BARRELS OF POTATOES PROVE TO BE ALCOHOL

Liquor Hidden in Containers at the Bottom of the Barrels.

Windsor, Dec. 19.—Suspecting that a horse and wagon, driven by James Cain, Windsor, carried something stronger than ten barrels of "sweet potatoes," Customs Inspector Frank V. Reynolds, ordered the horse and wagon taken to the customs warehouse as it was driven off the ferry boat onto the Windsor dock at 9.45 o'clock Saturday morning. An investigation revealed forty gallons of grain alcohol, hidden in containers at the bottom of the barrels. It was stronger than 85 per cent. proof spirits, officials said.

While the wagon was being investigated Cain disappeared and has not been seen since.

MANY GERMAN TEACHERS CANNOT GET POSITIONS

The Low Birth Rate Leaves 17,000 Without Means of Livelihood.

Berlin, Dec. 19.—The city of Berlin has given notice of dismissal to more than 500 school teachers because the number of pupils in the public schools has been decreasing to an alarming extent chiefly as a result of the low birthrate since the beginning of the war. According to official figures, more than 17,000 school teachers are without employment in Germany. Warnings are being issued everywhere to those who are fitting themselves to become teachers to seek other vocations as teaching has become an occupation which no longer offers a certain means of making a living.

SAYS HOLLAND MUST PREPARE FOR ENEMY

Dutch War Minister Carries Bill Increasing Country's Military Strength.

Amsterdam, Holland, Dec. 19.—Tumultuous debates preceded the vote in the second chamber on the strength of the Dutch army at 317,000 men, of whom 74,000 are to belong to the unorganized landsturm. The existing system provided for an army of 381,000 men, of whom 17,000 were landsturm. The new army, therefore, will be numerically smaller but possessing greater military strength.

In a speech defending the bill the minister of war, Vandyke, emphasized the fact that disarmament was only possible if all the powers undertook it at the same time. A small nation like Holland could not do it in advance of the others. Moreover, the great powers would not allow it. In view of their own safety and the special geographical position of the Netherlands. Neither the League of Nations nor the labor movement, the minister said, could offer sufficiently actual guarantees to make disarmament possible.

The speaker called attention to the fact that the mobilization of the army in 1914 was what kept Holland out of the war. He said that the regular army must be ready and able to meet the first thrust of an enemy. The chamber adopted the bill by a vote of 50 yeas to 43 nays.

Winkiewicz, equipped with a suitcase lined with a specially constructed metal tank with tap complete, stood in the shadow of Wesley church and charged $3 a bottle for liquor, his customers providing their own containers.

Recount Needs Support.

Hamilton, Dec. 19.—Application for a recount on behalf of C. F. T. Woodley was made before Judge Snider Saturday by W. Schwenger, but unless a more specific charge can be made regarding irregularities at the polls, no recount will be allowed, Judge Snider ruled.

What an Old Lady Did.

Halifax, Dec. 19.—When the Merchants Bank branch opened here Saturday morning, an old lady withdrew a savings bank account of considerable proportions, rented a safety deposit box, filled it up with the cash she had received and then left the bank.
