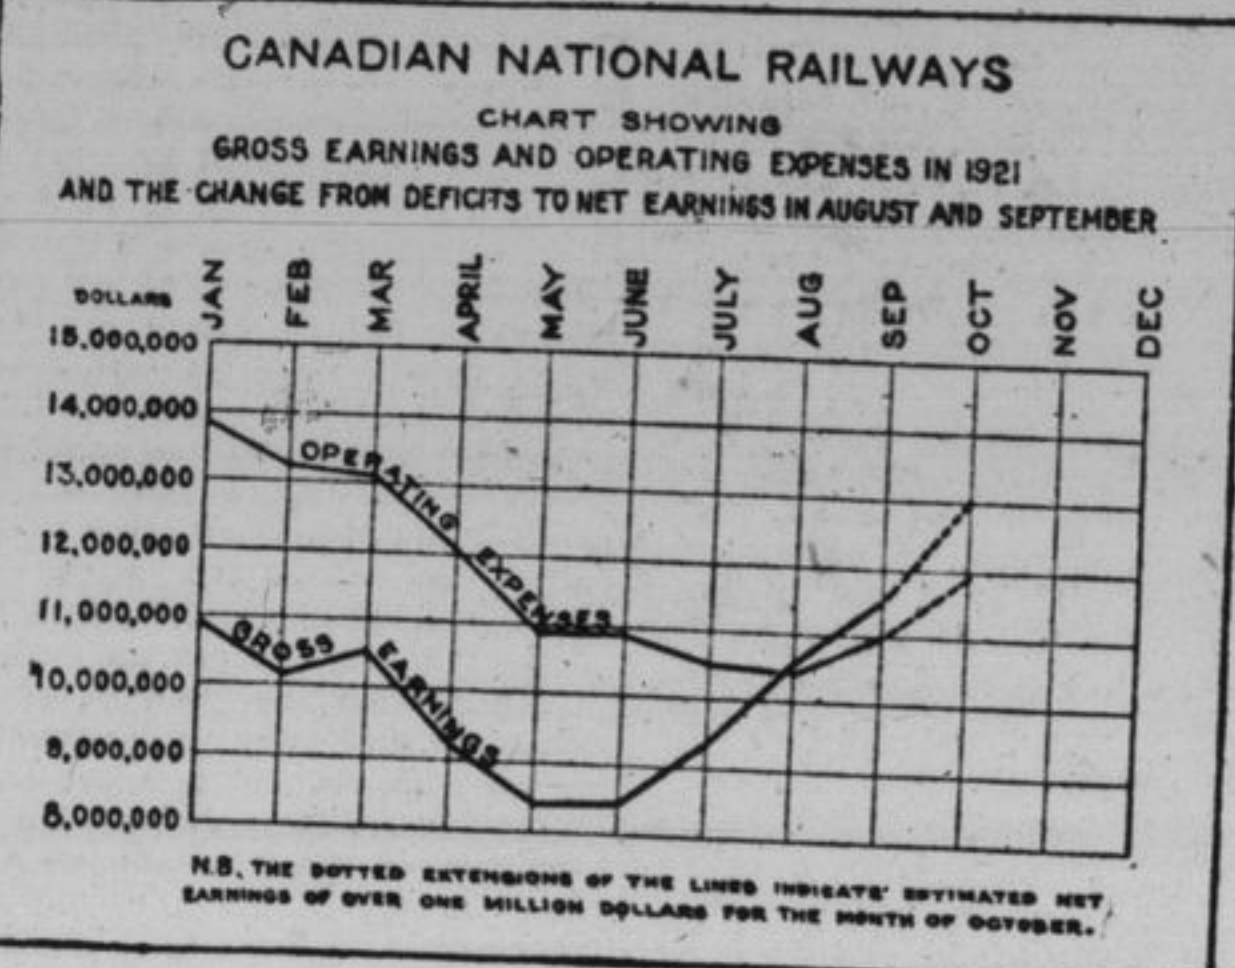

Mr. Fair believes in keeping the milk free from contamination rather than making it safe for use by sterilization, and when all the plans are complete the milk will go from the cow to the sterilized bottles without the possibility of contamination. Beneath the cow stable, and entered from the lower ground is the horse stable with steel stalls and big loose boxes and across the driveway is the old barn, remodelled and made up-to-date, where some young calves are in a place by themselves and some huge pigs, proud wearers of the red ticket at the Toronto fair, were in the cleanest surroundings anyone ever saw in a pig sty.

