On Thursday afternoon Mrs. E. J. Kelly, received for the first time since her marriage in her cosy home on Alfred street, when her mother, Mrs. L. A. Staples, Ingersoll received with her. A bright fire and lovely chrysanthemums in a big basket made the drawing room charming to the visitors admitted by Miss Dorothy Dick. Mrs. Herbert McQuham escorted the visitors to the tea room, where Mrs. Rupert Day made the tea and Mrs. Colin Rogers cut the ices, at the prettily arranged tea table with its centre of baby mums in shades of gold, and lighted candles in glass and silver candlesticks. More flowers in small vases were on the buffet. The tea assistants were Miss Thompson, Mrs. E. Ronald Van Liss, Miss Grace Dunlop, Miss Muriel Porter and Miss Isabel Kelly.

Mrs. E. L. Martin, Rideau street, received on Thursday for the first time since coming to Kingston, when her mother, Mrs. E. M. York, Vernon, received with her. Lovely flowers were in the drawing room where the visitors were introduced to the hostess by Mrs. Leman Guild, and in the tea room at the dainty table with its artistic decorations of white baby mums, Mrs. York made tea. A hearty welcome was extended to Mrs. Martin who will make her home in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Brooks, who have spent their honeymoon in New York and Atlantic City, have returned to their home in Weiland, where they are being much feted. Mr. Brooks, who is a son of Mrs. Francis Brooks, Barriefield, is a graduate of Queen's and of Osgoode Hall, Toronto. He was a member of the law firm of Gooderham, Galt and Blackstock, Toronto, before going overseas and is now one of the firm of German and Brooks, Weiland.

Armistice Day was royally celebrated in Brussels. The British Ambassador gave a luncheon in the Embassy at which Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Bleakney were present, and at night the British Colony gave a dinner and dance in the British Embassy at which Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Bleakney and Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Macdonald were present. The American Ambassador and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Van Whitlock were among the guests. The dance was a most brilliant function, the gowns worn by the women gorgeous making, with the striking uniforms of the men, a magnificent scene in the splendid ball room of the Embassy.

A surprise party was arranged for Thursday evening to which Mrs. T. M. Asselstine, Alfred street, extended her hospitality. Four tables of bridge were in play with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mylks, Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. George Bawcen, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. Charles McKay, Mrs. T. S. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. d'Esterre, Mrs. Bawcen and Mr. d'Esterre were the prize-winners.

Word has been received in Vernon, B.C., of the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cools and their little daughter, Evelyn, in Lyre, Belgium. After visiting Senator and Mrs. Cools, they will go on to the south of France to spend some time, and then to Brussels, Paris, and London, returning to Vernon in the spring. Mrs. Cools was formerly Miss Vera Wilmot, Kingston, who has many friends in town.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kambie

SATURDAY, DEC. 10th.

This is the day of the most contradictory astral activities, according to the language of stars. While the luminaries are in trine aspect, denoting all manner of achievement and fulfilled ambitions, a condition assisted by the Solar trine to Neptune, yet the benefic influence is offset by several adverse positions of powerful planets. Danger is presaged from quarrels and litigation, and there is a menace in the reckless and unprudent handling of moneys. These should be safeguarded from all manner of hazard. Those in the employment of others are under most favorable planetary auspices for promotion and favors.

Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of a perplexing year. While promotion and advancement are in prospect, yet care should be taken to attend strictly to business, and preserve the money from loss. Avoid quarrels and law. A child born on this day may be inclined to be hasty and quick tempered, but will be resolute and determined. It may succeed best in the employment of others.

An auspicious day for the use of classified advertising.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

Few women are averse to making pin money. It doesn't matter whether they need it or not. There is special pleasure in spending money one has made through one's own initiative and resources. Each day there will appear on this page one of a series of suggestions on making money. Each article will give women readers of the Whig an idea that may be turned into a moneymaker.

46—Automobile Housemaid.

Miss Ruth Timme of Chicago discovered a new vocation. She found automobiles interesting, so she qualified herself to drive and care for an automobile in every way. She observed that a lot of people owned automobiles which are not used very much; also, that they had children. She connected these two facts of her observation with results which proved most fruitful. A number of people can afford to have cars, especially since practical cars have begun to be sold for moderate prices, but they do not feel that they can employ a chauffeur. The man of the family, therefore, drives and cares for the car, and when he is away at his office it stands idle for want of a qualified driver, though the wife and children might care to use it for the sake of health as well as pleasure. To try out her idea, Miss Timme advertised, offering her services as an "automobile housemaid." Her family and some of her friends laughed at her. None of them believed there was anything in it. But within a few hours after the advertisement appeared the telephone bell began to ring. She was exactly the person that a lot of people had been looking for. She now has all the engagements she can fill to take their children riding in automobiles.

Answers to Correspondents:

MARY MARY—Red hands, especially if they are inclined to chaps, are very distressing. The best preventative can recommend to you is CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM. Rub it thoroughly into your hands every night and morning and particularly after each washing of your hands, because it is the continuous washing incident to housework that makes them chapped and red. CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM will prevent both chapping and redness, and you will do well to use it every night and morning. It is also well advised to massage your face with it night and morning. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist. 40c. a large bottle. MARGARET.
