BOTH PARTIES CLAIMING VICTORY AT THE POLLS

A Lot of Conservative Money is Reported to Have Been Distributed.

Tuesday opened well for the election contest, the weather being cold and bright. The roads were perfectly dry and automobiles tore through the streets from 8 a.m., the hour at which the polls opened. Hon. Dr. Ross was the first of the two candidates to vote. He cast his ballot at 8.20 a.m. at 213 Bagot street, this being a subdivision of Ontario ward. J. M. Campbell voted at 8.30 o'clock. All kinds of opinion were expressed on the streets over the possible result of the contest. Both sides appeared confident. The majority that Dr. Ross would have was placed at one thousand, but no one would bet money on that margin. The Liberals looked for a close vote with Mr. Campbell leading.

The advantage that Dr. Ross had was in being known personally to a much larger number of people than Mr. Campbell, and that intimacy with so many, after being years in public eye, was regarded as a great asset to an election candidate. There was also another advantage that is generally recognized in elections, and that was a large Conservative campaign fund. The Liberal workers declared that their opponents had $25,000 to distribute in favors to those willing to sell themselves. On Monday night one home boasted that it had accepted forty dollars from the Meighen government side, while a woman intimated that she had received a ton of coal, paid for out of Conservative campaign money. According to Conservative estimates there were one thousand voters who could be purchased in this election, or about six per cent of the electorate.

The polls will be open until six o'clock, and if the contest is a close one, it may be 7.30 o'clock before the final result will be known. The returns from the county wards will be received at the U. F. O. headquarters (the U. F. O. Co-operative store on Brock street.) Major E. C. Barrett, campaign secretary, has made arrangements with the scrutineers to telephone him the figures so that during the evening a fairly accurate decision will be known.

CLAIR-DOWLING NUPTIALS.

Wedding of Interest to Enterprise People at Rochester, N.Y.

The church of St. Boniface, Rochester, N.Y., was the scene of a very pretty but quiet wedding at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning, Nov. 16th, when Miss Anna Helena Dowling, formerly one of Enterprise's fairest ladies, and second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dowling, was united in marriage to Thomas J. Clair of Enterprise, Ont. The bride was given away by her brother, John Dowling, and entered the church to the harmonious strains of the wedding march rendered by the Sisters of St. Boniface's convent. She wore a navy suit of tricotine with Hudson seal trimmings, with pink georgette blouse and large black picture hat with ostrich plunage, and wore a corsage bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Blanche E. Wing, who wore a suit of brown broadcloth, with hat to match, and a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Charles H. Clair.

After the nuptial mass, which was sung by Rev. Father Bopp, the happy couple returned to the home of the bride's brother where covers were laid for twenty guests. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver tea service, and to the bridesmaid a set of gold lingerie pins, and to the groomsmen a vestogram. The bride received many beautiful presents from her girl friends, showing the esteem and good wishes they had for her, also cheques from relatives. Amid showers of confetti, the happy young couple left for Rochester, on the 6.15 flyer for Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Toronto. They have returned home to Enterprise where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair have the hearty good wishes of all their friends.

Gift to Sergt.-Major.
At the last parade of the Highland Cadet Corps, a handsome pipe was presented to Sergt.-Major Richardson, who has always taken a great interest in the corps, and who had the misfortune to break his pipe, whilst acting as referee, at a cadet football match. The presentation was made by Cadet-Corpl. Treadwell, who also thanked Sergt.-Major Richardson for the help he had given in training the boys this season, and asked him to accept the pipe with the best wishes of everyone in the corps.

The cadet corps commander humbly asked the cadets' permission to act as referee at their next match, and promised to ensure that his pipe also should manage to get broken.

On Bottomless Ship.
Martin Olsen, formerly of Kingston, is chief officer on the Standard Oil tanker "F. D. Asche," which arrived in New York without a bottom after being in a hurricane and blown on a reef.

FIRE NIPPED IN BUD AT THE MERCHANTS' BANK

Fire Started in Wall on Second Floor From Some Unknown Cause.

What might have very easily turned out to be a very serious fire, was nipped in the bud at the Merchants' Bank building, corner of Brock and Wellington streets, on Monday night. An alarm was sent into the firemen at 10.11 p.m., and on arrival the firemen found that a fire had broken out in the wall on the second floor, near a lavatory. A line of hose was laid and the fire was soon extinguished, but the building was filled with smoke and considerable damage was also caused by water. The office of Mr. Power, the architect, is on the second floor and the third floor is used by the Scottish Rite.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Quite a large crowd of citizens were present, as the fire broke out just as the people were coming out of the theatres.

CHARLES DONOGHUE IS GETTING ALONG NICELY

Victim of Attack Made by Bandits Continues to Make Progress.

Charles Donoghue, who was attacked by two bandits on Saturday night, is doing nicely, and report from the Hotel Dieu on Tuesday morning stated that he had every chance of recovery. The doctors who are attending him state that he certainly had a miraculous escape from death.

Some were of the opinion that the blow Mr. Donoghue received on the head might have been inflicted with the butt of the revolver, as both the bandits carried revolvers, but the opinion expressed by the doctors is that the blow was inflicted by a club.

Y.M.C.A. Membership Campaign

A special supper was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening to inaugurate the membership campaign to be started this week. There was a large attendance of members present and a great deal of enthusiastic support to the movement was apparent. Several short speeches were given at the supper, and the captains for the teams were appointed. Many volunteers came forward to assist in the campaign, and it is expected that their work will be most successful, as the many advantages of the "Y" are realized more and more each year.

Distinctly a Mix-Up

Toronto Telegram
Del Cartwright, of Kingston, at the Carls-Rite, has no doubt as to the issue in Durham, where he has been spending the past week. "Dr. Edwards will have from 1,000 to 1,400 over W. T. R. Pressa," he predicts.

The statue of Macdavid in the City Park is showing signs of age. White spots are showing through the dull bronze covering.

Miss Jean Chown sang "This is My Task" in Sylvania street Methodist church on Sunday morning. It was given in splendid voice, and met enunciation and exquisite taste. Newman & Shaw's "R. Sale."