NATIONAL RAILWAYS PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN

The improved financial showing of the Canadian National Railways for the months of August and September has received general and favorable comment in the press throughout the country. It will be of interest to the public to see in graphic manner the monthly advances made since the beginning of the year.

The accompanying chart shows that operating expenses, as indicated by the upper line on the chart, were brought down, month by month, and that they drew gradually towards a meeting with the lower line, which indicates the gross earnings.

Those who were in close touch with the situation, and who knew what was being done to bring about operating economies, could see well in advance that a continuation of these measures, with the usual increase in volume of traffic, would bring the lines together and that the seasonal crop movement, which should cross, it was hardly expected that the month of August would show net earnings, but reductions in the costs of materials and supplies, coupled with the readjustment of wages and the increase in gross earnings, were factors which, combined, enabled the management to produce a small balance on the right side for August.

THE MAN ON WATCH

As to voting, of course the ladies may exercise their right to change their mind, eh?

The favorite fruit of the Social Service Society here appears to be the prune, as the kids say they were each given a half dozen prunes after a recent gathering. Perhaps the kids can tell us what is meant by the expression "the old prune."

Ben Spence, the Toronto busybody, has as much chance of stopping home brew in the homes as he has of becoming governor-general of Canada.

The Frontenac parson, who suggests the lash for liquor offenders, might introduce the thumbscrew while he is at it. No gospel of love with him.

The pool rooms do not need to be open till midnight and cause mothers to fret and ask "Oh where is my wandering boy-to-night?"

"The best is yet to come." The portrait of the ex-mayor who hobnobbed with the Prince of Wales, when the latter visited Kingston, is to come forth at no distant date.

After viewing summer shoes and silk stockings on feet and limbs, with the thermometer fifteen degrees above zero this week, the Lampman decided that there was no such thing as the weaker sex.

The women are "learning" political ways these times and having a high old time. The spread of the gospel is not to be compared these days with the spread of gossip.

"That's one less of them," remarked a Frontenac Conservative lady when she heard of the report that the West Hastings U. F. O. candidate had failed to qualify at nomination. The U. F. O. and Tory ladies are reported not to be mixing at present. However, their leaders do a little "mixing" on the platform.

Some homebrew might have created more conviviality at that Harrowmith political meeting and prevented the platform episode. Perhaps the presence of an O. T. A. inspector kept the crowd sober and made them angry.

Not one perfect lady was found in a United States college when a certain test was made. A "lady," it appears, is one who does not cheat, lie, smoke, drink, wear too few clothes, allow herself to be kissed and do things she would not tell her mamma. Now Kingston girls how do you stand?

There are very few men in their eightieth year as spry as Lawyer J. B. Walkem, who does a big amount of legal work every day of the week. One thing that was omitted in the appreciation of this old and yet young lawyer was that he is a good cook. He can fry a chop with any housewife in Kingston or Portsmouth. The Lampman expects to see Mr. Walkem still at law practice when he reaches the century mark.

