Diary of a Fashion Model

She Chats About a Novel Sport Suit

Last week-end I had a delightful time at a well known resort where enthusiasts of outdoor sports are wont to congregate. Irene Everist entertained me, but we spent most of the time at the clubhouse, where I saw a great many stunning costumes.

On Sunday morning, as we walked toward the clubhouse, Irene said: "I do hope you will meet Miss Warner for she always has the smartest clothes imaginable."

"Is she keen on sports?" I asked for I wondered if I should discover any innovations in the realm of sport apparel.

"No, not particularly, but her clothes are always awfully smart," was the answer.

"Then I certainly hope she'll appear," was my reply.

A little later, as we sat around the great open fireplace, Irene said: "Here comes Miss Warner, but I'm afraid we shan't get a chance to talk to her, for she's surrounded by a crowd of her college friends."

"Do you mean the girl with the green suit?" I asked for I had already noted its smart cut.

"Yes, she is the one," she responded.

Black Stitching Trims This Suit of Green Homespun.

"That's a mighty interesting suit she's wearing," I remarked, as I noted some of its unusual features.

"I thought you'd approve of her clothes," said Irene, as I made a few notes on the date card in my pocketbook.

"The cut of the coat is rather novel," I said.

"Yes, and do you see how unusual the skirt is?" asked Irene.

"Yes. The panel is caught underneath and there's one both in back and front," I remarked.

"Is the panel made of the same material as the rest of the costume?" asked Irene.

"Yes, it is just a piece of the green homespun, but the black stitching gives it a plaid effect," I replied.

"The black and white is very striking," whispered Irene, as the group drew nearer us.

"What takes my fancy is the trimming of the hat," I announced.

"Are you referring to the leather quill?" asked Irene, as she looked at the jaunty hat.

"Yes, it gives such a dashing finish to the green felt hat," I said.

"Do you think that such quills will be used much instead of the natural ones?" asked Irene.

"Yes," I replied. "I think that they will often be substituted, as they cannot possibly get ruffled or broken at the tips like birds' feathers."

"I can't say that I admire them greatly, but, of course, when practicality is considered, I quite see that they would probably last much longer than the other kind," said Irene.

"Perhaps you don't realize what possibilities these quills have," I remarked. "You know you can paint the leather or treat it in various ways which are most appealing."

"I hadn't thought of that," said Irene.

"Then perhaps you haven't seen any of the new fabric quills, which are really most attractive?" I questioned.

"No, I haven't," was her answer.

"What are they made of?"

"Duvetyn is the material most used at present, although some interesting styles are made of satin," I replied.

"I'm glad Miss Warner wore that hat as I've learned a bit more about the mode," said Irene, as I put a finishing touch to my sketch of her charming suit.

TO BE CHURCH UNION AT AN EARLY DATE

Fusion of Three Protestant Denominations is Predicted Before 1925.

Winnipeg, Dec. 12.—Actual organization of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches will take place before 1925, President J. H. Riddell, of Wesley College, predicted here.

Legislation authorizing the creation of the United Church of Canada, a fusion of the three bodies, he said, will be brought down at the forthcoming session of Parliament.

Dr. S. D. Crowe, of Toronto, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, will outline problems connected with the proposed union at a meeting in Wesley College Friday night.

VOTE IN PRINCE EDWARD.

It Was the Largest on Record in the County.

The vote polled was the largest record in the federal election in Prince Edward county and the average polled of those on the list was also very high. Out of about 10,700 voters on the lists in this county slightly over 9,000 were cast. This high average is largely due to the three-cornered fight.

TO-DAYS FASHION

By Vera Winston.

This Sports Suit Is of Lavender Tweed—the Hat of Felt.

Tweed suits in the soft tones of green, blue, rose and lavender took New York by storm last summer, and their popularity is increasing, instead of waning, with the fall.

A useful addition to any wardrobe is this sport suit of lavender, and by the way, "sport suit" has come to mean the "every-day suit." The coat is literally pinched into inverted pleats. Those at the sides are further fortified by violet-colored bone buttons. The really unusual touch, though, is given by the cross-bar stitching in white on the sleeves.

A box-pleated skirt gives freedom for the necessary movement, and a youthful hat of lavender felt adds a cockade of ribbon to its upturned brim.

Right Hon. George Barnes, privy councillor and noted labor leader, who will second the address in reply to the speech from the throne Wednesday, will shortly retire from public life.

Falling fifty feet from the spire of the Methodist church, Summerside, P.E.I., which he was painting, Fred Farrant, aged forty-eight, died of his injuries.

The Whig's new serial, "Main Street," is the most talked of book in America. First instalment Monday.

Laurent St. Jean, aged thirty-two years, drowned at Hull while fishing, through hole in ice.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proved.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. ACUTE ECZEMA ON BABY'S HEAD

Face, Neck, Arms. Terrible Slight, Itched And Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"Baby was two months old when I noticed little pimples on her head. They kept getting worse and spread till her head, face, neck and arms were one mass of eruptions, burning, itching, and bleeding. I was told it was eczema. I had to sew up her arms and legs in linen. She was a terrible sight. For one year I had no rest night or day.

"We got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In less than two weeks she began to mend and in a few months she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Boorman, 243 McDonnell St., Peterboro, Ont., April 19, 1919.