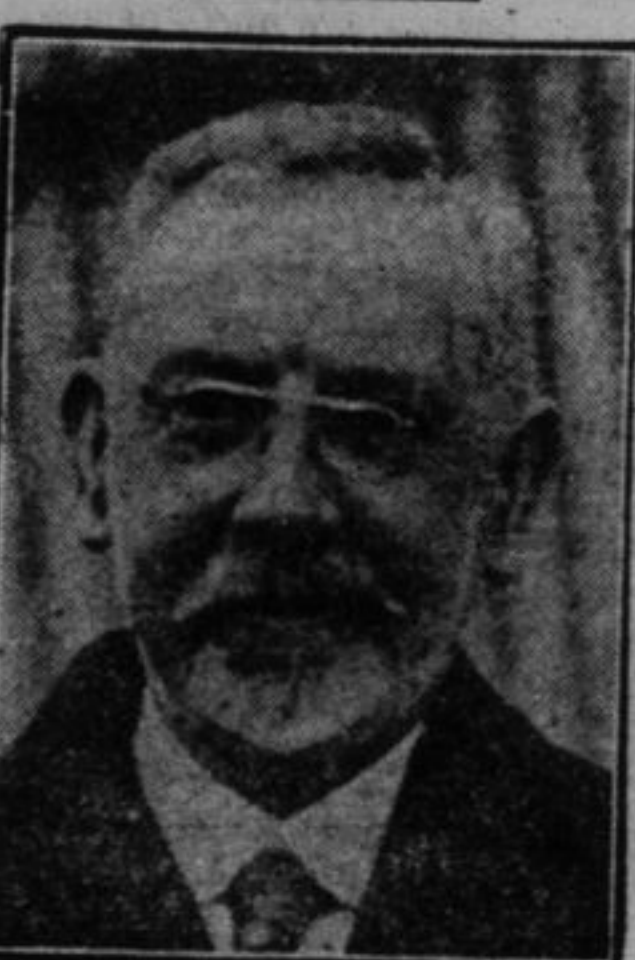

RHEUMATIC PAINS HAVE DISAPPEARED

As a Result of Treating the Trouble Through the Blood.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is the one that most quickly relieves and banishes the pain. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood; when rheumatism is associated with thin blood it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up.

Mr. Ed. Hall, Main-a-Dieu, N.S., suffered from rheumatism for years, but was more fortunate than many victims of the disease for he found a remedy that so built up his entire system that he is now free from rheumatism. Mr. Hall says: "I was taken down with rheumatism, and at times was under the treatment of several of the best doctors in Cape Breton, but they held out no hope for my recovery from the trouble. I was confined to bed for three years and a helpless cripple from the trouble. I could not move, and had to be turned in sheets. My legs and fingers were drawn out of shape, and sores developed on my body as the result of my long confinement to bed. I was in this serious condition when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking them. The first benefit I felt from the pills was an improved appetite, and then I began to feel stronger, and was finally able to get out of bed and so about on crutches. I continued taking the pills for months, slowly but surely getting new strength, and finally I was able to lay the crutches aside. I will always be lame, as the result of my long stay in bed my left leg has shortened somewhat, but otherwise I am feeling fine and able to do my work as a fishery overseer. I may add that when the rheumatism came on I weighed 140 pounds, and when I began going about on crutches I only weighed 67 pounds, and now I am at normal weight. There are many here who know and can vouch for the truth of these statements."

You can get the pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. From the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night.

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend—

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bazanson, Loganville, N.S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly twenty years I am writing to tell you that your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep. I would take another pill, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

Ask Your Druggist He Knows

If a medicine gives satisfaction he is the first to hear about it.

If it does not possess merit the customer does not come back for more, and the druggist finds his shelves loaded with an unprofitable investment.

No one is so well qualified to tell you which medicines are the good ones, as your druggist.

For this reason we consider that these letters from druggists are the highest compliments that can be paid to any medicines.

For over a quarter of a century Canadian druggists have been selling Dr. Chase's Medicines.

Such expressions as "Best sellers," "Many repeat orders from some people," "Reliable remedies," "Good Medicines," etc., indicate that the druggists have the greatest confidence in these medicines—a confidence built up on many years of experience, with doctors' prescriptions and proprietary medicines.

In almost every issue of this paper you will find further endorsement of Dr. Chase's Medicines from people who have used them with splendid satisfaction.

For sale by all druggists, and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

MR. FRANK J. HOAG, Druggist, Kingston, Ont., writes:—

"Having handled the Dr. Chase's line of family medicines for fully twenty-five years, I have no hesitancy in saying that we consider them among our best sellers, as well as most reliable family medicines."

THE MAHOOD DRUG CO., Limited, Kingston, Ont., writes:—

"Dr. Chase's Medicines are considered as a staple line, and we always buy in large quantities so as to avail ourselves of the best discounts. They are among our very best sellers and we also feel, when handing them over the counter, that they are good medicines."

MR. M. R. McCOLL, Druggist, Kingston, Ont., writes:—

"I have sold Dr. Chase's Medicines and have found them good repeaters. They are reliable family requisites, and by continued publicity have found a place in nearly every home. They sell themselves on their undoubted merit."

MR. A. POWELL, Druggist, Kingston, Ont., writes:—
